Death Toll in Sholapur Riot Stands at Twenty With 100 Wounded

Burning of Oil-Soaked Police by Natives Revealed; Arrests Made

BOMBAY (India) May 9. (AP)—The British lion showed its teeth today to the unruly followers of Mahatma Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign.

While forty airplanes were dispatched on a warning flight over the Peshawar district, where restive natives were suspected of preparing for a raid, the home government announced Great Britain has 236,000 troops ready to answer a call to arms in India.

The semiofficial totals of yesterday's Sholapur casualties rested at twenty dead and upward of 100 wounded. The outstanding fact of the clash was the burning by na-

Persian Deaths in Earthquake Set at 2000

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—A death roll of 2000 persons with 5000 homeless as a result of an earthquake centering at Salmas, Persia, was reported to the State Department today by Vice-Consul Villard at Teheran. The deaths are said to have occurred at Urumya.

News of the earthquake in Persia was published exclusively in The Los Angeles Times of Thursday in a cable dispatch from Teheran.

O. J. ROBERTS SELECTED

Hoover Proposes Him for Bench

Asks Senate to Confirm Oil-Fraud Prosecutor for Supreme Court

Prohibition Stand Questioned But Favorable Action Deemed Certain

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, who prosecuted the government's oil fraud cases, was proposed to the Senate today by President Hoover for the Supreme Court in the place of the rejected Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina.

Welcomed by the leaders of the fight against Parker in the Senate, the nomination had hardly been referred to the Judiciary Committee for its consideration before the prohibition issue was raised against Mr. Roberts by Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas.

The Texan pointed to a speech attributed to Mr. Roberts in 1923 quoting him as denouncing the Eighteenth Amendment. He said "that is enough for me" and announced his opposition.

SPEECH EXPLAINED

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who heartily indorsed Mr. Roberts to President Hoover, immediately called the nominee on the telephone. He brought back word from Roberts that he had not discussed the merits of prohibition in the 1923 speech but had confined his discussion of it to the lawyer's "academic question" of whether it was preferable to prohibit by statute or by constitutional amendment.

Senator Sheppard later told newspaper men he had been "reliably informed" that Mr. Roberts denied the speech and that he would withhold judgment.

Senator Reed is confident tonight that the prohibition issue is not involved and he predicted Roberts's confirmation. Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader who conferred with the President on the nomination at a breakfast conference today, also indorsed him and predicted his confirmation "overwhelmingly."

PREVIOUSLY CONFIRMED

Senator Reed said the nominee would make no public statement now.

Senate leaders pointed to the previous confirmation of Roberts by the Senate as government oil counsel in 1924 by a vote of 68 to 8. His attitude on public affairs was thoroughly discussed then. He was selected at that time by President Coolidge.

Since then Mr. Roberts, with Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, successfully prosecuted the government's action for recovery of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills naval oil reserve leases. In addition, he played a leading part in the criminal prosecutions of Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, and Edward L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, who were given the oil leases by Fall.

Senators Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who prosecuted the Senate investigation into these leases, and Norris, Republican, Nebraska, both have spoken favorably of Roberts's work as government prosecutor.

Norris, who is chairman of the Judiciary Committee, said the nomination will be taken up by the committee on Monday at its regular meeting and be referred to a subcommittee for study. Some Senate leaders are hopeful of an early report on Roberts in view of his record with the government.

ROBERTS REPUBLICAN

Roberts is a Republican. He has just passed his fifty-fifth birthday. He has practiced law in Philadelphia since 1898. He was born in Germantown, Pa., and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

Thirty years ago he first entered the public service as assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia county. He served for a number of years as professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania.

During the World War he was a special deputy Attorney General, representing the Federal government in espionage cases in Pennsylvania.

ROBERTS REGARDS IT AS DUTY TO ACCEPT

PHILADELPHIA, May 9. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts, on his return from New York late today, said he regarded it as a duty and a pleasure to accept an appointment to the Supreme Court bench. He made no other comment.

Chicago Gets Taxes After Three Years

CHICAGO, May 9. (AP)—For the first time in three years actual tax money poured into the treasuries of Chicago and Cook county today. A total of $2,000,000, payments on 1928 tax bills mailed the 1st inst., was distributed by County Treasurer Harding to all tax-spending bodies of the county. The bills for personal taxes were the first to be sent out in three years.

The catch in the money received today is that the tax-spending bodies must use it to retire 1928 tax-anticipation warrants.

The tax-spending bodies have been operating with money borrowed on tax-anticipation warrants.

CENSUS GAINS TREMENDOUS

Los Angeles Suburbs' Startling Growth Disclosed; One Estimate Gives City 1,300,000

Tremendous gains were registered by Burbank, South Gate and Torrance in population growth the past ten years, according to United States census figures released yesterday.

South Gate, with no official population in 1920, now has 19,501, according to Supervisor De Coudres, Torrance, also unincorporated in 1920, now has 7235. The school census of 1920, however, gave the steel-making town a population of 1011.

Burbank rolled up tremendous gains, showing an increase of 13,516, or 464 per cent. In 1920 2913 were living there and ten years later the count is 16,429.

Cudahy's population was given yesterday as 2983. The town was not incorporated ten years ago.

Although the five census supervisors yesterday declined comment, in some quarters it was rumored that the 1930 census will enumerate 1,300,000 in Los Angeles—the figure being predicated in part on percentages of gain in adjacent cities. The supervisors say there are no figures available now to check against the report, and that there are enumerators yet in the field raising the total each day.

From the official sources it is announced that figures for Los Angeles, because the city is included in several census districts, will await the combined reports of the five supervisors, A. C. Munson, C. E. Chenoweth, T. G. DeCoudres, Clarence Kincaid and William Ballentine.

It is expected that Santa Monica figures will be released either Monday or Tuesday, according to Supervisor Chenoweth.

HUNDREDS FORGET

The population of Beverly Hills was increased yesterday, when Capt. S. D. Archer, in charge of the census enumerators there, took the names of Will Rogers, famous comedian, and his family. Rogers was batting a polo ball around the field when the census man approached him and obtained the information. Rogers insisted that the census had dodged him and that he had not dodged the census.

PRESIDENT'S VACATION TO REACH HERE

Chief Executive Plans Tour of National Parks in West This Summer

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 9. (Exclusive)—President and Mrs. Hoover are making arrangements for a vacation trip to California this summer, it was announced informally at the White House today.

Tentative plans call for a stop at Los Angeles on the way back to Washington from the Hoover home at Palo Alto, which will be the ultimate objective of the trip.

On the way to and from the Coast, the President will tour most of the national parks in the West. While the itinerary has not been definitely adopted, tentative plans call for visits to Glacier, Yellowstone, Rainier, Yosemite, Grand Canyon, Zion, Estes and Rocky Mountain National Parks, and possibly others.

It is expected the President will remain at least a week at Glacier Park, indulging in his favorite sport of fishing.

The proposed trip of 6000 miles or more will be the most extensive tour by a Chief Executive since President Harding visited Alaska.

When the trip will start will depend upon the adjournment of Congress and other circumstances, but according to the White House statement, the Hoovers hope to be able to leave Washington early in August. The entire trip is expected to take six or seven weeks.

CUBANS EXPECTING HOOVER FOR VISIT

HAVANA, May 9. (AP)—El Mundo, Havana morning newspaper, said today that it had learned on good authority President Hoover will visit Cuba next December.

El Mundo said that the American State Department has initiated diplomatic correspondence preliminary to the trip.

EXPLOSION DEATH LIST EIGHTEEN

Two More Bodies Found in Armour Plant Ruins and Two Rescued Die

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) May 10. (AP)—(Saturday)—The death list in the explosion late Thursday at the Armour & Co. plant reached eighteen early today with the recovery of two bodies and the deaths of two other victims who died in a hospital after being rescued alive. Three extricated from the debris tonight were the last reported missing, and rescue workers dropped their tools after an incessant search since Thursday afternoon.

Ora Paxson, 22 years of age, sheltered from immediate death by timbers and an unbroken brick wall near the loading dock, was taken out and rushed to a hospital late last night. He died soon after midnight, after talking with his rescuers as they dug him out.

The bodies of George Roberts, 24, and Frank Welczarek, 40, were found near the loading dock and removed late last night.

Mrs. Flora Miller, 60, who worked in the smokehouse and sausage plant which was wrecked by a blast of undetermined origin, died in a hospital early this morning.

TEXAS MOB BURNS NEGRO BY FIRING COURTHOUSE

Three Hurt in Clash With Troops Who Retire as Rioters Blast Way to Attacker's Body

SHERMAN (Tex.) (Saturday) May 10. (AP)—Culminating an orgy of mobmadness, a mob early today set fire to a Negro drug store here and near by erected a funeral pyre for the body of George Hughes, Negro, who perished when the mob set fire to the Courthouse where the Negro had been placed in a vault for safety.

SHERMAN (Tex.) May 9. (AP)—A mob today burned down the $60,000 Grayson County Courthouse, burning to death George Hughes, Negro, confessed attacker of a white woman, and late tonight was dragging his charred body through the streets behind an automobile while the frenzied crowd cheered. Leaders of the mob had succeeded in recovering the body after a fierce battle with troops on the square where the Courthouse stood.

Hughes was burned to death while imprisoned in a vault in the Courthouse where he had been placed by Texas Rangers for safety when the mob stormed the jail and then the Courthouse, crying for his life.

Three youthful leaders of the mob were seriously wounded, one perhaps fatally, early in the clash with National Guardsmen tonight. Four were injured in rioting during the afternoon, being clubbed by Rangers and local police officers.

Jed Brown, 18 years of age, Sherman, was shot in the chest and physicians hold little hope for his recovery.

Howard Barker, 17, California youth here visiting relatives, was shot through the thigh.

Tom Dixon, 22, was reported in a serious condition as a result of blows on the head with a pistol butt.

Several of the guardsmen were struck by stones, bottles and missiles hurled by the mob in its attempt to storm the County Jail.

SECOND OUTBREAK

The violence broke out anew tonight after it was believed that the disorder had been quelled.

Hardly had a detachment of sixty or seventy men from the One Hundred and Forty-Fourth Infantry of National Guardsmen arrived from Dallas when the mob again unleashed its fury. The troops attempted to drive the crowd from the grounds of the smoke-blackened courthouse.

The crowd attacked the Guardsmen with fists, sticks, stones and bottles.

While this melee was in progress, another portion of the mob advanced upon the Grayson County Jail and the Guardsmen were compelled to divide their forces to send help to Sheriff Vaughan and his men. One man was reported shot in the encounter at the jail but his name was not learned immediately.

The Negro population of Sherman, estimated at from 1500 to 2000 was nowhere to be seen tonight and the Negro quarter of the city appeared completely deserted.

Rumors had been current during the afternoon that the mob intended to march upon the Negro quarter tonight and burn all buildings there.

BLAST ATTEMPT FAILS

Appeals were sent out to neighboring cities to rush police officers to the assistance of Sherman authorities.

After pulling down brick walls about the vault where the Negro was believed dead, members of the mob obtained ladders and climbed up to the vault and placed several sticks of dynamite on top of the door, which they had been unable to open. They lighted a long fuse but it went out without exploding the charge. Before they could climb to the vault to light the fuse again the guardsmen from Dallas arrived and the mob turned its attention to resisting efforts made by troopers to clear the Courthouse grounds.

NEGRO'S BODY SEIZED

After battling the mob for several hours, the troopers apparently gave up and retired, and leaders of the crowd succeeded in opening the vault with an acetylene torch and dynamite, and dragged the body of Hughes out.

When the men who went into the vault shoved the body through the hole and dumped it to the ground two stories below, women screamed and clapped their hands and a great cheer went up from the mob.

The body was tied to the rear of an automobile which was started toward the jail, dragging the body, as the maddened mob cheered wildly. Difficulty was encountered because of the crowd jamming the streets.

TORNADOES IN MIDWEST KILL THREE

Score Injured as Series of Twisters in Oklahoma Strike Separated Areas

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 9. (AP)—Three persons were killed and at least a score injured in a series of tornadoes which struck in widely separated areas of Oklahoma tonight.

Mrs. Gladys Downs, 21 years of age, lost her life when a tornado swooped down on a small community five miles southwest of Bartlesville, lifting the house in which she had sought shelter with her husband, and hurling it 150 yards over a hill. The woman's husband was injured but not seriously.

Vern Stewart is in a Bartlesville hospital in a serious condition, while relief workers said numerous others in this vicinity had been injured as the tornado swept a path 200 yards wide from the Downs home almost to the edge of Bartlesville, where it lifted and disappeared.

A man named Hodges and his son were killed, John Stevenson was injured, probably fatally, and at least fifteen other persons injured, when another twister struck in Haskell county, near Stigler, in the extreme eastern portion of the State.

All communication lines were down in this area, but meager reports, brought out by rescue workers, said the communities of Eureka, in which Hodges lived, San Bois, Rockford and Blaine, all had been struck by the storm.

A small tornado swooped down on the ball park at Shawnee, but did no damage other than ripping out a strip of the ball park fence.

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, near McAlester late today by still another tornado which swept two communities, demolishing buildings, damaging crops and killing live stock.

HOME FOLKS GIVEN HELP BY ZUKOR

Film Magnate Forced to Flee Native Town When Overwhelmed With Pleas

BUDAPEST (Hungary) May 9. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports that Adolf Zukor, American film magnate, has been overwhelmed by demands for money or other assistance from the villagers in his native town of Recise, and compelled to leave it hurriedly. When he left he had a trunk full of applications for aid.

Not even the police, who had to be called out, could establish order among the crowds outside his lodging.

Before he left the village he assisted about 400 poor people and gave large sums to religious organizations of all sects. He also established an endowment fund that will furnish dowries for poor Jewish brides and a free school for the children of his birthplace.

MASEFIELD MADE LAUREATE

Mantle of Dryden and Tennyson Laid on Farm Hand Poet's Shoulders by King George

LONDON, May 9. (AP)—John Masefield, a typical English poet who has sung the glory of Britannia's merchant marine and her traditional sports, such as fox hunting and steeplechasing, today was appointed poet laureate of England by King George.

Masefield, who succeeds the late Dr. Robert Bridges, in his fifty-five years has roamed the world in the carefree fashion of a hobo. He went to sea as a boy and for many years thereafter covered the seven seas as seaman and ship's cook.

HIRED MAN HERE

At various times he would leave the sea and work his way across countries he decided to study. Once he traveled from New York to the Pacific Coast, working as a farm hand and doing odd jobs en route. He returned the same way and for a time was porter in a New York saloon run by Luke O'Connor.

The post of poet laureate is purely honorary, but once it meant something both as to duties and emoluments. It is the development of a practice begun in early times when minstrels and versifiers were part of the retinue of a king, required to produce verse and song at the sovereign's bidding.

PRINCELY STIPEND

Emoluments varied considerably but Dryden, who was appointed in 1670, received a yearly pension of $300 and a butt of Canary wine.

Tennyson was the last poet laureate who performed to a measurable degree the historic duty of the post—the writing of appropriate verse on royal birthdays and state occasions. The holder no longer is required to write at the king's

TREATY BRINGS CLASH IN HOUSE

Britten and French at Odds on New Ship Provisions

Former Voices Defense of Billion-Dollar Program

Vote Held in Accord With Administration's Views

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Naval construction provisions of the London naval treaty today led to a clash in the House between Chairman Britten of the House Naval Committee and Representative French, Republican, Idaho, in which the former asserted he represented the administration's views introducing his so-called billion-dollar building program.

Representative French, chairman of the House naval appropriations subcommittee, advocated a conservative construction program under the treaty shortly after Britten introduced a bill to authorize an expenditure of $936,995,000 to construct ships to the limit of the pact by 1936. Britten has contended the new construction is necessary to obtain parity with Great Britain under the treaty.

Representative French said the United States will be in a stronger position at the proposed naval conference in 1935 if it does not build up the limitations of the London naval treaty.

Britten asserted that the figures on his bill and the type of ships of the various categories had been carefully prepared by the Navy Department, which, he declared, "indicates to my mind that the present administration has every intention in the world of living up to the requirements of that treaty, and I hope that it does."

Explaining that he is in accord with the Idahoan on a spirit of conservation and economy, Britten said he does not believe that the people of the United States will be satisfied with a second-class navy.

ITALY DECLARED READY FOR FINAL NEGOTIATIONS

NEGRO LYNCHED IN COURTHOUSE

remained at the jail, not attempting interference as the dynamiting was in progress at the Courthouse ruins.

The mob finally had set fire to the Courthouse this afternoon after an attempt to dynamite the structure had failed. The crowd had been driven back three times by officers who hurled tear-gas bombs and fought with firsts and clubs but did not shoot into the crowd.

GOVERNOR'S ORDERS

Ranger Captain Frank Hamer announced he had been ordered by Gov. Moody:

"Hold them if you can, but don't shoot anybody."

Four rangers were on duty at the Courthouse on instructions from Gov. Moody, who feared that trouble might result when the Negro was taken into court for trial today. Hughes pleaded guilty to the assault last Saturday. Following the Negro's arrest an attempt was made to lynch him, but officers outwitted the mob by removing the prisoner to another jail.

A crowd formed before noon today and many gained access to the Courthouse. Some took the leadership and made a rush for the prisoner.

FIGHTING BEGINS

The rangers, assisted by other officers, fought back the crowd and rushed the Negro into a vault in the County Attorney's office. Tear-gas bombs were hurled and firemen rushed to the scene to assist the peace officers. After considerable fighting the building was cleared.

Gathering more force on the Courthouse lawn and in the surrounding streets, the mob made another determined attack, but was repulsed by the fumes from bombs thrown into its midst.

A third rush at the doors was beaten back. This time members of the mob placed several charges of explosive against the walls. Officers extinguished the fuses before any damage resulted.

On the fourth charge, several leaders threw ten gallons of gasoline into the basement on the east side, under the room in which the Negro was imprisoned. A match was touched to the gasoline and soon the building was a mass of flames.

Firemen could offer little resistance to the blaze as the mob cut the hose lines.

When the structure was doomed, defending officers were forced to flee, leaving the Negro to his fate.

Sheriff Vaughan said the Negro was given his choice of running to escape the mob after the Courthouse fire began, or of being shut in the vault. He chose the vault.

When last seen by the officers he was sitting in a chair in the vault, his head bowed upon his folded arms.

Joe Leonard, editor of the Gainesville Register, after visiting the vault expressed the opinion the Negro was alive up to the time the final blast of dynamite blew off the inner door of the vault.

He said the Negro had had a two-gallon bucket of water, and that he had apparently walked about the large vault, pouring the water on himself in an effort to withstand the tremendous heat of the burning building.

GOV. MOODY ORDERS MORE TROOPS TO SCENE

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 9. (AP)—Gov. Moody tonight ordered Col. Louis Davidson of Dallas and 225 additional Guardsmen to entrain immediately for Sherman to aid in quelling rioting that has continued since the burning of the Courthouse and cremation of a Negro hidden in a vault to escape lynching by a mob for a confessed attack on a white girl.

The detachment dispatched for Sherman were armed with tear-gas bombs, machine guns, rifles and sidearms.

Martial law was not declared.

Gov. Moody stated that he had been informed there was serious danger of a race riot and that additional troops have been mobilized and ordered ready to move on an instant's notice to the disturbed area. Moody said that as many troops as needed will be dispatched to Sherman.

Commenting on the Sherman situation, the Governor said it is very much to be deplored.

French Louvre Victimized by Fake Painting

(Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.)

PARIS, May 9. (Exclusive)—Following disclosures of the wholesale manufacture of false Millets, another picture scandal in which the Louvre itself was the victim has been disclosed.

Three years ago M. Guiffray, conservator of paintings at the Louvre, bought two paintings declared to be by Watteau for $80,000.

M. Guiffray later came to the conclusion that while the pictures were in the Watteau manner, they were more probably by one of his associates, Quallard. This opinion has been confirmed by several experts, and the Council of National Museums is asking for an annulment of the sale and restitution of the $80,000 which was paid.

the tall southern representative declared, is that "we must not merely expect to inherit freedom, but must cherish it, preserve it and protect it by our devotion, to America and her ideals and by our acknowledgment of an attachment to the principles of human freedom set forth in our Constitution."

ENVY OF WORLD

Lavon Sorensen, champion of Idaho, in speaking on "The Constitution, a Guarantee of Human Equality," pointed out that the Constitution is the world's greatest guarantee of equality, citing the fact that any native-born American citizen can be President.

Sorensen declared that the people are the true rulers of this country and that petty politics and human greed could never force the country away from the ideals of equality and liberty.

The young Idaho orator asserted that the United States Constitution is the envy of every country in the world and that the world in time will turn to modeling its entire system after this country.

Other oratorical contestants entered in the regional finals tonight were Fred Moulton, Montana State champion; John S. Billings, Utah State champion, and William Dougherty, Oregon State champion.

The judges of the contest were: Judge James Franklin Ailshie, Couer d'Alene, Idaho; Dr. Alfred Atkinson, president Montana State College, Boseman; Chief Justice Oliver P. Coshow, Salem, Or.; Justice William H. Folland, Salt Lake City, and Justice William J. Millard, Supreme Court, State of Washington.

Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, president of the University of Washington, presided.

AIRMEN 'WRECK' NEW YORK CITY

"Defenseless" Metropolis Theoretically Bombed

Great Armada Demonstrates With Daring Feats

NEW YORK, May 9. (Exclusive) The greatest aerial demonstration this city ever has known brought Manhattan millions to a pause today as 13 inaval planes, four dirigibles and sixteen Army fighting ships theoretically demolished a comparatively "defenseless" metropolis. For an hour the sky was swept with planes as a path was "cleared" for the airship Los Angeles and two bomb-carrying blimps. Then as the Navy fleet sped away to its carriers in Hampton Roads the Army planes swooped down over the city on a "mop-up" mission.

The daylight "air raid" in honor of Army and Navy day at the air show was carried to a successful completion within two hours after the first scout plane had darted in out of the Atlantic nase. Navy officials say the theoretical damage to the city can be counted in millions.

The roar of the engines of the air armada turned every eye skyward. To the spectators it was only a thrilling air circus, but to the Navy tacticians it was a major battle maneuver to be studied for weeks.

AIR SHAM BATTLE

Three squadrons of scout planes flashed in from Long Island at 150 miles an hour, darting about at an altitude of 2000 feet. The fighting wing followed and a score of these single-seaters began a "dog fight" at the southern end of Central Park.

Tumbling about high over the skyscrapers the fighting planes put on a sham battle that "routed" an imaginary enemy. Great Martin bombers followed, each carrying, in theory, thousands of pounds of high explosives. Protected by the pursuit planes the bombers singled out the tall buildings in the center of the city for their "attack." The buildings were defenseless.

As the air fleet began droning away from the "wrecked" city, the dirigible Los Angeles and three silver blimps appeared suddenly from behind a theoretical smoke screen which almost was a fact as smoke clouds caused by the Bayonne (N. J.) oil fire still hung in the air.

WATCHERS GET THRILL

The dirigibles swung up the Hudson River to One Hundred and Tenth street and circled back over the middle of Manhattan. For more than thirty minutes the city was at the mercy of the airships, an imaginary hailstorm of bombs smashing the buildings that had withstood the airplane raids.

Then the warships of the air crossed back toward New Jersey and the Army fighting planes dived over the "devastated city" for a final attack.

The greatest thrill given to those in the streets took place just south of Central Park in the vicinity of Fifth avenue. A bold squadron of twelve fighting planes appeared 2000 feet overhead flying like wild ducks in "V" formation. Suddenly the "V" became a straight line and a moment later every plane was diving earthward, throttles wide open. It was a power dive in formation and to those on the sidewalks it appeared certain the flyers would crash headlong into the street. At 1000 feet the planes straightened out and zoomed almost straight upward to resume their game of follow the leader.

"EYES OF FLEET" LOOK DOWN ON CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—The "eyes" of the fleet—130 airplanes—looked down on Washington today after having completed the longest flight ever known of so large a squadron of heavier-than-air machines.

In seven squadrons, they passed in review over the Capitol dome and dipped above the White House, holding military formation.

Naval officials say the planes formed the largest air armada ever to fly over the capital.

Later, as they broke formation to swoop down in groups of three onto the naval air field, another record was broken, each of the machines having compelled more than 1000 miles of formation flight, with the major accident so far reported being one broken strut during the New England flight.

command and the office is principally just another of the traditions revered by Englishmen.

Masefield's appointment rested in actuality with Ramsay MacDonald, and it is known the Prime Minister gave long consideration to the selection of a successor to the scholarly Dr. Bridges.

The new poet laureate has a wife and two children. Besides being famed as a poet he is recognised as a novelist, his most famous work in that class being "Sard Harker."

Masefield, who is a man of retiring disposition, lives quietly at Board's Hill near Oxford, which also was the home of Dr. Bridges. When interviewed tonight he expressed deep satisfaction at the honor but indicated plainly he did not intend to grind out poetry suitable for any occasion.

"I don't think any man can really write unless he is deeply stirred," he said.

BANDIT ARMIES PERIL NANKING

President Chiang Hastens to Take Command

Slaughter of 15,000 Chinese by Robbers Reported

Heavy Fighting Indicated by Nationalist Wounded

SHANGHAI, May 9. (AP)—With bandit armies scourging several provinces of China, President Chiang Kai-shek, of the Nationalist government hastened to Suchow, Kiangsu Province, today to take command of troops endeavoring to halt the advance of the northern alliance toward Nanking, China's capital.

From Yungyang, in Honan Province, came belated Chinese unverified reports of 15,000 persons slaughtered by 4000 bandits who sacked the town April 23, pillaging and burning it completely. Five hundred of the more prosperous residents were carried off by the bandits, to be held for ransom. So thorough was the destruction of the town that no word of it came until today.

Under the banners of the northern alliance of generals seeking the overthrow of the Nationalist government, some of the best trained armies in China were battling today, seeking to thrust aside the Nationalist forces and seize the railroad near Suchow to advance upon Nanking. As customary when menaced by large scale revolt, the government reared a censorship wall, and little news came through today.

Developments yesterday, however, indicated the magnitude of the fighting. Twenty thousand wounded Nationalist soldiers came from the battle front near Suchow, toward which the rebels are reported menacing from three sectors.

CHIEF OF PENSIONS EXPIRES

Commissioner Church Named to Post Last Year, Honored in World War

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Earl D. Church of Hartford, Ct., commissioner of pensions, died here at 8:05 o'clock tonight.

Death resulted from cerebro-spinal meningitis, which developed Wednesday morning following an indisposition of several weeks from other causes.

Church became commissioner of pensions in May, 1929. At the time Secretary of the Interior Wilbur announced the selection had been based on Church's extensive knowledge of insurance, together with his record of distinguished service in the Ordnance Department of the American Expeditionary Force in the World War.

For his war services Church received the French Croix De Guerre and his own country's Distinguished Service Medal.

POWERS PUT YOUNG PLAN IN EFFECT

Britain, France, Belgium and Italy Sign Protocol for Germany's Payment

PARIS, May 9. (AP)—The Young plan for payment of reparations, reducing Germany's obligations for damages caused during the World War from something like $25,000,000,000 to about $9,000,000,000, went into effect this afternoon.

A protocol registering the decisions of The Hague conference, which adopted the plan January 20, was signed by the ambassadors of Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and the French Minister of Foreign Affairs after a tea served by the French Foreign Minister, Aristide Briand.

The signing was made possible by arrival today of necessary ratification papers from Great Britain and Italy. Ratification by Germany and four creditor nations was required, and ratification documents already had been deposited by Germany, France and Belgium.

As a consequence the Bank for International Settlements at Basel, Switzerland, will begin functioning under the presidency of Gates W. McGarrah of New York.

The case is expected to go to trial soon.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9. (AP)—The State District Court of Appeal today refused to rehear the San Francisco theater musicians' union case in which it upheld the right of the musicians to enjoin their employers from terminating contracts entered into prior to the advent of the sound films.

Attorneys for the Central California Theaters Company and Consolidated Theaters, Inc., sought the rehearing and are expected to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

CRIMINAL CODE TASK ADVANCED

Revision Project Pushed by American Law Institute

Agreement Reached on New Proposals for Change

Move to Eliminate Conflict in Statutes Furthered

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Virtual agreement on further recommendations for a wholesale revision of the nation's criminal code, and the completion of another step in an eighteen - year task of "restating" the country's common law, had been accomplished tonight by 600 leading jurists and barristers at the eighth annual meeting of the American Law Institute.

Major proposals approved would call for the selection of extra jurors in protracted trials; the examination of jurors by the judge rather than by the opposing counsel; permission to defendants to waive jury trial in other than capital cases; the issuance of a summons rather than a warrant of arrest in minor cases; and a simplification of the form of indictments.

The step accomplished by the conferees on "restatement" of the common law is an agreement on the proposed draft on "the conflict of laws." The draft is designed to serve as a reference work, facilitating decisions on laws that now conflict. It constitutes an important chapter in the estimated twenty-two volume task of "restatement," to be completed in 1941.

WOMEN TO AID IN CHURCH RULE

Episcopal Assembly Takes New Step at Bay City

Bishop Parsons Leader in Feminine Cause

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9. (Exclusive)—Despite an effort to defer action until the next session, a year hence, women today were granted the right to participate executively in the affairs of the Episcopal Church in the Province of the Pacific, which includes eleven western States. It is the first time in the history of the church, it is said, that such action has been taken.

Three women will be elected as associate members of the provincial council, in recognition of the work done by their sex. They will have a voice in provincial council discussions and a vote on all matters not specifically denied them by the ordinances of the province.

The foundation was laid for the action yesterday afternoon but opposition was pronounced and it was not by any means certain the vote would be favorable. The cause of the women was championed by Rt. Rev. Edward Lambe Parsons, bishop of California, who introduced a measure in the form of an amendment to existing ordinances.

After active discussion, the proposal was referred back to committee yesterday, but it emerged on the floor again today, at the closing business session of the synod.

To men who have Mothers . . . on Mother's Day

THERE ARE some men and women who have Mothers on Mother's Day and some who have not.

To you whose Mother can hear the joyful tinkle of living bells, we say:

Go to her in person, if you possibly can.

But if she is too far away for that, then go to your telephone, and you shall at least hear her voice, and she shall hear yours.

Inter-city rates are low and are still further reduced in the evening. The front pages of your Telephone Directory list the charges to many distant points and contain much interesting information.

So take it down and say to her "I don't forget!"

Have You Graduated From Church?

I do believe in the "supernatural;" I am confident there has been a "revelation;" I am not interested in "salvation;" I am not concerned about a "future life;" I have accepted reservedly the scientific method. Yet I am a minister of religion.

I propose on Sunday to describe the function of a church that is thoroughly modern in its point of view. All who feel they have "graduated" from church are especially invited. The lectures will be given at 10:50 A.M. at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th Street, just east of Vermont.

STEEL BUSINESS FORGING AHEAD

Schwab Declares Conditions Better Than Thought

Volume and Prices Good by Former Standards

Last Year's Record-Breaking Casts Shadow Now

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—Executives of the American steel industry, in exchanging views at a meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, agreed today that the present business situation is favorable with better times just ahead.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the Institute and chairman of Bethlehem Steel; James A. Farrell, president of United States Steel; Horace E. Wilkinson, president of Crucible Steel, and other heads of steel companies all indicated that the present weaker price tendencies and reduced operations look important only in comparison with the record-breaking production and better prices of a year ago.

USED TO BE, ANYHOW

"Looking back over the last decade you will find that our present rate of operations has always been regarded in the past as a most satisfactory rate; therefore our rate today should be considered as equally satisfactory," said Mr. Schwab.

Mr. Schwab, whose corporation recently arranged a merger with the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, said each proposed merger must justify itself.

"Where a merger," he said, "demonstrably results in better diversification, greater industrial stability, and efficiency, and gives to the public greater or better facilities for supplying its needs, then it is legitimate and deserves the fullest public encouragement."

MERGE AND EMERGE

Mr. Farrell, in discussing the same problems, said he thought "the bloom is off the rose in the merger business."

"To merge or not to merge—that is the question," he said.

"Some think that unless we merge we will be submerged, but the best thing we can do is to emerge. I think people make as much money out of what they have as they will out of what they expect to get."

Wilbur Gives Radio Talk on National Parks

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today explained what the national parks of the United States mean to the people of the country.

In a radio address sponsored by Science Service and broadcast over a Columbia network, the Secretary said the so-called educational work in the national parks "consists in explaining to those interested, in popular form, the peculiar formations which are the distinctive features of the park, and telling which of her powerful tools nature used in forming them; and in giving information about other natural-history phases of the areas."

Miss Edwards Explains New Demand on Amster and Wins Leniency

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—Olga Elde Edwards explained to Judge Rosalsky today why she had disregarded his warning and telephoned to Nathan Amster, aged traction magnate from whom she was recently convicted of extorting money. Miss Edwards is on probation for five years with the condition that she let Mr. Amster alone.

On Wednesday, she told the judge today, her 7-year-old son Lee, became ill and she telephoned to Amster's secretary to ask for aid. She pleaded she had been too excited to realize what she was doing and Judge Rosalsky, who pronounced her suspended sentence, let her go after cautioning her again against telephoning or visiting Amster's office.

Miss Edwards's son, whose paternity she imputed to Amster during her trial for extortion, is a patient at a children's foundation, suffering with a cold and an infected throat. His mother has an order permitting her to have the boy when he has recovered.

Broker Loses Love Theft Suit

DENVER, May 9. (AP)—The $50,000 love-theft trial in which William J. Kunkel, New York fruit broker, sought to collect damages from William B. Quigley, Denver attorney, for alienation of Mrs. Kunkel's affections, resulted today in a jury's verdict for Quigley.

The jury acquitted the attorney of stealing the affections of the woman who was described as, but denied she is, a Russian princess. She had testified, however, she is a Russian by birth. With spectators barred from the courtroom she told of circumstances which led her to apply for a divorce through Quigley.

SAN DIEGO COUNT NEARLY DOUBLED

SAN DIEGO, May 9. (Exclusive) San Diego's population is 147,897. This official figure was announced today by Census Supervisor Hieatt. It represents an increase of 69,288, or 88.38 per cent over the last census, which gave San Diego 78,509.

The new total does not include Kensington Precinct, with 2738 persons; North Island and Rockwell Field, 1213; Point Loma Military Reservation 302, or personnel of navy ships based here, approximately, 10,500. Counting these the total for San Diego city and the military area is 162,650.

The figure of 78,509 for the 1920 census announced today is at variance with the figure of 74,683 which has been carried in government publications for the last ten years and used by the Chamber of Commerce and other local agencies for computing population gains.

Hieatt said the larger figure as supplied him by the government includes East San Diego, which was not a part of San Diego at the time the last census was taken.

BESIEGED MOROS HOLD THEIR FORT

Philippine Constabulary Withdraw to Prepare New Assault on Outlaws

MANILA, May 9. (AP)—The Moro outlaws held their bombproof fort tonight in the mountains of Ianao Province, Mindanao Island, after two days of fighting with the Philippine constabulary. Six Moros are known to be dead and others are believed to have been killed. The constabulary casualties are four killed and fourteen wounded. Capt. J. R. Grinstead, an American who commands the Ianao constabulary, may recover from a severe leg wound.

Failing in their efforts to dislodge the Moros from their fort the constabulary returned to Dansalan tonight to prepare for a general attack tomorrow.

The immediate cause of the battle was the effort of the constabulary to confiscate unlicensed firearms belonging to three Moros.

The Luckenbach company complained that the railroad made the joint rates with the Redwood Line covering the transportation of canned goods, iron and steel articles, tin plate and soap, but at the same time refused to extend like privileges to Luckenbach ships.

REALTY GROUP'S MEETING OPENS

Daum Talks to Association in Assembly at Yosemite

Aid Urged for Legislation Affecting State Progress

Business Deliberations Will Get Under Way Today

BY JAMES DAVIS
"Times" Staff Representative

YOSEMITE, May 9. (Exclusive)—Approval of legislative plans affecting the progress of the State and indorsement of endeavors intended to promote the welfare of the California Real Estate Association were urged tonight by W. H. Daum of Los Angeles, president of the State organization, in his opening address before 100 or more executives and directors of the State body assembled in executive council at the Ahwahnee Hotel.

Chief among the legislative plans for which indorsement was sought are a taxation law to remove from real estate and improvements at least a portion of the burden of taxation and cost of government which they now bear, and a special assessment statute that will cover the field of present improvement acts and provide for assessments against real estate which President Daum asserted should be reasonable and sensible.

PRELIMINARY SESSION

Tonight's session was preliminary to the business meeting tomorrow, when the aims of the State organization as worked out by various committees will be presented for approval or rejection. Indorsement of these aims will mean that legislation will be prepared and presented to the State realty organization in its convention at Santa Cruz on October 22, 23 and 24 next, and, if approved, a fight for its passage will be made before the Legislature in January.

Other aims of the organization as outlined are a perfected real estate license law eliminating many features complained of in the present statute. Another proposal is a plan for property owner membership in local realty boards to permit real estate owners to have a national, State-wide and local body to represent them in all legislative affairs pertaining to real estate ownership.

CO-OPERATION URGED

President Daum recommended hearty co-operation between the California Real Estate Association and the California State Chamber of Commerce that will in turn encourage a State-wide industrial development.

The real estate advisory council, now co-operating with State Real Estate Commissioner Barnson and officially known as the contact board, in executive session tonight went on record as favoring the proposal that this board be made officially a State administrative body.

Tomorrow Frank H. Brooks of Los Angeles will present to the council a plan for relief from the special assessment evil. Hayden F. Jones of Fresno will speak on the general tax alms of the association.

INDIA WARNED BY LION'S ROAR

tives of several police, bound together and soaked in oil, and made into torches to illuminate the terror-ridden night.

WOUNDED MEN SPARED

Apparently the natives burned only dead officers, sparing the wounded. Accounts of the injured ranged from sixty to 400, the latter figures being supplied by horrified wives of police officials who reached here in a special refugees' train under armed guard in the night.

As a first step toward tightening up on the activities of the National Congress, the district committee at Kohat was declared unlawful.

At the same time arrests at several points indicated a gesture toward rounding up some of the more important Congress leaders. At Lahore, Dr. Gopichand, general secretary of the all-India body, was seized on a charge of sedition.

NO MACHINE GUNS

The fact that in none of the rioting were machine guns brought into play was made evident, local authorities pointed out today. The police who have engaged Indian mobs thus far have had instructions, it was said, to use first their staves and then guns loaded with buckshot. It was intimated that if these measures should prove ineffective, more severe methods will be employed.

The statement of Wedgewood Benn, Secretary for India, of the government's confident attitude, was received here with interest and hopefulness. The Secretary declared again today that Britain is fully able to meet and handle any situation which might arise.

LARGE AREA HANDLED BY BRITAIN'S FORCES

LONDON, May 9. (AP)—Latest figures on the military forces which Great Britain has in India show a total of 59,700 British troops and approximately 167,000 in the Indian artillery, the personnel of which is native with British officers.

The Indian Empire has an area of 1,805,000 square miles, or more than Europe without Russia, within which is a population of 319,000,000, of whom 78 per cent are in British provinces as distinguished from the native states which have their own rulers, police and military.

It is the job of handling this huge population spread over a vast area which the comparative handful is called upon to tackle—not so difficult in ordinary times as history has shown, but quite a different matter should disaffection among the populace show itself widespread.

SHOLAPHUR QUIET UNDER MENACE OF RIFLES

SHOLAPHUR (India) May 9. (AP) After two days of rioting and terror this important mill town was quiet tonight with British troops in occupation, but had grave apprehensions of trouble tomorrow, which is the anniversary of the famous and bloody Indian mutiny.

The trouble began Wednesday when two of the numerous silk and cotton mills in this neighborhood remained working in spite of the "hartal," or day of mourning, proclaimed on account of Gandhi's arrest Monday.

A procession of mill hands from the other mills advanced demanding the "strike breaker" cease work. The demand was refused and the demonstrators threatened to burn the mill.

Dispersed by police, they later moved through the city burning liquor shops. The police finally established conditions of comparative tranquility.

Yesterday, however, a number of congress volunteers, supported by a crowd of mill hands, began cutting down the palm trees from which a popular drink is manufactured. This is part of Gandhi's civil-disobedience campaign.

The British district magistrate, R. F. Knight, accompanied by District Superintendent of Police Playfair, two European sergeants and a few armed sepoys, toured the city by automobile, attempting to dissuade the volunteers.

Across one of the main roads the little party found an improvised barrier of tree trunks which forced them to alight and continue the journey on foot. Immediately a crowd began to gather, swelling in numbers until nearly 30,000 Indians surrounded the British officials.

Someone suddenly threw a stone and a barrage of stones followed.

When no notice was taken of another order to disperse, Knight ordered a few rounds to be fired by the sepoys. After a short time the police were rushed from all sides and a general fight followed.

With a sudden outburst of fury, seized the police officials, the constable, and after pummeling him, hurled him over the parapet. Two other policemen were later suffered a similar fate.

Five more were injured before the rioting today, and it was reported that had been thrown into the river their eyes had been gouged out by the mob.

Georgian Offers Criticisms at Dallas Conference

Cannon, Mouzon, Moore and Dubose Listed

DALLAS (Tex.) May 9. (AP)—Four bishops were named in charges presented today at the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, attacking their administrations and in particular charged political activities, but then showed little concern over the charges.

Two of them, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia and Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon said they had no statements to make. Bishop John M. Moore of Dallas said he couldn't know what to say if I had anything."

GEORGIAN NAMES CHARGES

Bishop H. M. Dubose of Nashville, Tenn., in the absence of comment from the other three, said the most serious view that could be taken was to regard the action of the bishops, the asserted deeds of misconduct as "a commonplace of citizenship right and privilege under the law."

The charges were preferred by Rev. Rembert Smith of Washington, D. C., who mailed them to the conference secretary, Rev. Mr. Smith announced to be here himself next week to press them before the episcopacy committee to which they were referred. The exact charges have not made public, and it is understood that they will be since meeting of the committee are executive and all members are sworn to secrecy.

AUTHOR OF BOOK

Rev. Mr. Smith, soon after the last Presidential campaign, wrote a book called "The Four Horsemen of Methodism," in which Bishop Cannon was called "Pope Cannon" and he and the other three attacked as they were branded "the Four Horsemen."

The conference delegate who had heard the charges indicated that the worst allegation in them is to the effect that the four bishops had voted for Herbert Hoover for President, and urged their friends to do likewise. It was also said that some of the bishops had accounted for funds spent in the campaign, and those against Bishop Cannon were reputed to have asserted stock-market activities.

UNION TALK DROPPED

Projected union of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with the Methodist Episcopal Church, the latter body was closed today as far as the twenty-second quadrennial general conference of the latter church is concerned. The special committee on unification of the two branches of American Methodism today brought a report that the conference stating that it would be unwise at this time to attempt to outline the legal steps necessary to effect the reunion."

The two branches of Methodism were divided in 1836 over the slavery question. A plan was devised eighteen years ago to effect the reunion, but after a bitter fight the southern branch rejected the proffers made by their northern brethren. It will be impossible for the church to consider reunion again for four years.

RACINE (Wis.) May 9. (Exclusive)—The concert career of Leo Tecktonius, noted pianist of Paris who is visiting his mother here, is menaced by an aching heart which only $500,000 will assuage, according to a complaint in a heart balm suit filed by attorneys for Tecktonius against Mrs. Robert Galloway, wealthy and comely widow of Memphis, Tenn.

Tecktonius declares in the complaint that he met Mrs. Galloway in Paris and they became engaged last November. He says she went to her home in Memphis and was to meet him here at his mother's home to plan the wedding later but jilted him.

NEW RECORD FOR GLIDER LOOPS SET

Chicago Flyer Turns Over Twelve Times in Motorless Plane in Official Try

CHICAGO, May 9. (AP)—Lyman Voelpel today trebled the previous world's record for loops in a glider.

Flying a two-passenger biplane glider, he made twelve consecutive loops above the Curtiss airport. The previous official record was four. The attempt was made under a permit by the Department of Commerce.

Soon after Voelpel had established his record, Jimmy Van Cise made what he said was the first parachute jump from a glider.

Voelpel's glider was towed into the air at an altitude of 3500 feet by an airplane piloted by Maj. Harold Darr. At that altitude the glider was cut loose and Voelpel started his loops. The glider, containing both Voelpel and Van Cise, again was towed into the air to a height of 1500 feet and Van Cise made his leap.

DRY LEADERSHIP REPUTED TO GOD

McBride Asserts Almighty to be League Author

Senator Blaine Takes Issue With Statement

Dispute Occurs Before Lobby Committee

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—An assertion by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, that the organization had been "born of God" produced a lively controversy today before the Senate lobby committee.

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, the only wet member of the committee, described the statement as "sacrilegious," and "an outrageous thing," and McBride retorted that Blaine's remarks were "sacrilegious."

The exchange resulted when Blaine asked the witness if he had made a statement in a speech that the league had been "born of God."

"The league was born of God," McBride replied. "It has been led by Him and will fight on while He leads. And the only thing that stands forth in this progressive age is that those things that are in the way of the progress of the kingdom of God must set out of the way."

BLAINE'S VIEWS

"My own view," Blaine replied, "is that I do not think God would approve of some of your practices and I think it is unfortunate for the moral forces of the country that an organization of the type of the Anti-Saloon League should claim that its origin came from God Almighty."

McBride, who appeared for the second day, testified that the organization had not evaded the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, which requires reports to be made to Congress concerning political expenditures.

"We have done our level best to conform to the Federal Corrupt Practices Act from the beginning," he asserted. "We were the first organization that did that."

He added that in 1928 the national and State organizations of the Anti-Saloon League had reported expenditures of $178,000, of which $100,000 was for the national league. He repeated the league's political activities represented only about 5 per cent of the total.

AIDS APPOINTMENTS

Senator Blaine then read from a speech by McBride which said that about 90 per cent of the league's activities "cluster about elections." "They do cluster about elections," McBride replied. "That means it was a close relationship. It does not mean it was election work."

"You are very excellent in the choice of language," Blaine commented, "But I don't believe you are fooling anyone."

McBride testified that he thought the organization had furnished information to government officials concerning prohibition appointments, but he said he was unable to give any specific instances.

Pressed by Blaine, he explained that the information probably was given in personal interviews or by telephone.

"I do not recall any specific case, but in a general way I would say that it had been done."

"That's a convenient way to suppress a fact," Blaine retorted.

After the witness had stated that the league had been "born of God" Blaine asked:

LEAGUE'S ORIGIN

"Then you sort of regard your organization as the son of God?"

"No," McBride replied. "I said the league was born of God."

"And that your league has been specially delegated by God to carry on his work here on earth?"

"No, I didn't say that. I would not claim as much as that."

"You claim a good deal."

"I don't hesitate to claim that the league was born of God," McBride said. "It began in a prayer meeting in Oberlin, O."

"Did you have any message from God to the effect that He gave birth to this organization?"

"No."

"What gave you the conception that God gave birth to the Anti-Saloon League?"

"The fact that it was born in a prayer meeting and that the organization has been a religious organization down through the years. We seldom have a convention without opening with devotional exercises. We never have a meeting of our national executive committee without the devotions. We are led by the leadership of God."

The exchange was ended when Chairman Caraway and Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, insisted the questioning had nothing to do with lobbying.

The committee adjourned until Tuesday when McBride will resume his testimony.

BOX TESTS INTELLIGENCE

Belgian Professor Reports Manner of Opening and Closing Reveals Mental Powers

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—How a person opens and closes a specially equipped box apparently has proved a very successful method for testing intelligence in Belgium. Dr. A. G. Christiaens, Brussels professor, today told the international congress on mental hygiene that of the 3000 persons taking the test, "the right prediction had been made in 87 per cent of the cases when it was a question of young men, and in 93 per cent of the cases when adults were examined."

The person undergoing the test, Dr. Christiaens explained, is given a box closed by intricate devices which he is told to open. Upon opening it he is asked to restore the box to its original position. Five minutes are allowed for preliminary inspection and an equal time for solution.

In meeting the test, he pointed out, five problems are involved. "The first two," he said, "arouse thought but require no act of reasoning. These problems are solved by the majority. The third problem cannot be solved without the help of reasoning and is far more seldom solved. The fourth resembles the first two but requires keener observation. The fifth, like the third, requires intelligence of a superior kind."

The intelligence of the individual, it was explained, is gauged not only by the problem at which he stops, but also by his behavior in dealing with the problem, the latter being termed far more valuable as an indication of capacity than his success or failure in opening the box.

THE MAC-KEK-NEE BAKERS

CURTAIN LIFTED FROM BAFFLING BAKING MYSTERY

Local Bakers Solve Riddle That Has Baffled Bakers Since Mother Stopped Baking

What became of the lost flavor of old-time mother's bread? Fame and fortune waited the genius who answered this riddle.

Strangely enough a simple common-sense plan of Mackechnie bakers found the answer.

They enlisted the aid of foremost baker scientists. They traced back step by step to old-fashioned methods.

They found that mothers of long ago did not use the modern chemically bleached flour. Chemicals used to whiten modern flour change bread flavor, they found.

Old-time mothers used only old-fashioned unbleached flour. That was the secret even they did not realize.

With this old-fashioned unbleached flour, following a treasured old recipe the bakers of Highland bread have brought back that enticing taste so long a memory.

You can enjoy it today. Ask your grocer for Mack's Highland bread.

Office Noises Cut Efficiency

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP) — The American girl loses nearly 10 per cent of her efficiency in a noisy office. The sturdier male appears just about as susceptible, but scientists have not tested him as fully.

These findings were reported to the American Acoustical Society today at a symposium on noise. Two concerns reported that the efficiency of their clerks increased, respectively, 10.4 per cent and 8 per cent by reducing the noise in their offices.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Perched in the branches of a great tree, Tarzan gazed down upon the colorful life within the enclosure. He knew his mighty powers; equally he realized his limitations. Here were too many for him to cope with. He must resort to the trickery and stealth of the wild beast, if he was to succeed. He saw white-robed figures and half-naked blacks; but not once did he see one who resembled the stealer of the gems. Patiently he waited until the streets were deserted.

Over the sharpened projections of the palisade the ape-man tossed his coiled long rawhide rope. He drew the noose taut; then ran nimbly up the wall and dropped softly to the ground within the village. Before him stretched a series of tents and native huts. The business of exploring these was fraught with danger, but it never appalled Tarzan. Through a door, a window or an open chink, his nose told him whether or no his prey was within.

At last he found a tent where the scent of the thief was strong. But inside was only a scattered pile of blankets. Tarzan took up the spoor-trail. On hands and knees he crawled. It led him many places. Once into a hut where an odor aroused a latent memory of the past—it was the faint and delicate perfume of a woman. Now having satisfied himself that his pouch of jewels was nowhere in the village, the ape-man followed the spoor across the clearing, over the palisade, and out into the jungle.

After Werper had arranged the dummy in his bed and sneaked out into the darkness behind his tent, he went directly to the hut in which Jane Clayton was held captive. The Belgian, being one of Achmet Zek's lieutenants, was not questioned as he entered the hut which held the white woman prisoner. Within Werper called in French and in a low whisper, "Lady Greystoke! It is I, M. Precault. Where are you?" But there was no response. He groped about, astonished, but the place was empty!

STATE PREP MEET ON TAP

Seventy-seven California High School Track Teams Clash Today at Berkeley

BERKELEY, May 9.—Athletes of seventy-seven California high schools will compete on track and field tomorrow afternoon on California oval in the sixteenth annual track meet of the California Interscholastic Federation.

More than 1?8 athletes will compete, according to the official entry list completed today by officials of the federation. The meet is scheduled to start at 1:30 o'clock. Heats in the relay will be run off at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

T&X OLIVER

Bay City fans are hoping that a northern high school will break the jinx and finally win a State championship this year. Southern teams have won fifteen straight victories, as follows:

1915, Manual Arts, 25 points; 1916, Manual Arts, 37 1-2 points; 1917, Coalinga, 25 points; 1918, Pasadena, 25 points; 1919, Manual Arts, 21 points; 1920, Los Angeles High, 10 points; 1921, Lincoln, 17 points; 1922, Huntington Beach, 16 points; 1923, Hollywood, 17 1-2 points; 1924, Manual Arts, 26 points; 1925, Manual Arts, 16 points; 1926, Los Angeles Poly, 17 points; 1927, Glendale, 30 points; 1928, Redlands, 8 points; 1929, San Diego, 23 3-4 points.

Records made in the past fifteen years compare favorably with the marks made this season in intercollegiate meets on the Pacific Coast. This is particularly true in the track events, as the records below will indicate:

100-yard dash: 9.6s., by Lombardi, L. A. High, 1928.

120-yard hurdles: 14.8s., by Welch, Pasadena, 1927.

880-yard run: 1m. 58.4s., by Welch, Visalia, 1929.

220-yard dash: 12.4s., by Lombardi, L. A. High, 1928; Wykoff, Glendale, 1928, and Wilson, San Diego, 1929.

220-yard hurdles: 23.9s, by Payne, San Bernardino, 1926.

880-yard relay: 1m. 29.6s., by team from L. A. High, 1928.

REDS TRIM ANGELS IN WILD TILT

Pillette's Home Run in Eighth With Sacks Full Wins Game, 17 to 13

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—The Missions beat the Angels today, 17 to 13, in a terrible game of baseball. The pitching was disgraceful. Thirty-five hits were made, of which six were home runs and eleven were doubles. The pitchers issued thirteen passes to add to the agony. Some kind of a record must have been rung up for balls pitched for the count was three and two on nearly every batsmen.

ED BAECHT

There was only a handful of folk out and they did not suffer in silence.

The Missions had the lead of 10 to 2 in the second inning, yet they staggered through to victory only because Ted Pillette, a pitcher, who acted as a pinch hitter for Christenson in the eighth, whacked out a home run with the bases full. The Missions needed the five runs they made off Peters in that round, too, for Mert Nelson was staggering and was nicked for four hits and two runs in the ninth.

The Missions made three runs off Baecht in the first when Monroe and Burns hit homers. Truck Hannah batted in two runs in the second but the Missions came back with seven in their half of the round, sending Baecht to the showers and bringing in Walsh for a short stay. Holling and Peters also flung for the Angels.

George Caster lost control in the third when he walked five men. Nelson relieved him and walked

SEALS DEFEAT SHEIKS AGAIN

Zinn Twirls San Francisco to 9-to-3 Victory

Invaders Cinch Clash With Two Big Innings

Visitors Get Sixteen Hits Off Hollerson, Yde

BY BOB BAY

Still unable to start hitting, Hollywood's Stars dropped their fourth straight game to Nick Williams's Seals at Wrigley Field yesterday. The score was 9 to 3 and the result cinched the series for the San Francisco sluggers, who appear headed for first place.

NICK WILLIAMS

Jimmy Zinn, burly right-hander, purchased from Cleveland last winter, hurled the Seals to victory without experiencing a great deal of difficulty. Zinn yielded seven hits to the Sheiks, six of them being bunched in the sixth and seventh for two runs, but was always master of the situation.

On the other hand, the Seals banged the offerings of George Hollerson and Emil Yde for sixteen assorted safeties to pile up their winning margin. Jerry Donovan, center fielder, led the attack with four singles while Jimmy Caveney poked out two doubles and a single to help the Seal cause along.

The Seals bunched their hits in the third and fifth innings to cinch the contest. In the third round four runs crossed the plate and three more scored in the fifth. After that it was just a question of how much instead of who.

Oscar Vitt scrambled his batting order in an effort to get the Stars to hitting but it didn't make any difference. The only time they showed a spark of batting ability was in the seventh, when Yde, Gazella, Lee and Brannon singled for a run with none out. But Zinn retired Green, Carlyle and Heath, the power of the Hollywood batting order, to choke off the rally.

The contest, despite its lopsided score, was replete with spectacular fielding, Mike Gazella making two particularly sensational stops and throws. Harry Green also made a great catch of a foul fly, reaching into the box seats in deep left field to snag the apple.

The Seals started the scoring in the third by shoving over a quartet of tallies on four hits and an error by Dud Lee. Zinn led off with a single and went to third on Crosetti's double off the left-field wall. Baker's sacrifice fly to Carlyle scored Zinn and put Crosetti on third. Donovan's hit to center counted the Seal shortstop, Lee bobbled Wingo's

Husky Track Squad Trims Oregon State

WASHINGTON STADIUM, SEATTLE (Wash.) May 9. (AP)—Capturing eleven first places and tying for another, the University of Washington conquered Oregon State College, 78 1-3 to 53 2-3, in a dual track meet this afternoon. No Washington records were broken in the fifteen events. Oregon State won the half-mile run, javelin and pole vault and tied for first place in the high jump.

FLYING TACKLE BARRED HERE

James Woods in Ruling on Sonnenberg Hold

Dave Shade and Mike Hector Given Clean Bill

Hudkins Bout Will be Held Week After 20th Inst.

BY PAUL LOWRY

James Woods, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, made three vital decisions affecting the local boxing and wrestling situation yesterday:

(1.) He barred Gus Sonnenberg's flying tackle from California rings.

(2.) He exonerated Mike Hector from blame in the "no-contest" bout with Dave Shade.

(3.) He exonerated Shade from charges by Referee Harry Lee that he was "carrying" Hector.

In giving both Shade and Hector a clean bill of health and going back of Lee's decision of a "no-contest" bout, he held that the official had called the fight "as he saw it."

GUS SONNENBERG

The decision means that the automatic suspension of both fighters is lifted, their pay checks were delivered, and that the scheduled Ace Hudkins - Dave Shade scrap can progress according to Hoyle.

This fight, however, has been set back at least a week by the Olympic management, and will not be staged as originally planned on the 20th inst.

Hudkins broke training at Murietta Springs immediately upon hearing of the "no-contest" fight and the injury to Shade's left hand, and

A.A.U. MEET ON AT OCCIDENTAL

Trojans and Mercuries in Fight for Honors

Wykoff and Hables Feature in Trackfest Today

Rothert and Brix Billed for Shot Put Duel

BY BRAVEN DYER

Southern California's track-and-field season comes to a close today as far as local fans are concerned with the staging of the annual A.A.U. meet at Patterson Field, Eagle Rock. More than 300 short - pantied athletes are slated to perform for the edification of those who may attend. The opening race starts at 1:30 p.m.

HERMAN BRIX

As far as team honors are concerned the battle lies strictly between the University of Southern California and the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Condition and a wealth of stellar performers favor the Trojans. However, there are four events in which S.C. will have no entries and it is in these that the Mercuries expect to score heavily. They are the six-mile run, three-mile walk, hammer throw and fifty-six-pound weight.

CARD STARS HERE

Thanks to the coming of two Stanford stars the meet should provide a real kick. The invaders are Harlow Rothert who, with Herman Brix, shares the distinction of being America's leading shot-putter, and Les Hables (pronounced Hobbles,) who is Dink Templeton's pride and joy in the sprints.

Rothert and Brix will put on their usual shot-putting duel and perhaps one of them will come close to 53ft., thus clearing up the vexing question as to who really is the world's leading athlete in this event. Right now Mr. Emil Hirschfeld of Germany has the bulge on the others with a toss of approximately 52ft. 3in. Until someone exceeds that figure I can see no little reason for getting excited about tosses which fall short of this mark, for the big Teuton has as much right as Rothert or Brix to have his record approved.

Hables is slated to tangle with Frank Wykoff over the 100-yard route. The Stanford ace, ineligible through scholastic difficulties, shaded 9 2-5s. a week ago in the north, and there are plenty of critics who expect to see him lead the Glendale greyhound to the tape this afternoon. Hables has defeated Hec Dyer and Dyer has trimmed Wykoff,

NEGRO WELTER ASCENDS WORLD'S FISTIC THRONE

Angeleno Loses Title Via Decision Route in Blistering 15-Round Battle in Detroit Ring

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

OLYMPIA ARENA, DETROIT, May 9. (AP)—There is a new welterweight champion of the world, a dark-skinned Negro lad of Oakland, Cal., named Young Jack Thompson.

In one of the most startling upsets in years, Thompson, with the heart of a lion and the boxing skill of a Joe Gans, decisively defeated Jackie Fields, the titleholder, in a blistering fifteen-round battle in the Olympia Arena, tonight.

YOUNG JACK THOMPSON

After the last punch went flying through the air, Elmer (Slim) McClelland, the referee, unhesitatingly raised the Negro's hand in victory. The crowd of 15,000 roared its approval. Fields, champion of less than a year, buried his heads in his hands as he sat in his corner, crushed in defeat, and cried

Crack Brigade Cops Second in $50,000 Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 9. (AP)—Gallant Fox, son of Sir Gallahad III, today won the $50,000 Preakness at Pimlico, defeating ten of the best 3-year-olds in training.

Crack Brigade was second with Snow Flake third. Gallant Fox, which carried the silks of William Woodward's Belair stud, went to the post the favorite. Crack Brigade is owned by T. M. Cassidy, while Snow Flake ran in the silks of W. J. Salmon.

With Earl Sande in the saddle the great 3-year-old from the Belair stud came up in the stretch to defeat Crack Brigade by three-quarters of a length. Snow Flake also came up strong to finish a length back of the Cassidy entry.

Southern California Championships Are at Stake in Tournament at Local Tennis Club

BY RALPH HUSTON

With fifty-nine matches scheduled, the annual Southern California tennis championship tournament gets under way this morning at 9 o'clock on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis Club. The tournament will end, with the playing of the various final matches, one week from tomorrow.

There are five divisions in the tournament, and in four of them, last year's champions are defending their honors.

KEITH GLEDHILL

Johnny Doeg defeated Ben Gorchakoff in the finals last year to win the men's singles crown. Neither is entered this season, and Keith Gledhill, national junior champion last year, is favored to win.

Miss Marjorie "Midge" Gladman, conqueror of May Sutton Bundy in the recent Ojai final, will defend her women's singles title, won last year at the expense of Helen Mar-

Gledhill is teamed with Ellsworth Vines again in their quest of the men's doubles championship. Last year they won from Herrington and Herd to take the title. Herd is playing with Bundy this year.

Gladys Pats and Esther Bartosh are expected to repeat their victory in the women's doubles match. Miss Marlowe and Vines are out to retain their mixed doubles championship, won last year when Miss Gladman and Herrington were beaten in the finals. Miss Gladman is playing with Herd this year, and this combination is seeded No. 1 in the lists.

Play in all five divisions will be played today, with some second-round matches scheduled. Nearly all of the favorites will appear in

TROJANS PLAY BRUINS TODAY

The Southern California baseball team will endeavor to cinch the title in the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association today when it encounters the U.C.L.A. nine, occupants of last place, in th final game of the season on the Westwood diamond at 2:30 o'clock. The Trojans must win today in order to secure the pennant from their closest rival, the California Golden Bear team.

The Trojans have already defeated the Westwood Bruins twice this week, winning Monday afternoon at Westwood by the score of 12 to 1, and Wednesday at Bovard Field by the count of 12 to 2. George Sutherlen, who conquered the Bruins Monday, will pitch today for the Thundering Herd, while either Harry Griffith or Lee Duke will hurl for the Uclans.

HORTON SMITH SECOND IN BRITISH PRO PLAY

SOUTHPORT (Eng.) May 9. (AP)—Playing superb golf in a gale of wind and rain from the Irish Sea, Horton Smith, the lone American in the British northern professional championship, scored a 72 and a 71 today to tie for second money with a 289 aggregate.

HORTON SMITH

This figure held the lead until Archie Compston, Britain's iron man of the links, hammered a 285 out of the storm to win the title. Young Henry Cotton then came along with a 289 to tie the tall Missourian for runner-up honors in this 72-hole medal play competition.

Thus Smith failed to win in his first assault of the year on the British golf titles but he succeeded in exploding definitely and completely the idea that prevailed about his game after his visit to England last year. The impression had existed that he could not play golf in the wind as it must be played on the seagirt courses of these exposed islands.

This theory could not have been put to a more thorough test than it was today when Smith proved the critics wrong.

Horton's 72 in the morning gave him a momentary third-round lead with 218, but Compston's steady 70 gave him a 214 and Cotton also moved ahead with a sensational 68 for 215.

Smith's fourth round this afternoon was a string of eight fours and one three outward for a 35, but

OAKLAND, May 9. (AP)—Aided by two errors and excellent pitching, Oakland's Oaks defeated the Sacramento Senators, 2-1, here today. Bob Hurst of the Oaks let the visitors down with four hits, the only tally coming in the fourth when Ward singled and scored on Camilli's double. In their half of the same frame, the Oaks counted twice, wild throws by Hoag and Rohwer, Sacramento outfielders, aiding. Hurst, incidentally, singled to bat in the winning run. Score:

Chevalier on Loser's End

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9. (AP)—Angus Snyder, rough, tough heavyweight from Kansas City, won a ten-round decision here tonight over Leon Chevalier, the big San Francisco Negro, who was responsible for Primo Carnera rumpus over in Oakland a few weeks ago. Chevalier fought no better and not much worse than he did against Carnera, who was awarded a technical knockout when the towel was thrown in the ring in the sixth round. The Kansas City entrant, although not a heavy puncher, forced the fighting most of the way to have his hand raised by Referee Willie Ritchie.

ALVARADO, STEPHENS TOP TONIGHT'S CARD

Meeting for the third time, Jack (Red) Stephens and Jimmy Alvarado, fast young 130-pounders, will clash tonight in the main event at the Main-street Club. Two previous battles between the pair have resulted in sensational fights that ended in draws and tonight's meeting is expected to be another thriller with Stephens, who is undefeated this year, ruling a slight favorite.

A pair of slugging 150-pounders, Morrie Eagleson and Leo Hernandez, have been matched by Promoter Carlo Curtis for the semi-windup. The special event brings together Hy Diamond and Joe Borola, lightweights.

ROOSEVELT WRECKS GARFIELD BULLDOGS

Behind the brilliant pitching and timely hitting of Benny Cuevas and "Mophead" McHenry, Coach "Coney" Galindo's Roosevelt Roughriders defeated the Garfield Bulldogs yesterday on the Colonel's diamond, by the count of 5 to 1.

McHenry slammed in two doubles and a triple to push four of the Roughriders' five runs across the plate.

Cuevas held the Bulldogs to four hits, two of them coming in the ninth inning.

FAIR ISLE VICTOR IN ENGLISH STAKE

NEW MARKET (Eng.) May 9. (AP)—In one of the most thrilling finishes in the long history of the classic, Lord Derbys' Fair Isle today won the 1000 guineas stake. Fair Isle beat out Torchere by a short head, and Sister Clover crowded into third place only a neck behind.

BEVERLY HILLS BEST

DUTCH ELLIOTT UPSETS OWENS

Young Heavyweight Takes Nod Over Veteran

Dutch Elliott, young Alhambra slugger, threw a mild upset into the local heavyweight situation by taking a ten-round decision from the veteran, Ernie Owens, last night at the Hollywood American Legion. Elliott's furious finish in the last round undoubtedly influenced Referee Steve Nylander. Owens failed to show very much.

Joe Cardoza, known locally as the Culver City Wildman, took a ten-round nod over Eddie Roberts of San Francisco in the semi-wind-up. Roberts, just a shell of a former great fighter, faded after the fifth round and took quite a beating in the last three sessions. The bell saved him in the ninth, after he had taken a nine count and he went down again in the tenth for a nine count.

Augie De Mille may be one of the big shots in Ocean Park, but he was just another fighter as far as Tommy Gardner was concerned. Gardner took five of the eight rounds in the special. His cleaner punching won the fight for him.

Stutz Houck took an easy decision over Fred Gardner in four rounds. Gardner was on the floor for a nine count in the second round. Young Papke made short work of Lucky Baldwin, knocking him out with two punches in the first round. Bobby Flores outpointed Eddie Neal in the four-round curtain raiser.

MRS. PRESSLER RETAINS TITLE

slow in starting, taking a 43 going out to Mrs. Green's 42.

One of Mrs. Pressler's most characteristic traits is an ability to tighten up whenever she has to, and she played a brilliant incoming nine in 37, winning five holes and halving four, to be 4 up going to lunch.

Although the defending champion was in trouble on a number of occasions, her recoveries were little short of miraculous. She won eleven and twelve to go 1 up, but found herself in trouble when she pitched over the thirteenth green in 3. On the green in 4, Mrs. Pressler holed a long putt past a half stymie to hold her own. She won fourteen with a birdie 3, making her 3 up.

MRS. PRESSLER LEADS

Mrs. Green holed a difficult six-footer on fifteen for a half. On sixteen, Mrs. Pressler hooked into a trap, but laid her pitch stiff for a 3 and a win. Mrs. Green missing a four-footer for a half. Mrs. Green lost eighteen when she pitched over the green and failed to get on coming back. Mrs. Pressler was in a trap but had a fine out six feet from the flag.

The cards:

Par (out)	434	534	443—36
Mrs. Pressler	455	644	554—42
Mrs. Green	455	644	653—42
Par (in)	434	544	344—35—71
Mrs. Pressler	534	534	355—37—80
Mrs. Green	545	554	456—43—85

Mrs. Green started out well in the afternoon by winning the first hole, but lost the next three in a row to be 6 down. The match was unquestionably finished at that point, but Mrs. Green continued to battle and by playing heads-up golf was only 4 down again at the twenty-seventh hole.

FINE RECOVERY

After battling for halves on the next two holes, Mrs. Green won the thirteenth when she put her second on the green and just missed a birdie. Mrs. Pressler found a trap, taking four to get on. That made Mrs. Green 3 down and six to go.

Mrs. Green played beautifully to halve the next two holes in par figures, but it was all over on fifteen when Mrs. Pressler smacked an iron four feet from the pin and holed the putt for a birdie 3.

The cards:

Mrs. Pressler (out)	553	535	553—39
Mrs. Green	465	634	543—40
Mrs. Pressler (in)	536	543
Mrs. Green	534	545

In the defeated eight of the championship flight, Mrs. J. H. Taylor defeated Mrs. C. W. Fellows, 3 and 1.

Mrs. G. K. Thompson won after a terrific match in the first flight finals from Mrs. Frank Parker, 1 up, twenty-two holes. The defeat gave Mrs. Vernon Nittinger a 2-and-1 victory over Mrs. Roger Knorpp.

The second flight was won by Mrs. Kenneth Carter over Mrs. C. Strouse, 4 and 3; defeated eight was won by Mrs. J. E. Cameron from Mrs. Marie Williams, 2 and 1.

Mrs. C. A. Barbour won the non-qualifiers' flight from Mrs. P. C. Loeffler, 2 and 1.

VISITOR BOOSTS FOR PHILIPPINES

Industrial Leader of Pacific Area Arrives at Port

Says Islands Unequaled as Tourist Attraction

Trade and Agriculture Also Offer Opportunities

BY WALDO DRAKE

The Philippines, particularly the southern islands, present the world's greatest remaining opportunity for both tourist trade and agricultural development, in the opinion of William G. Hall, president of the Honolulu Iron Works and a leader in the shipping and sugar industries of both Hawaii and the Philippines. Mr. Hall was an arrival yesterday from Honolulu aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

WILLIAM G. HALL.

Mr. Hall stressed the need of an American express ship line from California to the Philippines via Honolulu, which, he said, is a necessity for further development of the islands. American capitalists are also chary of investing large sums in the islands before the question of Philippine independence is settled, he explained.

"The southern islands of the Philippines have climate and scenic beauty superior to any spot in the Pacific, except possibly Hawaii, and the potential agricultural possibilities of the entire group are enormous," said Mr. Hall. "Adequate ship lines from California and a definite stand on the independence question will make those islands blossom like Hawaii, whose own tourist possibilities have been barely touched by present traffic.

"Last year our hotel facilities were taxed to care for 22,400 tourists, while we should have room for 100,000 visitors per year. Hawaii, however, is making every effort to increase its tourist facilities by building many miles of new roads and several hotels. In agricultural future, though, the Philippines are far superior.

"In 1929 Hawaii produced 900,000 tons of sugar, a new record, which also marks our limit because we have no more available land for cane growing. The Philippines, on the other hand, last year produced 650,000 tons of sugar, with barely 1 per cent of the available cane-growing land under production."

Mr. Hall also pointed to Hawaii's record pineapple crop for 1929 of 7,000,000 cases, which he said promised to be materially increased this year.

HIGH SEAS FISH TAX COLLECTION ORDERED

The Bureau of Customs has ordered duties assessed on all fish and other marine products brought into United States from the high seas in vessels owned by aliens, irrespective whether they are documented or undocumented craft. High seas fish in American craft continue free entry. Heretofore, it is understood, high seas fish in foreign-owned craft have drawn duties in some ports, none in others, including Los Angeles Harbor. The new order allows no discretion. It is expected either to affect catches of many local craft owned by Japanese, Jugo-Slavs and other aliens, or to cause a transfer of the boats' ownership to Americans. Alterations are expected to affect the same requirements in the pending tariff bill, the language of which has been declared ambiguous.

Six thousand tons of Texas sulphur is due on the Mallory steamer Balang today for the General Chemical Company of El Segundo, according to Capt. A. R. Paulsen, agent. Another bulk cargo, comprising several thousand tons of sugar from Cuba, also is due today on the steamer Cape York, represented here by Burness, Withy & Co.

Resignation from the Luckenbach Steamship Company, Inc., of Lewis Luckenbach, vice-president and general manager, was announced in dispatches received from the New York offices yesterday by H. C. Ewing, district manager. No advices were contained relative to reorganization of the executive staff.

The Luckenbach Line is the leading intercoastal operator, running fourteen express freighters on a weekly schedule between North Atlantic and Pacific ports and eight steamers from this coast to Gulf ports on a ten-day frequency.

HANSHUE-T.A.T. DEAL SEEN

Trend Toward Mergers on Zone Basis May Induce Combination of Two Southwestern Lines

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Merger of Western Air Express with the T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines is not an illogical development to expect, in conformance with the nascent trend to combine air transport companies operating in the same general zone. There is more than a possibility that such a consolidation is now under discussion in the East.

Harris M. Hanshue, president of Western Air, is now in Washington along with other transport operators to discuss mail contracts with the Postmaster-General. Representatives of T.A.T.-Maddux are also on the ground. Both are bidders for mail contracts from Los Angeles to Kansas City and other eastern points, and it is not unlikely that community of interests will draw the two companies into discussion of the advisability of unified operation.

PENNSYLVANIA FIGURED

In any discussions of this nature, it is likely that the Pennsylvania Railroad will enter. The Pennsylvania has a sizeable stake in the T.A.T.-Maddux investment, and possibly is ready to retire from direct interest in aviation after assisting in the trail blazing.

Consolidation of the two lines would leave the unified company as the dominant passenger and mail carrier in the Southwest. Important operating economies would be possible through elimination of duplication in facilities. The consolidated company, moreover, would be in a position to make money on passenger business, now rather a dubious prospect under existing competitive conditions and high operating costs.

In the Northwest and Central States, the Unified Aircraft stands out as the largest mail and passenger system, and has virtually accomplished in its section what a Western Air-T.A.T.-Maddux fusion would effect in the Southwest. United Aircraft recently acquired control of National Air Transport, the premier line between New York and Chicago.

FOKKERS LIKELY CHOICE

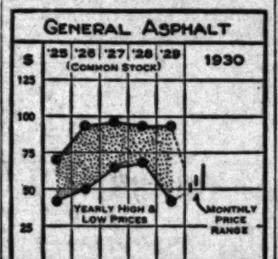
Because of its greater operating experience, it is assumed that Western Air would manage the consolidated company. Probably also, the Fokker F-32, which Western Air recently introduced in its California operations, would gradually become the preferred equipment. The Western Air management estimates that three times the pay load is possible in the new planes over the old equipment, with an increase of only one-third in cost.

Duplication of operations would be eliminated on the route eastward from Los Angeles, and between Los Angeles and San Francisco. T.A.T.-Maddux flies eastward from Los Angeles to Clovis, N. M., connecting there with rail transportation to Waynoka, Okla., thence by air to Columbus, O. Western Air Express flies from Los Angeles to Kansas City and from Los Angeles to El Paso.

Under unified operation, one line would probably operate from Los Angeles to Kansas City for the first day's flight, connecting there for the second leg of the T.A.T.-Maddux air journey to Columbus, O. This line undoubtedly would be a bidder for a mail contract.

Such a system would fly from Los Angeles to Seattle; Los Angeles to Salt Lake, Los Angeles to El Paso to Kansas City to Columbus and intermediate points.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



GENERAL ASPHALT COMPANY

General Asphalt Company, besides being the leading producer of asphalt and asphalt products and manufacturer of paving plants and equipment, owns large deposits of asphalt and petroleum in the British West Indies and Venezuela. It holds a contract with Royal Dutch Shell, by which it receives one-eighth of the total oil produced on two concessions in Venezuela. The company also has several plants for asphaltic and oil products.

Regular dividends have been paid on the preferred since 1911, but no payments have been made on the common. For the year ended December 31, 1929, the company reported consolidated net income of $1,757,095, equivalent after preferred dividends paid, to $3.65 a share compared with net of $920,507, or $2.79 for 1928. The entire issue of convertible bonds was called for redemption on October 1, 1929, and preferred stock was redeemed on December 25, 1929, at $110.

Earnings for 1930 are expected to hold on the upward trend due to the demand for products for road building, as a part of the national program to aid unemployment.

Sales to eastern and midwestern vegetable packers were reported ahead of last year and it now appears that in spite of the slow start of the fruit industry that orders will approximate the 1929 volume.

BUSINESS IN WEST COAST AREA GAINS

April Retail Volume in Twelfth Reserve Field 2 Per Cent Higher

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9. (AP)—Business of department and allied merchandising stores was better in April this year than last, for cities in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank reported today. The gain was 2 per cent.

Presumably because Easter business increased this year's April business, but last year had a similar effect on March sales, the Reserve Bank statisticians compared the April-March business of the two years and found the combined months' totals balancing evenly. This is the first time the retail trade showing for 1930 has come up to a par with that in the record year, 1929.

April business of the nation showed a greater average gain than that in the Pacific Slope States, gaining 3 per cent for the month. The March-April total, however, was 2 per cent below that of last year.

April figures in practically all the reserve districts were better this year than last, but for the March-April combination the New York area was the only one to show a gain. The Atlanta district appeared to suffer most, the decline being 10 per cent.

Areas within the Pacific-slope district made the following April gains: Pacific Northwest, 6.6 per cent; Utah-Idaho, 2.5; California-Arizona, 1.2. The trend for stores in all lines was similar, but the figures differed, giving the Pacific Northwest a gain of 7.4 per cent over April last year.

Hopeful Note in National Trade Survey of Week

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

While a cursory view of the trade and industrial situation reveals an irregular, not to say spotty, condition with the balance on the quiet side the country over, closer examination reveals an ebb and flow movement within the various lines which deserves mention and which perhaps, contains the germs of future improvement.

For one thing, retail trade in seasonable goods, especially light wearing apparel, have been helped by continued high temperatures while the combination of hot, forcing weather, and, except for a few instances, fairly abundant rainfall has given an exceptionally good start to what spring-sown crops have been already planted. Especially favored areas in this respect have been the Spring wheat Northwest, a good part of the winter wheat belt and the bulk of the South. Pacific Coast and Mountain State crop reports note rain helpful to spring and winter wheat but injurious to other crops because of accompanying cool weather.

Except, perhaps, for some benefit in the way of repeat orders for spring and summer wear from wholesalers and jobbers or manufacturers, the reports as to primary distribution are rather less favorable. In industry more stress is laid this week upon the differences between outdoor activities, ordinary building excepted, and factory industry.

Weekly bank clearings, $12,731,775,000, an increase of 4.9 per cent over a year ago.

AVIATION RESEARCH AIDED

Air Mail Cost in Excess of Postage Return for Year Approximates $12,000,000

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 9.—With the leading airplane pilots and financiers attending the airplane show in New York this week, and with the sky humming with life, the citizens of the big town are getting plenty of head-and-neck exercise.

Postmaster-General Brown, in attendance at the show, says that of the $19,000,000 appropriated this year for airplane-mail pay, probably not more than $7,000,000 will be returned in air-mail postage. To what is this loss of $12,000,000 to be charged? This government official answers: "Research."

"The government is making an annual investment of about $30,000,000, ostensibly to aid the aeronautical industry, but fundamentally to expand national prosperity and to insure national security," says the Postmaster-General, and then he adds:

"The government's ultimate objective is to develop a nation-wide network of passenger and express airlines, upon which the transportation of the mails will perhaps be only an incidental operation."

The expenditure of $30,000,000 a year is not much, if it results in the creation of a new major industry in the United States.

One airplane enthusiast predicts a million airplanes will fly the sky lanes by 1940. Too many? I should say the guess was too modest. Does a total of 2,000,000 airplanes look like an impossible number then?

Perhaps it does now—in ten years we may smile at our modest hopes.

When Secretary of Agriculture Hyde apportioned the additional $50,000,000 recently authorized by Congress for Federal aid highway building in the next fiscal year, he precipitated a new and vigorous expansion of road construction in the United States.

Texas leads in the Federal apportionment with $7,576,000; New York is second, with $6,009,000; Pennsylvania third, with $5,524,000, and Illinois fourth, with $5,167,000.

Other States which will receive $3,000,000 or more from the Federal government for the same purpose during the next fiscal year are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Kansas, Iowa, Indiana, Georgia and Ohio.

Billions of dollars have been spent since 1920 on roads in the United States—more than has been spent on all of the roads of Europe in the last fifty years—yet still more billion will be spent in the next ten years.

According to the United States Department of Commerce, the world has 6,582,000 miles of road of all kinds, of which 3,574,000 are in the United States.

DEMAND ON WOOL MART PICKING UP

Broadening of Activity Reported on Seaboard and in West

BOSTON, May 9. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

There is a broader movement in wool both at the seaboard markets and in the West. Demand, locally, is largely for the fine wools, with average to good French combing territory wools costing about 70-75 cents, and choice staple wools from 75 to 80 cents, clean basis, depending upon the lot.

Purchases in the West which now are becoming fairly general are being made substantially on the basis at which wool is selling in Boston. Directors of the Ohio cooperative have under consideration the question of withdrawal from the national wool marketing corporation.

The piecegoods markets are still more or less in the doldrums, although there has been latterly a better interest shown in fine-wooled goods.

Foreign markets are steady and are waiting for London, which will have a fairly large offering of 143,000 bales.

Mohair is slightly more active on the lower basis of prices. The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, to May 8, 1930, inclusive, were 48,223,000 pounds against 65,851,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to May 8, 1930, inclusive, were 71,652,500 pounds against 78,735,585 pounds for the same period last year.

(Exclusive) Cranby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Refining Company, Ltd., reported today March quarter net profits of $688,386, after charges, but before depreciation and depletion, equal to $1.53 a share on 450,000 capital shares, against $940,364, or $2.09 a share on the same share basis.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Prices Improve Fractionally on Local Board as Trading Activity Slackens

Many fluctuations marked operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as trading settled down to quiet levels with orders scarce. While prices were somewhat mixed at the close gains in price movements were held to fractions.

The oils as a group, excluding Standard of California, reflected a general strengthening tendency by moving fractionally upward. Rio Grande was relatively active and recorded an advance of 3-4 to 22 1-8. Richfield gained ½ to 23½ and Pacific Western, 1-4 to 16 3-4. Union Oil, however, recorded the transfer of a board lot only, the stock selling at 45½, off ½. This issue has played a prominent part in the activity of recent sessions.

Edison, after hitting 65, dropped back to close at 64½, off 1-8 net, while Pacific Lighting firmed up 1-4 to 95½. Western Air Express and Douglas Aircraft yielded ½ each to end at 39 and 19, respectively.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—The bond market moved slightly higher today under the leadership of the foreign issues and the domestic rails.

Several carrier liens registered the highest prices of the year as time money again eased. Another favorable credit development was a further reduction in the rates on longer terms bankers' acceptances. Share feature bonds, particularly the convertibles, strengthened under the influence of a stronger stock market.

The foreign list showed definite signs of pulling up from the base to which it had been anchored for several days. Many European loans duplicated the best activity of the week, on reports that the terms of the German annuities loan had been completed. The United States is expected to take about $80,000,000 of the $300,000,000 total, which will probably be offered at 98. The coupon rate, according to unofficial reports, is to be 5½ per cent.

Several of the high-grade rails moved up more than 1 point, and new highs were established in the secondary group. Prices of the most active rail bonds gained ⅛ and Oregon, Warren 4s, Southern Railway general 4s, Texas Pacific first 5s, and Wabash second 5s gained 1 to 2 points.

Northern States Power 5s advanced ⅞ to 102½, equaling the 1930 mark. Fluctuations in the industrial group ranged from 1 to 5 points. Havana Electric 5½s dropped 3 points to a new low at 51. Porto Rico American Tobacco 6s fell off 4 points and Wickwire 7s lost 5.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and last prices at which dealings were effected. To expedite transactions, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

DEDICATION OF HOSPITAL TOMORROW

New Cedars of Lebanon Structure Represents Investment of $1,650,000

Dedication ceremonies marking the opening of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital on Fountain avenue between Berendo and Catalina streets will be conducted tomorrow afternoon. The hospital, which was built to replace the Kaspare Cohn Hospital, represents an investment of $1,650,000 in land, buildings and equipment, and the funds to build it were raised by a special committee appointed by the Federation of Jewish Welfare Organizations. The chairman of this committee was J. Y. Baruh.

Ludwig Schiff will preside at the dedication. The presentation address will be made by I. Eisner and the response by Lemuel Goldwater, president of the hospital. Others who will participate are Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, William Lacy, president of the Community Chest; Dr. George Parrish, city health officer; Dr. D. W. Edelman, chief of the new hospital's medical staff; Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president of the Children's Hospital, and George Mosbacher, president of the Federation of Jewish Welfare Organizations.

This is the third general hospital erected by Jewish citizens of Los Angeles, the first having been opened in 1854.

Police Hunting Missing Youth

Police last night started search for Albert Emilio Kosterlitzky, 14 years of age, son of the late Gen. Emilio Kosterlitzky, former high official of the Mexican army and attache of the United States Department of Justice. The boy disappeared Wednesday last after leaving his home, 2170 East Thirty-first street, to go to school.

Ernest, an elder brother of the missing boy, is inclined to believe that young Kosterlitzky is merely imbued with temporary wanderlust and will return soon, but he appealed for aid because the mother of the boys is seriously ill. Her condition is not improving in the absence of her boy.

LAVINE JURORS STILL AT ODDS

Stand 11 to 1 in Each Case; Locked Up for Night

Foreman Sees No Chance for Extortion Case Verdict

Message from Talesman Produces Rebuke

Apparently hopelessly deadlocked at a vote of 11 to 1, the six women and six men deliberating on the fate of Morris Lavine and Miss Leontine Johnson, accused of a $75,000 extortion plot, were sent to their hotel last night, and will continue their discussions today.

For fifty-four hours the jury has held the guilt or innocence of the two, charged with muleting money from Charles Crawford, politician, on threats to expose secrets detrimental to his reputation and that of Kent Parrot, Jacob Friedlander, Abe Morris and others, in their hands.

Deliberations last night gave no indication that any agreement was near, and only a stony silence from the jury buzzer permeated the courtroom as the attaches awaited some word of a reached decision.

The continuation of the deliberations, ordered by Superior Judge Schauer, came after a day of sensations and surprises and followed the reading of two additional instructions to the jury after they were called upon by the court for a report as to progress toward a verdict.

No indication was given out as to the 11-to-1 vote being for acquittal or conviction, but it was made plain that the standing applied to both the defendants.

NO HOPE SEEN

Reading of the additional instructions was called for at the announced request of Foreman Renshaw, who informed Judge Schauer that he did not believe there was a possibility of reaching a verdict, and also that the voting had stood at 11 to 1 on each of the defendants since the early balloting of last Wednesday.

Early yesterday morning the entire jury was called to the jury box for admonishment as it became known that three messages sent out by a member of the body had been intercepted by officers.

The messages were described as attempts on the part of a juror to receive outside assistance in reaching a verdict, and were believed based on a religious belief.

Closest secrecy surrounded the three messages, and while they were in the possession of the court just prior to the admonishment they were ordered under lock and key, and their contents were not revealed.

JUDGE'S REBUKE

"It has come to the attention of the court," said Judge Schauer as he started his rebuke, "that an attempt has been made by a juror to obtain some outside assistance toward reaching a verdict. Fortunately that attempt has been rendered futile—the messages attempted to be sent out are in the possession of the court.

"It is the duty of jurors to decide the issues upon the evidence introduced before them in the trial and subject to the instructions of law given by the court. Such decision must be made through rational consideration of the evidence.

"You must use your intelligence and reasoning powers; you must not seek the aid of mental telepathy or thought transmission, or resort in any way or to any extent whatsoever to any outside influences.

"Any procedure or an attempt at any procedure other than a decision upon the evidence arrived at through rational reasoning would be a direct violation of your oaths.

"All of the instructions of law should be considered and construed together in order to apply correctly the law to the facts as you find them."

BELIEVED TO BE WOMAN

Consistent reports that the juror in question is a woman were heard around the courtroom after the admonishment, and it was also understood that she had made her attempts to gain outside aid with a belief that she was not violating her oath. Unconfirmed rumor has it that the woman gave her messages to one of the guards, under whose supervision they have been since the trial began, and made no attempt to keep her actions secret.

The attempt and the intent of the messages, according to the attorneys, was not sufficient to bring about a mistrial.

Following the court's admonishment the jurors retired and continued their deliberations until late in the afternoon when they were again returned to the courtroom and interrogated as to the probability of reaching verdicts.

With the foreman standing, hold-

Hands That Rule World Guide Planes

SMUGGLING PLOT TRIAL UNDER WAY

Airplane Owner and Two Others Accused of Scheme to Bring in Chinese

Accused of conspiracy to smuggle nine alien Chinese into the United States from Mexico, George E. Flaherty, owner of a $35,000 airplane, John Frank Smith and Eddie Collins went on trial yesterday before a jury in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court.

Testimony was introduced to show that Flaherty was owner of a plane which the government asserts was to be used to transport the Chinese from Mexico to the United States. George Gray and Harold Sweet, plane pilots, testified they were employed to handle the plane but finding landing had returned to an airport near El Centro.

It was stipulated by Attorney S. S. Hahn, for Flaherty, that the plane was owned by Flaherty. Attorney Stanley Visel objected to the testimony of Sweet with regard to Smith on the ground that he was not present at any conversations regarding asserted plans to smuggle the Chinese into this country. The case will be resumed today.

BURIAL OF MRS. IVERS CONDUCTED

Film Author, Producer and Director Dies After Illness of Years

The last rites for Mrs. Julia Crawford Ivers, motion-picture director, producer and writer, who succumbed Wednesday night after a long illness, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Grace Chapel, Inglewood Park Cemetery. Services were under the direction of W. A. Brown.

Mrs. Ivers was especially active in motion-picture production work until she was forced through illness into retirement nearly eight years ago. Her last picture was a Honolulu production, "The White Flower," which she wrote and produced.

The daughter of the late Dr. James Crawford, well known for many years as a dental surgeon, Mrs. Ivers spent most of her life here.

Mrs. Ivers left an estate worth $10,000, according to the terms of her will filed for probate yesterday. The will, which was holographic and only fifty words long, left the decedent's property to her son, James Crawford Van Trees, 158 South Hoover street. It was executed July 1, 1927, and was filed by Attorney Arthur C. Webb for the estate.

IMPROVEMENTS ORDERED

The ordinance of intention for the improvement of streets in the La Cienega Boulevard and Adams street district was adopted yesterday by the City Council and set for hearing June 23. The final ordinances for the improvement of the Main street and Ninetieth street district and for the improvement of the Gravios avenue and Levanda avenue district also were adopted.

"Raining Daffodils"
Margaret Perry, only woman in the Southland to own and operate an airport, receives a bouquet of flowers from the air by parachute at opening ceremonies.

FEMININE hands took over the controls—at least in numbers—from men pilots during an airthriller program yesterday afternoon at the opening of the airdrome which is expected to become the center for women's flying activities in the Southland, the Culver City Airport in Culver City.

It was primarily a celebration for women pilots, from the time twenty-two of them swept down from nearby Clover Field, flying their own planes, until 18-year-old Edith Hall leaped from a ship at 5000 feet to furnish one of the parachute thrills that closed the inauguration.

And to complete the picture, Margaret Perry, new owner of the Culver City field, the only woman in Southern California to own and operate an airport, had charge of the program and saw that all the stunts were carried out as scheduled.

Men flyers, however, added a punch to the events, which attracted a crowd of approximately 5000 persons, when six Army flyers demonstrated formation flying; Capt. C. L. Hussey came down in a tail-spin from 16,000 feet, partly out of control after freezing his fingers; Col. Art Goebel turned his sport plane topsy-turvy in a half-hour of flying every way but on the level.

The Army ships, attached to the Air Reserve at Long Beach, piloted by Capt. Hussey, Capt. C. V. Ewan and Lieuts. R. H. Nokken, W. R. Sweeley, Avery Black and R. H. Hoyt, raised the curtain for the air show with a formation flight and landing.

Nearly 1000 ships landed at the port, all types of planes from practically every airport and flying school in the local area.

Women pilots at the field, several of whom hold or formerly held various records in the air, included besides Miss Perry, Bobby Trout, Marjorie Ludlow, Peggy Gilliland, Ethel Richardson, Ruth Alexander, Helen Beck, Eileen Curley, Marjorie Crawford, Melba Gorby, Aline Miller, Peggy Paxson, Mary Billie Quinn, Vera Dawn Walker, Patty Willis, Helen Simpson, Lucille Wallingford and Eunice Sargent.

Five girls flew over in formation from the Standard Flying School. They were Edith Bond, Felice Farrow, Lindsay Holladay, Elizabeth Kelly and Katherine Truett.

HARTNETTS TO MEET

The tenth annual picnic-reunion of members of the Hartnett family in Southern California will be held tomorrow at the Griffith Park Playground. About 450 persons are expected to be present. All members of the Hartnett family are direct descendants of John Hartnett of Ireland. They organized themselves into an informal group in 1920. Two weeks ago they formed the Hartnett Family Association, electing Dr. Angus McDonald president and Edward L. Leahy secretary.

OPERATORS ACT TO HOLD OIL PRICES

Curtailment Co-operation Sought as Warning Over Impending Drop Sounds

In an effort to prevent what is characterised as an impending cut in the price of crude oil, leaders in the California oil industry are making desperate efforts to obtain the immediate co-operation of thirty or more Long Beach oil operators in a plan to curtail production for another sixty days.

The declaration was made frankly yesterday by several speakers at a mass meeting in the Long Beach City Hall that unless the "outs" come into the fold and do their share in the curtailment program before the 15th inst. there is strong probability that the price of Signal Hill crude will tumble to 50 cents a barrel.

A. T. Jergins, head of Jergins Trust and principal operator on Long Beach municipal oil property, together with Neil H. Anderson, Signal Hill oil umpire, and other veteran oil operators, pleaded that the curtailment program be made 100 per cent effective without further delay.

The names of thirty operators, all asserted to have refused to sign the co-operative agreement, were disclosed at the session. They were given an opportunity to sign at the close of the meeting, and the other outsiders will be personally interviewed at once in an effort to obtain their signatures to the agreement.

Hooper C. Dumbar, who succeeded Herbert R. Macmillan as chairman of the Santa Fe Springs operators' committee, told the Signal Hill operators that the deadline for his field is Monday. It was announced that the State-wide general committee will meet in Los Angeles on next Wednesday, at which time some definite action on curtailment is expected.

According to Neil Anderson, the Signal Hill operators who have failed to sign the co-operative agreement control a daily output of 31,000 barrels of oil, nearly half of which is allowable production. The entire field now is producing less than 99,000 barrels a day, which, in itself, is considered remarkable. The overproduction being amassed daily was asserted to be taken care of by a half-dozen larger operators, one being the A. T. Jergins Trust, through pinching back their production.

VETERANS IN TUBERCULAR HOME DRIVE

Sum of $1,000,000 Will Be Raised for Institution in Phoenix, Ariz.

Los Angeles ex-service men and disabled veterans in theaters, motion-picture houses, studios, wrestling matches and such places are now engaged in a campaign selling tickets for the Frank Luke, Jr., Memorial Association of Phoenix, Ariz., a $1,000,000 home and tubercular hospital for ex-service men.

The campaign will be carried on here for the next month under the direction of Charles A. Abrams, or subscriptions may be mailed directly to the association with headquarters in the First National Bank Building in Phoenix.

A block in Phoenix, valued at $75,000, has already been given for the location of the building, and plans for a reinforced concrete Class A structure are completed. The home will accommodate about 7500 men. Walter S. Beavers of Phoenix is president of the association, A. T. Hagen, also of Phoenix, secretary-treasurer, and the project is backed by the Legionnaires of that city and other cities of the country.

Frank Luke, Jr., was a Phoenix boy who, with a record of bringing down five German planes and fourteen observation balloons, finally was forced down one day and, refusing to surrender, killed six of the enemy with his revolver before he was killed by machine-gun fire.

HEARING CONTINUED

The City Council yesterday continued until June 12 the hearing of protests against the improvement of Curson avenue from Melrose avenue to Beverly Boulevard.

NEW YEAR GAME MAY BE NULLED

Rose Tournament Directors in Ultimatum

Demand City Rebuild Bowl to Insure Safety

Board Members Decline to be Responsible

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 9.—There may be no East vs. West football classic here on New Year's Day unless the Board of City Directors proceeds immediately with its announced plan of replacing the wooden seats and underpinning in the Rose Bowl with concrete construction, it was learned today from directors of the Tournament of Roses Association.

As a result of a rift between the tournament and city officials, at least two members of the tournament board asserted they will resign in the event that the city board turns a deaf ear to their demand that reconstruction of the bowl be rushed ahead of the civic auditorium project.

The city board had announced that it was prepared to loan $170,000 to the Tournament of Roses Association to reconstruct the bowl and 30,000 sacks of cement had been purchased, when, at a stormy secret session of the city officials Monday, the City Planning Commission is asserted to have urged that merely temporary repairs be made to the bowl in order to conserve all city funds for the $1,200,000 auditorium project.

EMERGENCY MEETING

Announcement that four of the seven City Directors were in favor of abandoning reconstruction of the bowl resulted in a hurried call for an emergency meeting of the tournament body tonight.

At this meeting, the directors ordered a letter directed to the Board of City Directors demanding that the city proceed with improvement of the bowl as had been planned.

A partial canvass of the tournament directors revealed this afternoon that the directors feel that there is some question as to whether or not the wooden seats and underpinning of the bowl can be patched up to withstand a capacity crowd of 70,000 spectators at the 1931 football game.

As one tournament director expressed it, "We learned our lesson when eighty persons injured in the crash of a parade reviewing stand in 1926 brought damage suits against us totaling $2,000,000, and we are not going to run the slightest hazard of having our personal recourse jeopardized again."

FEAR OF PANIC

Much of the flooring of the bowl is known to have been constructed with lumber ripped off the old frame grandstand at Tournament Park.

In view of the fact that no seat in the Rose Bowl is more than seven feet from the earthen foundation, local building inspectors assert that their fear is not that any spectator could be injured by falling, but that the sound of a cracking timber possibly might result in a panic.

Walter Putnam, head of the city building department, reported to the Board of Directors that, although he feels certain that the bowl would safely withstand a capacity crowd tomorrow, that without $5000 in repairs, he could not guarantee that it would pass a rigid inspection next January.

"I believe that the sanest and most economical answer to the bowl problem is to construct the bowl of concrete instead of continuing the patching process indefinitely," Putnam asserted.

DIRECTORS LIABLE

City Director Irving S. Monroe, one of three of the seven directors who favor immediate reconstruction of the bowl, declared tonight that he is "very much surprised that the issue was raised in view of the fact that I thought we had decided to go ahead."

"In case of an accident in the bowl," he asserted, "each city and tournament director would be liable, so I shouldn't blame anyone for resigning if the project is abandoned."

A tournament director, who asked that his name be withheld, voiced the opinion that "unless the city board grants our request for reconstruction of the bowl, I favor calling off the 1931 game, and that means calling off the Tournament of Roses Parade which is financed largely by the East vs. West classic."

It is the consensus of the Tournament of Roses Association directors interviewed on the subject today that because the tournament association has deeded property to the city valued at $1,200,000 during recent years, has

by Harry Carr

I GET a great kick out of the Americans in Mexico.

They have so much mysterious information.

They take you off to a corner of the hotel bar and give the real low-down on Mexican politics. The only slight difficulty with their information is that no two of them agree on any point.

SLICKERS

Some of the hotel lobbies down here are a study. They make me think of Holland during the World War—slickers, agents for corporations that nobody ever heard of, gents with "projects"—punk politicians, generals of various nationalities with no visible armies . . . They whisper mysteriously in the corners and the whispers grow in mystery with the count of cocktails.

MY INFLUENTIAL FRIEND

An astute gentleman who assured me that he held the journalistic world of Mexico in the hollow of his hand beckoned me into a corner of the hotel lobby this morning. He showed me a slip of paper on which he had written these words:

"Will you lend me ten pesos?"

I beckoned him over to another corner of the lobby in which there was a desk. I got a pen and ink and on the bottom of his slip of paper I wrote him an answering note which I handed him. My note was brief:

"No."

One of the treasured relics of my family is a Scotch plaid.

MOVIE FANS

One thing that has surprised me very much is the attitude of the Mexican movie fans.

They do not seem to be much interested in their own stars like Lupe Veles, Dolores Del Rio or even Ramon Novarro. They pin their devotion to Greta Garbo.

SOCIAL LIFE

There is very little mixing of nationalities down here. The French, Germans, English and Americans have their own groups and keep pretty well separated. The English and Americans mix socially more than any of the others.

International marriages present an interesting study.

INTERNATIONAL MARRIAGES

Many American boys have married into Mexican families. In such cases the boy usually moves into a Mexican social group rather than taking his wife into the American social circles.

Such marriages seem almost universally successful. Mexican girls are very adaptable. Marriages between Germans and Mexican girls are encouraged in every way. Germans always emigrate with the definite intention of outwardly taking on the life of the new land—however they remain in their secret hearts. The average young German comes over here with the deliberate intention of marrying a Mexican girl. These marriages, too, are usually happy.

Pioneer Civil Engineer Dies

Death took one of Los Angeles' pioneers when it overtook F. Friel at his home at 1051 Isabel street Thursday night.

Mr. Friel was 79 years of age, and had lived in Los Angeles since 1883. He was a civil and hydraulic engineer and had a record as the oldest engineer in point of service in California.

He was appointed United States Mineral Surveyor through Senator White, an office he held for many years.

JULIAN TRIALS ON MONDAY

Lewis Juror-Bribery Charge Set for Hearing While Usury Defendants Will Face Court

Activity on the part of the District Attorney's office in the Julian investigation yesterday centered in preparations for two cases scheduled to go on trial next Monday morning.

Perhaps the most colorful trial of the two will be that of S. C. Lewis, president of the defunct Julian Petroleum Corporation, charged with attempting to bribe a woman juror who was a member of the panel that heard the first stock-overissue trial in 1928, when all of the defendants were acquitted.

It was learned yesterday that Lewis had issued subpoenas naming the following as defense witnesses: Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Attorneys Walter K. Tuller and Hubert Morrow; H. B. Chesshire, S. H. Ellis and H. J. Barneson, stock brokers; Edward Loeb, once chairman of a stockholders' committee, and B. M. Strickland, former employee of the Julian company.

Lewis made no comment on what testimony he expects to draw from any of the witnesses subpoenaed, but reiterated former assertions that he "expects to beat the case."

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Jones and Costello, preparing the prosecution, said their main witnesses will be Mrs. Caroline Love, the woman juror whom Lewis is asserted to have tried to bribe; Mrs. Minnie Belle Woodley, Mrs. Love's sister; J. H. Weaver, so-called go-between, and Leontine Johnson, once secretary to Lewis.

Lewis's trial is scheduled to com-

LEWIS GOUGH ELECTED TROJAN STUDENT CHIEF

Leading his closest opponent by 123 votes, Lewis Gough was chosen the president of the Trojan student administration for 1930-31 in the annual all-university elections held yesterday.

With the casting of approximately 3000 votes by University of California students, yesterday's election drew out more student voters than any balloting in several years, it is stated.

Polling 1601 votes against the 1376 of Betty Henninger, Miss Janet McCoy, Pi Beta Phi co-ed, was elected official hostess of U.S.C. by winning the vice-presidency. During the past college year Miss McCoy served as secretary of the student body. Miss Winnifred Biegler, Delta Zeta Sorority and recent winner of a Phi Beta Kappa Key, defeated Hazel Redfield in the contest for secretary's post by polling 1971 votes against her rival's 979. Fillmore Margin was unopposed for the office of yell leader.

WRONG PAYEE TO DISGORGE

Court Orders Receiver of Erroneous Payment from City to Restore Sum Retained by Him

If the Los Angeles Bureau of Assessments in a condemnation proceeding pays by mistake an award to a property owner which had actually been allowed to the lessee, the owner cannot keep the money, the city being entitled to recover it, according to an opinion of Superior Judge Yankwich, who yesterday gave a judgment in favor of the city against Louis G. Blondeau, R. H. Marshall and others in the sum of $6000.

The case arose out of the proceedings in the Hollywood five-finger plan. By an interlocutory decree entered November 28, 1928, by Superior Judge Shaw a total award of $70,000 was made to Blondeau for property located at Cahuenga and Hollywood Boulevard. Of the sum $6000 was ordered paid to the Louis K. Liggett Company. Marshall had had a lease on a portion of the premises. No award was made to him because his lease expired before the case was finished.

By mistake, the printed copy of the findings $6000 was put against Marshall's name. The mistake was discovered after the findings were filed by the City Attorney's office. Judge Shaw's attention was called to the error.

When the error was discovered the city demanded the return of the money. Blondeau refused to pay it back and action was begun.

Blondeau contended at the trial that he was misled by the error in the findings which had been served on him; that had he known that

DENNISON TO BE BURIED TODAY

Prosecutor's Associates Will Act as Pallbearers

Anonymous Poem Pasted on Door of His Office

Masons Will Conduct Last Rites for Prosecutor

At 2:30 p.m. today friends and relatives of Edward J. Dennison, veteran deputy District Attorney who died from a sudden heart attack early Thursday morning, will gather at the Cresse Funeral Chapel, 3860 Pasadena avenue, to pay their last respects. Rev. G. A. Briegleb will officiate at the services.

After the brief services, close friends of the prosecutor, selected from the staff of deputy District Attorneys, will bear the casket to the hearse and accompany it to Forest Lawn Memorial Park where interment will be made.

PALL-BEARERS NAMED

Those who were named as pallbearers are: Daniel Beecher, chief trial deputy; Bonner Richardson, Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorneys; Blayney Mathews, chief of the bureau of investigation, and Tom Cavett and James Smith, investigators.

And yesterday while scores of wreaths and sprays of flowers were arriving at the funeral chapel in remembrance of Mr. Dennison, an anonymous person pasted upon the door of his office a short poem in his memory.

The poem reads:

"Heart of gold—free from toil and worry; stilled by your last hard task, rest in peace out yonder in a land of peace at last.

"Heart of gold—God never made one sweeter, more brave, more kind, more fair; take this last thought with you: Some day we'll meet you there."

MANY READ VERSES

No one knows who wrote the verses or who pasted them upon the door. But yesterday afternoon everyone who knew him stopped to read, wiped away a furtive tear and passed on.

The last rites will be performed by officers of the Highland Park Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, of which he was a member. This ceremony will be at the grave side in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Dennison was stricken at his home, 356 Thorne street, early Thursday morning a few hours after he had delivered the closing argument at the trial of Morris Lavine, newspaper man and Leontine Johnson, accused of extorting $75,000 from Charles H. Crawford.

DEATH SWIFT

Although he had confided to close friends that he was tired and felt that he was at "the end of the trail," Mr. Dennison said nothing to his wife, Mrs. Grace Dennison, of his premonition of death. When the attack came it was impossible to obtain medical attention before he had died.

When Dr. F. J. Gaspard, the family physician, arrived he declared that Mr. Dennison's death was caused directly by overwork. He attended the late prosecutor last October when he suffered a nervous breakdown and warned him against continuing his arduous duties.

While the last rites are being read, A. B. Wiser, a representative of the United States Treasury Department, will fly over the cemetery in an airplane dropping wreaths of roses upon the grave.

Respect to the memory of the dead prosecutor was paid late yesterday in the Court of Superior Judge Schauer, when the jurist delivered a verbal order from the bench in recognition of his passing.

JUDGE VOICES TRIBUTE

The spectators, courtroom attaches and officers stood with bowed heads as Judge Schauer standing gave the following tribute:

"This court will take official cognisance of the passing of Mr. Ed J. Dennison, a veteran deputy District Attorney of the county of Los Angeles.

"It was in the conduct of this case that Mr. Dennison gave his very life's blood. He had been a faithful servant of this commonwealth for many years.

"Mr. Dennison was universally beloved by all who knew him.

"It is a most difficult task for any man to be a prosecutor and still to be a friendly man, a kindly man; yet the soul and heart of Ed Dennison stood out in every bit of work that this court ever saw him perform. No matter what the severity of his task was, he performed it conscientiously to the best of his ability.

"The court feels that it, as well as all the others, has lost a friend.

"The court now adjourns in respect to the memory of Mr. Ed J. Dennison."

Japanese Envoy Goes Northward on Coast Tour

After three busy days in Los Angeles visiting with his countrymen and making acquaintance of prominent citizens, Japanese Ambassador Katsuji Debuchi and Mme. Debuchi left here yesterday morning for San Francisco, the next city in their tour of inspection of the west coast.

Under the guidance of Consul Toshito Satow, the Ambassador put in his time to good advantage on his first visit to this part of the country and in addition to a number of conferences with Japanese business men and members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce he also succeeded in seeing something of the city and its points of interest. After several days in San Francisco Ambassador Debuchi will go to Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C.

COURT RECEIVES BEAR FLAG

Native Sons Give Emblem to Judge

Banner Presented by Ramona Parlor

Judge Schauer receives banner of California Republic from Edwin Meserve.

CARRYING out a campaign intended to place the California Bear Flag in every courtroom in the State, officers of Ramona Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, yesterday morning presented B. Rey Schauer, judge in Department Twenty-three of Superior Court, with a large silken emblem of this design.

At the presentation ceremony it was announced that Native Sons throughout the State are fostering legislation which will require the presence of the Bear Flag, once a symbol of the California Republic, in every courtroom in the State.

The presentation was made to Judge Schauer, who at present is head of Ramona Parlor, N.S.G.W., by Edwin Meserve, attorney.

M'ADOO SEES WATER NEED

Former Cabinet Officer Urges Citizens to Vote for $38,800,000 Issue of Bonds

Declaring Los Angeles' present water supply is insufficient to care for the people's immediate needs and drawing attention to the fact that all charges, principal and interest, on the water bonds are paid from earnings of the water system and not from taxes, William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury and for several years a resident and property owner in Los Angeles, yesterday urged approval of the $38,800,000 water issue as the only means of preventing a serious water shortage.

"Los Angeles must wake up to the fact that an increase in its water supply is absolutely vital to health and prosperity, as well as to the continued development," said Mr. McAdoo.

"The present water supply is insufficient to take care of the future. It would be a calamity if we should fail to authorise the expenditure of the money necessary to increase the water supply. If the voters fail to approve the $38,800,000 of water bonds they will not only say to the world that Los Angeles has decided to limit its growth, but they will depreciate the value of all property within the city limits and imperil the health of future generations. We must do our obvious duty.

"The additional bonds will not, I am assured, impose a new burden in the way of taxation.

"The future of Los Angeles is at stake. The voters must back Mayor Porter in his efforts to assure the future growth and prosperity of the city."

Civic organizations and citizens yesterday added their indorsements to the hundreds already received by the Citizens' Water Bond Committee. Among the organizations were the following:

Co-operative Apartment and Hotel Association, Chamber of Commerce of San Pedro, Hollywood Business Men's Club, West Adams Chamber of Commerce, the Woman's Guild of St. Barnabas Church, Los Angeles Ministers' Association, Manchester Baptist Church, Chesterfield Square Brotherhood, Hustlers' Class, Hollywood Methodist Episcopal Church, South; Woman's Guild of St. Luke's Church, Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, North Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, University of Wisconsin Alumni of Southern California, Co-operative Business Men's Association, Apartment-house Association of Los Angeles County, Inc., West Los Angeles Lions' Club, Incorporated Voters' League, and Retail Shoe Dealers' Association of Los Angeles.

Citizens who yesterday indorsed the water bonds include: Dain Sturges, vice-president of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank; I. Eisner, president, Sun Realty Company; Carl L. Scholesmann, president German American Savings Bank; O. E. Nagel, president Silverwoods; G. W. Van Brunt, president Pacific States Savings and Loan Company; J. B. Webber, president National Title Insurance Company; J. Miller, Miller Desk and Safe Company; Stanley Buzan, Angelus Hotel.

LEAGUE INDORSES WATER BOND ISSUE

A large vote in behalf of the $38,800,000 water bond issue to be voted on at the election on the 20th inst. is urged in a resolution passed unanimously by the executive committee of the Los Angeles Fire and Police Protective League yesterday.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS VOTES APPROVAL OF BONDS

Approval of the $38,800,000 bond issue to be voted on the 20th inst. and recommendation to the seventy-three members of the institution that they support the proposed bond issue have been given in a resolution adopted by the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

PAY-ROLL ECONOMIES OVER-RULED

Mayor Porter Announces City Engineer to Retain Surplus Employees

The proposed retrenchment in the City Engineer's office, planned to take effect with the new fiscal year July 1, was retracted all along the line yesterday, with Mayor Porter stating that no employees will be dropped and that some means will be found to pay them.

This action, following hastily upon publication of the plan to eliminate eighty-one unfilled jobs, ninety-one filled jobs and to reduce to half-time of 156 additional jobs, mystified the City Hall.

Thursday the Board of Public Works notified the City Council of the eliminations and reductions. Yesterday the board withdrew its former action.

While this plan, according to the most authoritative sources, arose from budget conferences between Mayor Porter, Budget Director Knox and members of the board, Mayor Porter yesterday professed ignorance of the matter.

President McGuire of the board yesterday said the board will co-operate in saving money and that no additional men will be put to work. Also, he said, when a position is vacated it will be left unfilled. Men will be shifted to the street maintenance division to keep pavements in repair.

Due to an impending $638,000 deficit for this fiscal year and a loss of income amounting to $600,000 for the coming fiscal year, rigid economy is being practiced in making up the budget.

Purviance Gems Not Found Here

Local detectives made a fruitless search of the baggage and effects of two passengers on the steamship City of Honolulu yesterday upon its arrival from Honolulu. The search was made in response to a message from Sheriff Gleason of Honolulu, who wired that he suspected two passengers, a man and a woman, might know something of the disposition of jewels said to be worth $30,000 which were stolen from the Honolulu home of Edna Purviance, screen actress.

No jewels were found and the man and woman were not held.

VETERANS TO ATTEND SESSION AT FRESNO

Several thousand delegates will leave here tomorrow morning to attend the twenty-third annual convention of the United Spanish War Veterans in Fresno, which will convene there from Sunday to Wednesday. Mrs. Della Jones, president of the Los Angeles Auxiliary and president of the auxiliary of the Military Order of the Serpents, will leave on a T.A.T.-Maddux plane at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow. More than 100 members of the two organizations will attend the meeting.

LAST RITES CONDUCTED FOR TULLY

Four Hundred Present at Editor's Obsequies; Masons Pay Tribute

More than 400 friends, brother Masons, Shriners and Scots gathered in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 929 South Hope street yesterday afternoon to pay their last solemn tribute to A. Y. Tully, managing editor of the Evening Express, who died Wednesday.

After a brief address by Dr. Edward D. Gaylord, pastor of the Congregational Church of the Messiah, the Arlington Lodge of Masons took charge of the ceremony and, under the leadership of Worshipful Master A. C. Ayres, the full funeral ritual was given.

Following the services at the cathedral, the body was taken to Rosedale Cemetery, where it was cremated. Only the family and a few close friends accompanied it there. The floral tributes, which filled the cathedral, after the ceremony were sent to the General Hospital for distribution in the various wards.

Mr. Tully died at the family home, 1908 South Van Ness avenue, about 7 a.m. on Wednesday, just as he was ready to leave for his office. He was stricken suddenly with heart cramps and the end came before aid reached him.

LAVINE JURORS STILL AT ODDS

ing in his hands the sheaf of instructions and a memorandum on the ballots and their standing, Judge Schauer began his questioning.

RENSHAW QUIZZED

"Have you reached a verdict as to either defendant?" the court inquired, and the answer came: "We have not, your honor."

"How do you stand as to the defendant Lavine?"

"Eleven to 1, your honor."

"How do you stand as to the defendant Johnson?"

"Eleven to 1, your honor."

"How long, or on how many ballots have you stood 11 to 1?"

Practically the entire time. Almost from the very first. The vote has been the same, 11 to 1, on all permanent ballots, but was not that on a temporary one which has been discarded."

"Do you think there is any possibility of reaching a verdict."

"I regret to say there is not—I don't believe there is, your honor."

Foreman Renshaw then outlined that the deadlock seemed to exist over a difference of opinion as to the interpretation of some of the instructions. He said that a clearer definition of what constitutes an overt act, threat and an attempt to extort might be of assistance in the deliberations. He also asked for further advice on the rights of jurors to discuss the case while in the jury room, and the connection a "frame-up" would have on the attempt to commit extortion.

Following an hour's consultation between the opposing attorneys and Judge Schauer, the jury was again called and the requested instructions were given.

In addition the court read again an original instruction covering the law relative to discussion of the evidence in the jury room, in which it was pointed out that "each juror should freely and fairly discuss the evidence" in arriving at the verdict.

JULIAN TRIALS BEGIN MONDAY

mence at 10 a.m. Monday in Superior Judge Wilson's court and the prosecution announced yesterday that it is ready for trial. Whether Lewis will make a move to gain more time could not be learned. He was brought back from McNeil Island prison against his will to stand trial and has been preparing his case while under guard of two officers from the prison.

USURY TRIAL SCHEDULED

The second trial scheduled for Monday is that of fourteen defendants indicted for conspiracy to commit usury. The case will be heard by Superior Judge Aggeler, without a jury. It is expected the trial will require two or three weeks. Argument on technical legal questions is expected to consume a large part of the time.

It was announced at the District Attorney's office yesterday that a letter had been dispatched to Atty.-Gen. Mitchell at Washington asking his consent to return Jacob Berman here from McNeil Island penitentiary for prosecution in two cases and as a State's witness in numerous others. The letter follows the announcement made Thursday that Berman had informed the District Attorney that he is willing to come back.

Col. Turner's Dash Delayed

Next Monday is the tentative time set last night by Lieut.-Col. Roscoe Turner for his air dash from here to New York, on which he expects to break the coast-to-coast record held by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Turner, with his Lockheed monoplane, the Gilmore Lion, ready to take to the air, was disappointed in not being able to take off on schedule at 1 a.m. today, but adverse weather conditions on the Great Circle course made it impracticable to start.

INVENTOR ACCUSED IN GRAND THEFT CASE

Carl Jaeger, Duarte inventor, is charged with grand theft of $500 in a complaint issued yesterday by J. Thomas Russell, deputy District Attorney.

The complaint accuses Jaeger of obtaining $500 from Thomas Mackin, Duarte postmaster, as an investment in his inventions of a television apparatus and a "Magicke ice box." Both of these inventions were worthless, according to Russell.

Four Residences Entered By Squads of Police

Five Persons Accused in Wright Act Case

Many Quarts of Beer Seized By Vice Divisions

Suddenly and with no announced explanation other than that they were "acting on information given them as a matter of course," members of the various police vice divisions raided four residences early yesterday morning and arrested five citizens for possession of home brew beer. Police records disclose that during recent months few home-brew brewers have been disturbed.

The first of the series of raids yesterday was made at 3107½ Venice Boulevard, where Chief Steckel's special liquor squad under command of Detective Lieutenant Sears reported finding 133 quarts of beer. Keith F. Heiner, 24 years of age, was arrested.

At 1120 Sanborn avenue Sylvester C. Gee, 42, was taken into custody and twenty-four quarts of the beverage confiscated.

Breaking into a house at 212 West Sixty-seventh street, members of the Seventy-seventh division vice squad reported finding Ronald Bate, 21, and Dayton D. Smith, 31, transferring ninety-six quarts of beer from cartons to an ice box.

Central vice squad officers at about the same time raided a house at 710 Franklin Place, where Victo L. McMurren, 34, was arrested and thirty-seven quarts of beer taken as evidence, according to another report. Earthen jars, syphons, bottle caps and other paraphernalia such as were affected by a recent United States Supreme Court decision were also confiscated. All those arrested are held for violation of the Wright Act.

CASH GIFTS TO 'SWAMI' DESCRIBED

Raw Begged About $40 from Him, Says Witness; Mary Pickford on Stand

Bantapps Raw, self-styled "Swami" accused of grand theft of $4800 from Mrs. Adele Allerhand, had so little money when he reached Los Angeles two years ago that he "panhandled" money for food in Westlake Park, Henry I. Smith, retired Sydney, Australia, merchant, declared yesterday in Municipal Judge Turney's court. Smith said he gave Raw 50 cents for food the first time he met him and that later contributions totaled about $40, which the "Swami" said was needed before he got a job with Roscoe Arbuckle. Smith has been unable to collect the money loaned Raw, he said.

Mary Pickford, film actress, took the witness stand at the opening of the afternoon session. Her testimony, after giving her name and address, was confined to negative answers to four questions. She said she does not know Raw, has never known him, did not give him a $10,000 Liberty bond, as Mrs. Allerhand testified he said she did, and she has never had any dealings of any sort with him. She was not cross-examined.

Mrs. Allerhand, called as his main witness by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland, declared that she gave Raw approximately $4600 in different amounts on five occasions between March 8 and 17, last. She expected to marry him at the time, she said. Police Officer Sanford said Raw's bank balance was about $3000 at the time of his arrest.

The hearing will be resumed at 10 a.m. today.

Truck Driver, Hurt in Crash, May Not Live

In a freak traffic accident involving three automobile trucks the collision at Eighth and Alameda streets yesterday morning Willard Andre, 23 years of age, of 1921 West Two Hundred and Twenty-second street, Torrance, driver of one of the trucks, was probably fatally injured.

He was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a possible skull fracture and later sent to the Angelus Hospital.

According to police, a truck and trailer loaded with pipe and driven by Richard Johnson, 27, of Long Beach, struck a smaller truck driven by Clarence Hatcher of 709 East Fifty-fourth street, and then careomed into Andre's truck. Neither Johnson nor Hatcher was reported injured.

Struck by a hit-and-run driver as he was crossing Broadway at Thirty-seventh street, Herman Akers, 48, of 1196½ West Thirty-fifth street, sustained injuries which may prove fatal. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where it was found that he had received three fractured ribs, a punctured lung and other internal injuries. He was then removed to the General Hospital.

POLICE ARREST TRIO FOR AUTO THEFT QUIZ

When Officers Lagerquist and Gilmore observed an automobile being driven in an erratic manner at Hoover and Twenty-Third streets early yesterday morning, they stopped it and arrested its three occupants on suspicion of being drunk in an automobile. As the men could not give a convincing explanation of the ownership of the car they were also booked on suspicion of grand theft. They gave their names as George Anderson, 35 years of age; James Boomer, 29, and Ed Cameron, 37. The first two have no home address while Cameron said he lives at 7211 Santa Monica Boulevard.

BEACHCOMBER LIFE NOT TO HER LIKING

Gladys McConnell

Baka Wilson, film prodncer of 1906 South Vermont avenue, did not pay them four weeks' salary due them and abandoned them in Hawaii after taking them there to make a picture, Gladys McConnell, 23-year-old actress of 3242 Oakshire Drive, and Hugh Allen, actor of 428 North Larchmont Boulevard, testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Wood's court, where Wilson is on trial on charges of violating the State labor laws.

Wilson declared that he was acting as agent for a Hawaiian film producing company and as such is not responsible for the actors' salaries. The case, unfinished yesterday, will be resumed Monday morning.

REGISTERING QUESTION TO BE VOTED ON

Petition for Referendum on Election Law Change Has Sufficient Signers

A vote on the question of permitting citizens to register permanently was assured yesterday when Registrar of Voters Kerr forwarded to the Secretary of State a petition carrying approximately 12,000 more names than required to place an issue before the people. The matter will be determined at the general election November 4, next, he said.

Kerr stated that 104,000 voters have signed the petition, which has been circulated throughout the county during the last few months. Under present statutes it is necessary for permanent residents to register every two years in order to vote. Passage of the issue at the forthcoming election will require registration only in the event of change of address.

CITY RECOVERS AWARD IN ERROR

the award had been made to the Liggett company he would not have accepted it but appealed it. Because of this and because the city knew for many months that the error existed in the original findings and the correction had not been called to the attention of the assessment bureau, he asked that he be allowed to retain the $6000 as damages suffered through the city's delay.

Marshall's attorney stated in court that his client felt he was not entitled to the money, that there had been clearly a mistake and that he willingly surrendered the award to Blondeau.

The city was represented at the hearing by Sam H. Irwin, deputy City Attorney. Marshall was represented by Attorney Howard Henshey and Blondeau by Attorney Herbert Cutler Brown.

EAGAN CHOSEN

In announcing Eagan's appointment to the Municipal Court, Gov. Young said that a large number of possible appointees had been suggested to him and that he regretted only one could be chosen. He also said that he would not have it thought that he is depriving the Mayor of his legal adviser without the city head's consent. Mayor Porter, he said, unqualifiedly approves and indorses Eagan's appointment.

HOME RADIO-TALKIE INSTRUMENT SHOWN

The "Visionola," declared to be the newest instrument for home entertainment, was demonstrated to a group of invited guests yesterday by Walter Fagan, president of Pacific Wholesale, Inc., which will distribute it in this territory. The new instrument embodies an electrical phonograph, a radio receiving set, a silent motion-picture projector and a sound-film projector. When closed and in operation only as a radio or phonograph, the Visionola resembles merely a de luxe radio cabinet. When the top is lifted a silver screen is disclosed. When two small doors on the front of the cabinet are flung back a complete talking-picture projection machine is revealed.

SATURDAY MORNING

GAMING HOUSE IN CITY RAIDED

Fashionable Crowd Escapes as Police Enter

Doors of Palatial Casino Battered Down

Three Men, Paraphernalia and Liquor Seized

...described as an ornate replica of the Tia Juana gambling house, where the whirr and click of roulette and the rattling of cards dealt in blackjack and poker games mingled with the laughter of bejeweled women seeking highballs with male escorts, a sixteen-room, two-storied residence at 4129 Wilshire Boulevard was raided by police late Saturday night, three men arrested on charges of gambling and possessing liquor, and a large assortment of gambling paraphernalia confiscated.

Scenes in the palatial dwelling at the time of the raid were likened by those often portrayed on the screen. With the first crash of a police hammer battering down a front door more than a score of fashionably dressed couples forsook their chips or glasses and dashed wildly for windows and doorways leading to the rear.

All of them, according to the police, succeeded in escaping, as the officers, leaping through the apertures made by the sledge hammers, abandoned their first efforts to apprehend those believed to be the owners and to confiscation of the gambling apparatus before it could be disposed of.

The raid was carried out systematically by police. Information had reached headquarters that gambling and drinking were being conducted at the Wilshire dwelling on a large scale. As a result an operative was sent into the place early Thursday evening. He mingled with the crowd, reported, and had no difficulty in buying drinks and stalking his money at the gambling tables. The beverages, mostly whisky diluted with mineral water, were served by a negro maid, according to the detective's report.

Later, at a given signal from a uniformed Police Sergeant Rogers and a squad of six men of Central vice division attacked the several front doors with their sledge hammers. As they smashed their way in they heard women screaming and the excited shouts of men. It was all over in a few moments. Once inside the squad found the patrons had fled and made no attempt to round them up outside the dwelling.

The roulette layout and the dice and card tables were arranged among elaborate furnishings on the second floor, according to Sergt. Rogers. Here all the gambling was conducted, he said. The ground floor, even more sumptuously furnished with divans, club chairs and davenports, was used, he said, for dancing.

Five gallons of liquor was found, it was reported, and three men taken into custody: Herman Martin, 36 years of age, booked for conducting a gambling game and possession and sale of liquor; Harry Hunt, 50, held for conducting a gambling game, and Barney Bynum, booked for straight gambling.

Police Board to Act in Bean Case Tuesday

In a brief special meeting yesterday the Police Commission decided that it will take action at its regular meeting next Tuesday on the suspension by Chief Steckel of Capt. Roy Bean of the homicide squad following a crash between a car driven by Bean and a citizen on Sepulveda Mesa Drive a week ago last Saturday night.

The commission announced that it will consider now and Tuesday it will receive reports of two investigations made under the direction of Chief of Police Steckel and the other by officers delegated to investigate for the commission.

Bean's suspension followed a report by Commissioner Drake that witnesses had informed him that Bean had been drinking and a subsequent investigation by the Chief of Police reported to reveal that other witnesses say the officer was sober when the accident occurred.

Bean, who has but six months more to serve on the department before he is eligible to a pension, has filed no notice of appeal or asked a hearing on his suspension. In the case of Officer McCoole, who also instigated the accident and was suspended for not making a report within twenty-four hours, as required under police regulations, also will come up Tuesday.

Sanitarians to Ask New Law

Passage of a bill requiring inspectors and sanitary officers of health departments in the State to qualify by certificates as registered sanitarians is sought by the Southern California Association of Sanitarians, which will meet in Alhambra on the 26th inst., to form plans to go before a measure which has been prepared by M. S. Siegel, per-sanitarian chief of the Los Angeles Health Department.

The sanitarians recently organized with a membership of 300 and at their next meeting authorized Siegel to present the desired measure, which is said to have the support of a majority of Senators for this district. The organization plans to enlist the aid of northern health associations in getting behind the bill to insure its passage at the next session of the Legislature.

He Never Came Back, She Says

Because Kaleses left his wife ostensibly to look for a job and never came back, she testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich and was granted a divorce.

"The last time I heard of him he was in a prison in Florida," she said.

The couple were married May 31, 1927, and separated on October 8, 1928.

FORCED ALTAR TRIP RELATED

Woman Says Man Acting as Her Guardian Picked Out Husband for Her

A story of a young woman who was forced to become a bride by a man who was not her legal guardian was told in court yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich by Mrs. Beatrice Hampton, seeking to annul her marriage with Claude Hampton.

"I had been living with a Mr. Wilbur Tower since childhood," Mrs. Hampton said. "He had never been appointed my legal guardian. However, he told me that if I did not marry Hampton he would send me to the reform school."

The marriage, which was performed on April 27, 1929, was annulled by the court.

PASADENA WOMAN GETS OUT OF JAIL

Parole Given Mrs. Hoocker After Fitts and Traeger Sign Her Application

Paroled after serving a week of her 180-day sentence, Mrs. Louise Hoocker, prominent Pasadena woman, yesterday was released from the County Jail.

Mrs. Hoocker was sentenced to serve 180 days in the County Jail and to pay a fine of $100 by Justice of the Peace Wilson of El Monte last January. Mrs. Hoocker, maintaining that the home-brew beer found in her home belonged to her husband, appealed the case but lost.

When she started serving her sentence a week ago Mrs. Hoocker appealed to the parole board setting forth the facts in the case, adding that her daughter is seriously ill and about to undergo a major operation.

After reviewing the case, Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Sheriff Traeger, signed her parole and the release was ordered at once.

CRAP GAME YIELDS FOUR LISTED MEN

Trio Accused of Major Crimes and One Vagrant Suspect Taken in Raid

Sifted through a figurative identification screen, four of ten men rounded up in a crap game Thursday night, caught in the meshes, were found to be wanted for murder, burglary, unknown felony and vagrancy, respectively.

Before being "put through the mill" all were held on gambling charges. Fingerprint comparisons set the four men aside for further investigation. They are Sears Gilbert, 29 years of age, said to be wanted in Casper, Wyo., for murder; Buck Parker, 29, asserted to be a fugitive from Ogden, Utah, on a felony complaint; Lester Glass, 24, wanted by the local authorities for burglary, and Ed Young, 26, wanted for vagrancy on a warrant carrying $500 bail.

The raid in which the suspects were apprehended was made at 1054 East Forty-first street, and was conducted by Officers Olsen, Kearney and Stonesifer of the Central police vice division.

Shriners Ready for Large Crowd at Picnic Today

Clearing skies yesterday caused Potentate Fred J. Wadley, Jr., of Al Malaikah Temple to predict that at least 6000 Shriners' children will attend the picnic a t the Uplifters' Polo Field today. Yesterday a score of Shriners went to the polo field to install decorations and other equipment to care for the crowd.

A basket picnic will be held until 1 o'clock during which time the children and their parents will be entertained by clowns, magicians and the Wadley Troubadours, a Shrine jazz band organization. Members of the Temple guard and patrol will distribute balloons, ice cream, peanuts and popcorn.

Forty-eight varied games and contests, with three prizes for each event, have been arranged.

British Cruiser to Remain Offshore

H.M.S. Dauntless, British cruiser, now steaming toward these shores from Bermuda, will ride at anchor off Santa Monica for five days, beginning the 24th inst., instead of calling immediately at Los Angeles Harbor, as previously announced, according to radio dispatches received by the British Consulate here yesterday from Capt. R. H. Moore, R.N., D.S.O., commanding the vessel. No reason was given for the change in plans.

The Dauntless will remain off Santa Monica until the 29th inst., when she will refuel at San Pedro and proceed that night on her way to British Columbia.

GUN THREAT FAILS AS SILENCER

Victim Shows How She Foiled Robber

Mrs. Plotkin and her neighbor, Sam Fiedler, demonstrate how armed bandit was thwarted.

TWO bandits had a profitless afternoon yesterday because Mrs. Nettie Plotkin persisted in screaming even after being ordered to keep quiet, with a pistol pointed directly at her. Not only were they unsuccessful in their efforts to steal the diamonds they were after, but in fleeing from the scene of the attempted robbery they abandoned one of the two automobiles in which they had gone to the scene.

Mrs. Plotkin is visiting at the home of her son-in-law, I. Zimmelman, at 1061 South Mansfield avenue. The latter is a diamond broker with offices in the Loew State Building and the bandits apparently were under the impression that he kept some of his diamonds at home.

Their movements were observed by the small daughter of Sam Fiedler, a neighbor, and she ran to her father and told him of what she had seen. Fiedler walked out on the porch and when the lookout saw him he strolled down the street and whistled.

Meanwhile the marked and armed bandit had opened the kitchen door of the Zimmelman apartment and confronted Mrs. Plotkin, who was at home alone. He pointed his revolver at her and brusquely commanded her to "keep your mouth shut and hand over the diamonds and be snappy about it."

Mrs. Plotkin backed away from him and screamed, and as she did so the bandit rushed at her, jammed the revolver against her with one hand, grabbed her by the throat with the other and forced her back over the kitchen table. She struggled to free herself and continued to scream. Suddenly the bandit released his grip, turned and fled to the street, where he hopped into the car at the curb and shot away. The lookout had disappeared around a corner.

Fiedler halted a passing automobile and gave chase. Several blocks away another car, driven by the erstwhile lookout, shot out from a cross-street, apparently by prearrangement, for the bandit who had invaded the house drove his car into the curb, jumped out and got into the second man's car and they sped away. Investigation by the police disclosed that the abandoned car had been stolen on Thursday.

SCHOOL ROW GUILT PUT ON RADICALS

Communists Convicted of Disturbing Peace of Roosevelt High Students

Five Communists—Yetta Stromberg of San Bernardino Communist school notoriety; Abraham and Martin Shapiro, Israel Schumann and Tuffy Mallet—were found guilty of disturbing the peace and molesting school children by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court yesterday for their part in the riot on the Roosevelt High School grounds on April 25, last.

On motion for a new trial made by their attorney, Leo Gallagher, Judge Sheldon postponed further action until noon Tuesday, at which time he will rule on the motion and, if it is denied, pronounce sentence.

David Sinski, Victor Patik and Warren Payne, students at the school, and O. L. Graham, vice-principal, were the main witnesses called by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday. They testified that a Red "defense squad" assaulted Sinski when he protested against Communist speeches being made on the school grounds and that the disturbances was not quieted until police arrived. In his argument to the jury, Gallagher attacked the public school system as "goose-stepping," and maintained that his clients were within their rights in attacking American institutions in their soap-box arguments on the school grounds.

HIGH COURT WILL HEAR ZONE CASE

Review Granted in Suit Attacking City Ordinance on Mental Hospitals

The Los Angeles zoning ordinance regulating mental hospitals will be argued before the State Supreme Court. This was learned here yesterday with receipt of a copy of the court's minutes from San Francisco stating that a review of the case has been granted on a petition filed by City Attorney Werner.

Appellate Court justices recently held the measure unconstitutional on the ground that it was discriminatory. It had been attacked by E. B. and Anna H. Jones, Ruth Rutherford, Gertrude R. Glasgow and Gilbert Glasgow, Emil and Elsie Wittman and James A. Stern, operators of places for the care of mental patients.

It was pointed out that the ordinance permits such institutions in densely populated districts and bans them in certain thinly populated sections. City Attorney Werner contended that the entire zoning system of the cit yis threatened by the Appellate Court decision.

Arguments on the petition are expected to be heard during the Supreme Court's session here in June.

PAVING CONTRACT ORDERED

The Board of Public Works yesterday was instructed by the City Council to award the contract for paving and improving streets in the Two Hundred Eighteenth-street and Halldale-avenue improvement district on a bid of $121,265.

White, elected president about a year ago, has reorganized the institute, members of the board of directors declare. Many directors who withdrew during the controversy over Dr. John Murdock McInnes, former dean, are back on the board again, it is reported. Dr. McInnes wrote a book to which fundamentalists in the organization took exception. His resignation followed.

Dr. White announced the following new personnel of the board: Dr. Charles C. Trumbull of Philadelphia, John Wells, Robert Young and Hugh B. Evans of Los Angeles, W. R. Oliver of Long Beach, and Harry West of Portland, Or.

Dr. McCreery, dean of the institute faculty, announced a new course of study for the institute in the addition of a Bible collegiate four-year course and a general two-year course, the former to become operative with the fall semester.

Mother Freed on Failure to Provide Charge

Mrs. Pearl Tharp, 29 years of age, was acquitted of charges of failing to provide for her three minor children yesterday in Municipal Judge Bullock's court. Mrs. Tharp's mother, Mrs. Mabel Loman of Alhambra, was the complaining witness.

Mrs. Loman complained that Mrs. Tharp deserted the children several months ago and that she has contributed nothing toward their support since. When the prosecution was unable to establish that the children's father, who deserted them and Mrs. Tharp seven years ago in Colorado, is dead, Judge Bullock dismissed the charges on the ground that the mother's legal responsibility for the children was not established.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES WILL HONOR MOTHERS

MRS. POST WILL CONTEST LOOMS

Laguna Beach Instrument of Last March Filed

Slayer-Suicide Had Named Victim in Testament

Lawyer on Way Here to Fight for Former Document

SANTA ANA, May 9. (Exclusive) A contest on the wills of Mrs. Guy Bates Post, who, on April 24 at Laguna Beach killed her friend, Dorris Murray Palmer, and then shot herself, became apparent here today on information received from H. A. J. Sickel, Mrs. Post's attorney at Philadelphia.

Sickel wired Orange County Clerk Backs that he has a will of Mrs. Post dated January 21, 1926, with a codicil dated November 28, 1927, naming her mother, Mrs. Ella N. Pults executor, and that he will arrive here on the 24th inst. to contest any instruments dated since.

WILLS ARE FILED

The information hardly had arrived from Sickel when Moresby White, a Laguna Beach lawyer, arrived to file for probate a Post will of March 17, 1930, in which he is named executor of the estate.

Simultaneously the will of Mrs. Palmer, "the darling of the art colony," was admitted to probate by Superior Judge Ames. The estate is estimated at $50,000 and names Miss Van Esse McDowell, confidante and house-mate of Mrs. Palmer, executrix.

ESTATE ABOUT $40,000

Mrs. Post had willed to Mrs. Palmer Laguna Beach real estate said to be valued at $15,000, and the Palmer will discloses that Mrs. Post was to have been given the jewels of the dead art colony favorite.

The force of the Palmer legacy as regards Mrs. Post is nullified, however, because the State laws hold that a murderer cannot benefit from the victim's estate, so that portion of the estate will go to the Laguna Beach Humane Society.

The Post estate is said to amount to $40,000. Guy Bates Post, actor and divorced husband, was left the actress's grand piano "with the mutual memories that go with it," and a painting of Mrs. Post is given to the Laguna Beach Community Players.

PLAY PRODUCED AS MRS. PALMER MEMORIAL

LAGUNA BEACH, May 9. (Exclusive)—The first performance of "The Lady From Memphis," which was halted by death two weeks ago in the dual killing of Mrs. Doris Murray Palmer and Mrs. Guy Bates Post was given here last night at the Community Playhouse.

The play, for which Mrs. Palmer designed the stage scenery, was to have had its premier April 24, but was postponed two hours before the curtain was to have gone up, after the finding of the bodies of the two women. Last night's performance was announced as a memorial to Mrs. Palmer, and it will be given again tonight and tomorrow night.

Veteran Coast Ship Suffers First Mishap

Suffering her first serious mishap since she entered the Alaskan gold rush trade out of San Francisco in 1896, the veteran coastwise passenger steamer Humboldt last night was reported safely in tow of the coastal freighter Edna Christenson after breaking her tail shaft off Point Arguello while en route from this port to San Francisco.

Capt. Jacob Baughman, who has commanded the Humboldt since she was commissioned at Fairhaven, Cal., in 1896, reported last night to his owners, the Los Angeles-San Francisco Navigation Company, that the weather is good and his thirty-seven passengers are in no danger. The Humboldt, a 213-foot wooden steamer of 1075 gross tons, was a sister ship in service of the steamer San Juan, which sank off San Francisco last August with a loss of sixty-seven lives.

Reduced Rate Brings Rush of Bay City Travel

The special $10 excursion rate between this city and San Francisco, which was in effect on the Southern Pacific line yesterday, caused an extraordinary increase in rail traffic between the two cities for the day, it was reported by railroad officials.

About 2000 more travelers than the average for a Friday left San Francisco for Los Angeles on either morning or night trains yesterday, it was said. The number in this city taking advantage of the excursion rate was not computed, but all the San Francisco-bound trains left either in sections or with extra cars.

The special excursion rate will be repeated again on Tuesday and on the same day low fares also will be in effect between this city and Portland and Seattle.

When poaching eggs cook them in hot milk instead of water. They are much more nourishing and tasty.

Remedy for burns—If a burn is saturated immediately with vinegar it will take out the pain at once and no scar will result; it is necessary that it be applied at once and allowed to dry on. For severe burns it may be necessary to repeat the treatment. Cider vinegar will also relieve pain caused by acid burns, lye, alkali poisoning or quicklime; soak the affected parts in it.

When shampooing the hair in hard water, a quarter of a cup of vinegar should be used in the last rinsing water to preserve the sheen.

Has your husband been complaining about his shirt bands being too large or too small; of his cuffs and collars being frayed and in need of turning; of his sleeves being too long or too short? All such altering and repairing is done in its perfection by Arthur M. Werner, the custom shirtmaker, 111 S. Spring st. MUtual 1589, who also makes shirts to individual measure.

Cake-making aids—Too little shortening makes a dry, porous cake which will dry quickly; too much makes a heavy cake which will crumble easily. If shortening is melted, let it cool before using it or the cake is liable to be coarse-grained, heavy and tough.

If you are one of the many people who do not care for the taste of green bell peppers in salads, then take careful note of the following salad recipe which is just one of many I shall give you from time to time. This recipe calls for Guasti Mint Wine Jelly and it will not only enable you to carry out an attractive color scheme of green, but will impart to your salad a delicioueness which is indescribable. This Guasti Mint Wine Jelly is one of the most popular of the Guasti Jellies and when I say that I say a great deal for once you taste all of them you find it hard to say any one is better than the others! Now copy right away the following recipe and use it frequently during the coming months.

MOLDED CHICKEN SALAD

Two cupfuls cooked chicken.
One cupful chopped celery.
Two tablespoonfuls gelatin.
One cupful cold water.
Two cupfuls boiling water.
One glass Guasti Mint Wine Jelly.
Two tablespoonfuls minced pimento.

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Dice jelly apd add all ingredients to gelatin after it has cooled. Pour into fancy or individual molds and serve with mayonnaise.

Fluff rugs made from your old carpets are just the thing for beach homes and mountain cabins. Have yours made by the Hoffman Rug Works, 2914 West Jefferson street (KEmpire 2048.) They do such beautiful work and charge very small prices. They also make Colonial rugs from rags.

The weakest link in the chain of life is waste.

What brand of potato chips are you using? If it isn't the Laura C. Scudder famous "Mayflower" brand then you don't know what you are missing! They are deliciously crisp and fresh in a different way and oh, but you will find them good. You may buy them at all the better stores I find.

Rhubarb meringue pie—Beat the yolks of two eggs with three-eighths of a cupful of granulated sugar, mixed and sifted with two tablespoonfuls of flour; add two and one-half cupfuls of cut rhubarb and stir until thoroughly mixed. Turn into a pie pan lined with plain pastry and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Beat the whites of the two eggs until stiff, beat in one-quarter cupful of powdered sugar and one-half teaspoonful of vanilla and pile it over the top of the pie when cool. Bake twelve minutes in a slow oven. The meringue will not liquefy if not put on the pie until after it has cooled.

It is just a matter of deciding which rooms you are going to have repapered after visiting Mathews Paint Company's wall paper department and if the truth be known you will most probably have done over some rooms which really do not need new paper, but just must love it because of the attractive wall covering which these thoroughly up-to-the-moment stores carry. Never have I seen a larger variety of papers and each is so absolutely smart that you want it the moment you lay eyes upon it.

Now couldn't you stop in one of Mathews's three stores soon, and make your selection? Their addresses are 1245 S. Hill; 1589 N. Vine (Hollywood,) and 740 E. Green, Pasadena.

Why not decide now to take up to Mr. Kent of the Peerless Platers, 239½ South Spring street, the jewelry you have which is in need of repairing. Mr. Kent does this kind of work exceedingly well! An excellent method of making pastry shells, which do not require piercing, is to bake them between two pie tins. One pie tin is lined with pastry, and, after trimming, another pie tin of the same size is placed on top. Then invert the two tins with the crust between them and bake in the usual way. The result is a pie shell well baked on the bottom but not so well done on the sides—these being definite factors in the perfect crust.

When you put cake into the oven remember that greater heat is required for layer than for loaf cake. When a cake rises very high in the middle it is a sign that the oven heat is not even. If it sinks in the middle the oven is too cold.

WATCH SET FOR SLAYER OF SPOUSE

E. F. Lindsay, Accused of Killing Wife and Attack on Girls, Headed Here

Everett Frank Lindsay, 48 years of age, wanted in Seattle for the brutal murder of his wife and assault on three juvenile girls, told a Los Angeles salesman who talked with him in Santa Barbara yesterday that he was "heading for Los Angeles."

Chief of Detectives Taylor at once assigned detectivcs to patrol the highways. The salesman positively identified the man who talked to him as Lindsay, Santa Barbara authorities stated, from a photograph in a police bulletin. Lindsay was wearing two tan sweaters, tan trousers, tan shoes and a gray hat, he said.

Lindsay, according to circulars distributed by Sheriff Bannick of Seattle, crushed his wife's skull, cut her throat and then buried her body in the back yard of his Seattle home. He later is said to have attacked three girls of tender age.

He is described as an ex-sailor and works as carpenter, painter or steamboat engineer. He is believed to carry discharge papers from both the Australian and American armies. A reward of $500 has been posted for his capture.

Impersonation of Officer Charged

Asserted to have flashed a deputy sheriff's badge and posed as a police officer and then to have beaten Miss Babe Tice of 3515 South Grand avenue in an unsuccessful attempt to take her for a ride in an automobile, Arthur C. Peralta, 27 years of age, a bail bondsman of 136 South Hancock street, was arrested yesterday. He was held at the City Jail on charges of battery and impersonating an officer.

Officers Galey and Doxtalar reported they were called to a cafe at 330 Sunset Boulevard where they found Miss Tice with a loose tooth and bruised face caused, she told them, when he slapped her, and then struck her in the face with a closed fist.

Noonan Pleads to Stand Trial After Sentence

Already sentenced to Folsom prison after pleading guilty to a charge of receiving stolen property, Jack Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neill and Mollie O'Day, motion-picture actresses, yesterday renewed his fight for liberty in Superior Judge Schauer's court by asking that the sentence and plea be set aside and that he be permitted to plead not guilty and stand trial.

The motion was based upon the argument that when Noonan pleaded guilty to the charge of receiving stolen property he understood he would be permitted to file an application for probation. The application was denied on grounds that under the law any person guilty of prior felony conviction is not eligible for probation.

The prosecution charged that Noonan once had been convicted of a forgery charge in Santa Clara.

Young Dancer's Contract Vised

Lotti Loder, cafe dancer from Budapest, appeared in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday to get a contract approved calling for her appearance in films produced by Warner Brothers.

Attorneys Sydney Wetzler and R. E. Lewis represented the picture company and Attorney H. E. Bianchi appeared as guardian ad litem for Miss Loder. A native of Germany, she is under 18 years of age. Darryl Zanuck, prowling around Europe, found Miss Loder directing an orchestra in a Hungarian cabaret.

TRAILING OF SPOUSE TOLD BEFORE COURT

How a private detective trailed Mrs. Emma A. Mullins, whose divorce suit against James M. Mullins, wealthy contractor, is being contested in Superior Judge Crawford's court, was detailed on the witness stand yesterday. This testimony was given in support of Mullins's contention that his wife associated with Alexander Conlin, vaudeville magician, known as Alexander the Great, called at his home and drove his car. Attorney J. J. Herlihy announced that he will call nineteen other witnesses against Mrs. Mullins, in support of cruelty charges.

LAST SCION OF PIONEER LINE DEAD

Carlton d'Artoin, World War Hero, Succumbs to Effects of Gassing

Carlton d'Artoin, last of the pioneer Southland family of that name, died unexpectedly yesterday in his apartments at 516 West Thirty-first street. Death was due to heart disease hastened by after-effects of gassing suffered in the World War. He was 30 years of age.

Born in Los Angeles, Mr. d'Artoin was orphaned at the age of 9 years, whereupon Mrs. Adele Verco, his aunt, took him to London, where he was educated and where he became an officer in the Royal Corps of Engineers. During the first six months of the war he was in command of the Port of London, later spending two years in the trenches. He returned to Los Angeles in 1920, engaging in the real-estate business. In 1929 he married Miss Ethel Newman. He was a member of the Wilshire Lodge of Masons.

Besides his widow, Mr. d'Artoin leaves Mrs. Verco and another aunt, Mrs. Lillie Webb. Mrs. Verco is visiting in Pisa, Italy. Last night Henry M. Lee, attorney for the family, cabled the news of her nephew's death. On receipt of advices from Mrs. Verco, funeral arrangements will be completed by the J. D. Faris mortuary, 960 South Flower street.

Price Again Cut by Gas Stations

Reductions of from 1 to 4 cents a gallon on gasoline were posted at numerous fillings-stations in Los Angeles and vicinity yesterday. Most of the chain company stations are holding prices at 19½ cents.

No reduction has been made in the price of gas to the dealers by the oil companies, it was indicated yesterday.

One South Broadway station was selling seven gallons for 99 cents. A block away gas of standard make was being retailed at 16½ and a few blocks farther prices were 17½. In the business section proper the standard price of 19½ cents was maintained.

Today's Bible Text

Therefore, I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then am I strong.—2 Cor. xii:10.

EASY STAGES
One reason why there are so many busses in Hollywood may be to accommodate the folks who want to go on the stage.

SOBER JUSTICE
Drunk-driving convictions, in manslaughter cases, have had a noticeable effect in Los Angeles, as the Coroner's records will testify.

RIVALRY
There now is an inducement to go to San Francisco. Ten dollars a round trip. After the census figures of the two cities are announced, may we expect a further reduction?

FRIEND OF A NATION
Marshal Joffre denies that he's ill. And he was very anxious that his American friends should know the fact that he is able to attend to his affairs. Which means just about everybody over here.

OLD EGG
A farmer of Othello, Wash., harvested an egg of normal appearance. But when it was opened, it had nothing inside but air. Possibly it was the germ of a politician.

DEADLINE
A deadline beyond which it will be unlawful for swimmers to go is proposed for the beaches. The line might also be extended this side of some bathtubs.

ABILITY REWARDED
Judge Homer Ames of Orange county has had a rapid rise. He was appointed by Gov. Richardson to fill a vacancy in 1925 on the Superior bench, elected to the post in 1926 and now in 1930 has been named to fill a vacancy on the appeals bench. His record is almost free of reversals.

GOOD NEWS
Winfield Sheehan, with fifty-two Fox productions up his sleeve for immediate production, has left New York for Hollywood. Which means more than $25,000,000 to be spent in Los Angeles. The Fox tangle was an ill wind that blew a whole lot of people some good.

EDWARD J. DENNISON
In the death of Edward J. Dennison the county of Los Angeles has lost an unusually fine type of public servant. Thirteen years of service as a deputy District Attorney marked him as a vigorous but fair prosecutor, never stooping to pettifogging methods, never taking an unethical advantage either of a defendant or of opposing counsel, but always fighting hard for the cause of justice. His last case called for his best efforts, and these were given despite tremendous physical handicaps. It is not too much to say that he wore himself out battling for the right.

The tribute paid him by Judge Schauer, who presided in his last case, was in no sense exaggerated and is worth further repetition. "He was one of the rarest of prosecutors," said Judge. prosecutions unconsciously flung out through all the atmosphere about him not only the message of the sincerity of his purpose but also the story of the loveableness of his own heart.

"In the last case which he tried, to the great credit of his office and himself, when testimony disclosed the illegality of the seizure of certain documents, he promptly withdrew the offer of such evidence. The District Attorney, the courts, and the community have lost a faithful and able servant, an honest man, a noble work of God."

Dist.-Atty. Fitts also spoke no more than the truth when he characterized Mr. Dennison as an "honest, faithful and extraordinarily conscientious servant." Mr. Dennison will be sincerely mourned, not only by his associates, by the judges and jurors before whom he appeared, by the members of the bar and by the public with whom he came in contact, but even, no doubt, by some of the men his duty required him to prosecute, and who were forced to recognize his invariably fair and impartial attitude.

YOUNG TO RUN AGAIN
In keeping with his administration of the executive department of the California State government during the last three years, the announcement from Gov. Young that he is a candidate for re-election is a rather commonplace and colorless one—the logical expression of a public official schooled in the routine of politics.

The Governor, in seeking to retain his post, would not be in character if he failed to follow the beaten track of those who make political endeavor a profession. He submits his candidacy "on his record" and says to the voters: "I am content to leave the issue in your hands." For the most part his references to State government under his supervision constitute a recitation of political platitudes.

Mr. Young, whose devotion to the dry cause is undoubted by all who know his public record, says he would enforce the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution "as long as it is the law of the land." Having ventured thus far, and with a further gesture of defiance to those who would compromise the issue, he informs the people that many who disagree with him in such matters have helped to elect him in prior campaigns.

As to the Governor's contention that his administration, which inherited a surplus of $23,000,000 from its predecessor, has amassed a net gain of $6,000,000, there seems to be some measure of controversy, due to the manner in which State funds have been apportioned to give this contention an appearance of reality.

Gov. Young assures the California electorate that his administration has added greatly to the efficiency of State government and to the economy thereof by "combining 130 disorganized and independent boards and commissions into thirteen strong departments." It was not so long ago in the State's political history that Mr. Young regarded these same "130 disorganized and independent boards and commissions" as absolutely essential to the people's salvation. With others of the Johnson-McCabe political machine he had labored long and faithfully to create them, and when former Gov. Richardson came along and sought to amalgamate them into a cohesive system the present Governor defended them with as much vigor as he is capable of developing.

It is too bad, perhaps, that circumstances have left it to the Governor himself to speak with such enthusiasm of his "major accomplishments" in the realm of water conservation, the growing of new forests, the building of highways and in solving the perplexities of oil and gas production, but this he does with every indication of self-belief.

As to the list of additional benefits which the Governor says he has conferred upon the people, they might as properly be credited to the system of government under which we exist as to the individual occupying the Governor's chair; for Mr. Young during his incumbency has not shown himself to be a leader possessing either energy, imagination or unusual ability.

He has made few enemies, taken the line of least political resistance, undoubtedly done the best he could do, and again comes up for election with nothing more than the customary and time-worn political arguments to recommend his appeal.

TEAGUE ON BUSINESS
While C. C. Teague of the Federal Farm Board probably went a little too far in his declaration that criticisms of the Farm Board and its policy are based on selfishness, there is amply sufficient truth in the assertion to give it sting. Many able and conscientious business men have felt, and must feel, that the very problem which the Farm Board is attacking is in its nature insoluble by any artificial methods, and that there is danger that application of such methods will delay a natural solution. But many others are objecting, beyond doubt, because their toes have been stepped on, their opportunities for profit curtailed.

The time to bring forward criticisms of the underlying theory on the Farm Board law has passed. A national policy has been embarked upon and that policy should now be carried through until it is demonstrated conclusively either that it is helpful or that it is not. Mr. Teague and his associates are under no illusions concerning the difficulties of their task; they know these are enormous. For this reason, those who feel sincerely that the experiment is bound to result in failure, owe it to the Farm Board not to add to these difficulties by active opposition at this time, but rather to give their best co-operation. Some very plausible and apparently logical economic theories have been upset in the past; and there is no certainty or even real evidence yet that the Farm Board bill is wrong.

Since the United States Chamber of Commerce indorsed the bill in principle before its passage, it is plainly making a mistake now in prematurely demanding its repeal, and Mr. Teague's strictures upon it on this ground are justified. The Farm Board is no more than at the beginning of its experiment and the chamber, having assented to that experiment, is bound to wait until its conclusion before attempting to pass judgment upon it.

THESE, TOO, ARE MOTHERS
America, as far as possible, surrounds the picture of motherhood with bright and fragrant flowers. Young or old, we love to dwell on the thought of the mother in the home, blessed with husband or children, dealt kindly with by providence, in answer to our prayers. We believe that the mothers of the race deserve all the best things that life on this earth has to offer—and so far as in us lies we make the term "mother" symbolize the dearest aspirations of the human heart.

But we know that for all our efforts to lighten her burden the mother must pass through afflictions we are powerless to relieve. Today somewhere on the gray waters of the Atlantic Ocean a ship of sorrow carries on its deck some of the mothers of American children who no more may send them flowers and joyous remembrances on the day dedicated to their honor. The liner America on a sad pilgrimage to the war cemeteries of France is a nation's tribute of gratitude to the mothers who gave something dearer than life in answer to their country's call. It is little enough, but it is all we can do for the Gold Star mothers.

So for the mothers in happy homes there are flowers and welcome gatherings of children and grandchildren and smiles and congratulations. And for those others, the Gold Star mothers from whom the country has taken a gift it can never return, there is a national tribute of sympathy and affection—and at their disposal is placed the ocean liner that they may see the last resting place of sons who made the supreme sacrifice. In all this the thought of mother is honored.

And into this picture intrudes a story no nation can pass by with the smug indifference of the Pharisee, a story of the tragic end of conditions society has done little to correct. A woman, deprived of the earnings of the breadwinner because he has broken the law, slays the children she is unable to feed or support. An extreme instance, it is true, of visiting the sins of the husband upon the wife; but such cases are too numerous to be disregarded. Women, innocent themselves, left helplessly to care for their families, while the actual offender is well fed and not uncomfortably housed, are asking not for flowers or sympathy but—for justice.

These, too, are mothers.

DIFFERENT
Again we notice that Lindbergh and his wife set sail on that record-breaking flight from Los Angeles to New York in one day without any previous press agency. He just does it and lets other folks talk about it afterward. A hint to the various unwise ought to be sufficient.

ODE
Musical Writer Frederick Herman Martens and Pianist Leo Ornstein collaborate on a new national anthem and are awarded the prize of $3000 to be equally divided between them. While that yearning for a new hymn may thus satisfy, yet we harbor the suspicion that the latest attempt may sound like "Hoch der Kaiser!"

LEE SIDE O' L.A.
By Lee Shippey

IF Charles Wakefield Cadman's mother out in Hollywood and our own little mother in Long Beach will tune in on radio KHJ tomorrow afternoon, between 1:30 and 2, each will hear a Mother's Day tribute from her son, when Miss Elvia Allman, accompanied by Wesley Tourtellot, will sing Cadman's latest song, "Candle Light." The song has not been published and this will be the first time it is sung to the public. The poem was one we published in The Times a couple of years ago. After it was published we thought no more about it till last spring, when a friend wrote from New York that radio station WEAF had just announced that "the next number would be the poem, 'Candle Light,' by Lee Shippey, this being his birthday," an announcement as astounding to us as to our New York friend, as we hadn't imagined anyone in New York was celebrating our birthday, especially as we had forgotten it ourself.

Cadman, too, has a very wonderful mother. So we told him about the poem, which seemed to fit her as well as our own mother, and he asked to see it. Months went by, and then we received from him a manuscript copy of the song he had made of it. It's a lovely song, as all of Cadman's songs are.

Neither of the mothers it is intended to honor has heard the song, and it will come on the air tomorrow afternoon as a surprise to both of them. And it was easy to secure the co-operation of Tourtellot and Miss Allman in the scheming for that. For, after all, sentiment still rules the world.

World's Champion Optimist—the Plaintiff

A Los Angeles woman is suing a motion-picture extra girl for $100,000! That's what a girl gets for looking like $1,000,000 when she may only have 15 cents.

Speaking From Experience?

Lee: Charley Paddock, the "fastest human," is a quick starter, a wonderful runner and a mighty hurdler. But it takes a lot more than that to get away from a girl a fellow thinks he can leave any old time.—G. O. A. T.

Appreciating Los Angeles Genius

Here's coincidence for you. Five minutes ago we were writing about Wesley Tourtellot, and here comes a poem dedicated to him:

Pipe-Organ Music

Deep thunder dies away and now we hear
The trilling of a bird at summer dawn.
Sweet bells chime in, with vibrant echoes gone,
But not forgotten, when there peals a clear,
Commanding trumpet call, now far, now near.
Rough waters roar and murmur where the fawn
And nymph play Pan's old game, or wild stags, drawn
To battle, clash with bellowed rage and fear.
An army marches by with rhythmic tread.
Now fairies dance to music light as air—
Then cavaleades which gallop to destroy!
Dim, muffled drums proclaim heroic dead.
These pipes of wood and metal seem to share
The ecstasies that living souls enjoy.
GARDNER WADE EARLE.

Enlightening Comparison

We never get over marveling at the energy and enterprise of the women's clubs of Southern California, but the other day we were impressed once more at San Gabriel. San Gabriel, as every Mission player knows, is neither large nor aggressive. Yet the Woman's Club there was meeting in a clubhouse of its own, and the place was filled. One of the club members recently had come from a sojourn in Canada. "In a town of 30,000 up there we never could succeed in making any sort of woman's club survive for any length of time," she said. "A club like this, in a town less than one-tenth that big, would have been an outstanding organization in even a big city there."

Incidentally, that San Gabriel meeting would have opened the eyes—and mouth—of anyone who imagines that clubbing weans women from domestic arts. They were having a food bazaar in which there was not one article from a caterer's. And any caterer who could duplicate that spread would make his fortune as a delicatessen proprietor in Los Angeles. In these suburban women's clubs they don't fool around with caterers. They serve you home-cooked dinners which remind you of old-fashioned church socials.

A Sure Indication

O summer, enchantress, I catch your sweet hints
And know you are coming! The young buds unfurl,
The cherry tree glistens, a tower of pearl,
The spring sun has kindled to quick flame the quince
(Forgivable arson!)—the daffodil stirs,
The hyacinth follows. But one thing avers
The glad truth more loudly than nature's gay tints
Or the magic divine that in April occurs—
Roberta is wearing her heaviest furs!
DALLAS BELL.

It's Comforting to Know There Are Others Like Ours

Leeside: This is a story of kids, one human. Only three short years have passed since his faithful stork-carrier landed at his little gray home in the sticks. But California sunshine and goats' milk have made of him a daring desperado. Fearing neither man nor beast, nor even woman, he continually risks life and limb in pursuit of that liberty which to him means happiness.

Behold now a sturdy young savage, beautiful as a movie star, strong as a young Samson, a perfect demonstration of perpetual motion and mischief. Every piece of machinery on the place, from the elderly Maxwell to the sewing machine, has lost some detachable part, because in his capable hands each detachable bit was a potential screw driver. And always there is some sand in the gas and frequently no air in the tires.

The other day he was advised (he takes no orders) to retire to the house for a much-needed rest. He did so, and soon all was so quiet that his mother became alarmed. On entering the house to investigate, she found that he had opened the corral and the six goat kids, needing no invitation, had followed him into the house, where he was entertaining them with a banquet. The floor was strewn with cereal crackers, bread—everything in the cupboard reachable from a chair. And contented goats were dancing on the tables.

But the young Ananias had an explanation ready. "Oh," he said, "a big Messican came in and ate everything up!"—J. C. Davis, Devore.

TRAPS
By James J. Montague

I might have shot over the golf course in par,
If I'd just kept my eye on the ball;
Some putts were quite straight, and some drives rather far,
So I wasn't so bad after all.
A good many tricky approaches I played,
Like those crafty professional chaps;
It is pleasant to think of the score I'd have made,
If I hadn't got into the traps.

But whenever a basin of billowy sand
Would yawn between me and the green,
My trustiest club seemed to turn in my hand
And I often piled up a sixteen.
I would glance at the chasm a while and pretend
That I wasn't aware it was there,
Yet the ball to its uttermost depths would descend,
While I murmured my rage and despair.

I can conquer a bunker, get over a pond,
From the rough I can often get out;
Whenever I stand on the fairway beyond,
I can hit a good slithering clout.
But a trap seems a stretch of Sahara to me;
I face it with quavers and qualms,
And I fancy that over its face I can see
The Arabs and camels and palms.

This patch which we all are attempting to thread
Has many a pitfall and gin;
Yet we know if we stubbornly shove on ahead
We have pretty fair chances to win.
But in spite of the efforts we earnestly make,
Our attention will suffer a lapse;
We stand like weak cowards, and inwardly quake
At the sight of the far-scattered traps.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
Under the Direction of Dean Rockwell Hunt

XIX
SCHOOL OF CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
BY DIRECTOR EMERY E. OLSON

The University of Southern California, located as it is in the midst of a great metropolitan area, finds itself called upon by the community continually to enter into new and interesting fields of service. Unlike the universities of ancient days and medieval times, which withdrew themselves with monastic seclusion, the great metropolitan universities of the present are an integral part of the life surging about them. While preserving the best in academic tradition, they are realizing that if leadership is to come from them, their contact with the modern world must be close enough to adequately train and supply such leadership.

For many years our schools and universities have been giving training in practically every kind of profession or trade except that of government. Some specific fields in government, such as law, engineering or public health, have received attention, but there has been no co-ordinated course which would train and equip an individual to take his place in the scheme of management of a "twentieth-century municipality."

At the University of Southern California a most interesting experiment is being conducted. Several years ago a group of public officials walked into the president's office and took him to task because of the things he was not doing. They pointed out that in the field which they represented little was being done by the great educational institutions. After several interesting and mutually stimulating interviews, these officials convinced the president that there was a field in government training which offered to the university a new and very real opportunity for service to the community. And so, for three years we have had an interesting time analyzing the field of public administration and evolving courses of study which would really meet the needs of the person engaged in public work today.

A distinct goal was reached in the summer of 1928 with the establishment of the annual short course in public administration. This attracted to the campus hundreds of public officials from all parts of California and from several other States to attend sections on budgets and accounts, planning and zoning, public health, street-traffic control, city clerkship administration, sanitary engineering, appraisal and assessments, juvenile welfare and numerous other topics pertinent to the general field of public administration. These sections were conducted by such prominent leaders and publicists as Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the City Planning Commission of St. Louis; Le Roy Bowman of the National Community Center Association, Columbia University; Edwin A. Cottrell of Stanford University; Clarence A. Dykstra of the University of California at Los Angeles; Ira V. Hiscock of Yale University; Samuel C. May of the University of California; F. W. Mohlman, chief chemist of Chicago sanitation districts; William B. Munro of Harvard University; Otto Schreiber of Koenigsberg University, Germany; Charles M. Spofford of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Tipton R. Snavely of University of Virginia; Abel Wolman, chief engineer of the department of health of Maryland, and many others. The short course for the spring of 1930 (April 14-19) included a dozen sections under specialists and staff members.

The school of citizenship and public administration was duly authorized by the university trustees on February 28, 1929, an advisory committee having previously been constituted, as follows: Philip S. Biegler, dean of the college of engineering; Emory S. Bogardus, director of the school of social welfare; Roy Malcom, professor of political science; Reid L. McClung, dean of the college of commerce and business administration; William D. Cutter, dean of the school of medicine; Lewis E. Ford, dean of the college of dentistry; Rockwell D. Hunt, dean of the graduate school; William R. La Porte, professor of physical education; Justin Miller, dean of the school of law, and Frank C. Touton, vice-president and director of educational research and service. Emery E. Olson was appointed director of the school, which was given a distinctive place among the major divisions of the university.

By the establishment of this unit, with no exact precedent in American education, the university offers its service to each of the following groups: (1) Men and women engaged in public service desiring an organized plan of study which will bring together for their benefit the resources of the university and the practical knowledge of persons in public positions. (2) Selected men and women preparing for careers in civic administration, in research and in the performance of official functions in public agencies of national, State and local character. (3) College students as well as adults in active life interested in a broad training and preparation for the duties and practice of citizenship. (4) Persons charged with specific governmental responsibility.

The professional curriculum provided leads to the degree of bachelor of science in public administration and graduate work is being developed leading to the degree of master of science in public administration. The institution has definitely recognized the professional character of public administration and there are now organized four-year and five-year courses leading to the newly conceived degrees in public administration. A man may study for four years in the regular college, get his training in these courses prepared by public officials themselves, and hold his degree in public administration, take some position in the public service, passing the various examinations as he goes through. Part-time courses are provided for those actually engaged in various forms of public service, whether municipal, county, State or national.

Students who have completed the requirements for a junior certificate in a recognized junior college, or other institution of corresponding rank, may be regularly admitted. Standards of scholarship are identical with those in other divisions of the university. The school maintains a downtown office in the Wilson Building at First and Spring streets, opposite the City Hall. So cordial has been the reception on the part of public officials that the university has been able to rent certain rooms in the beautiful City Hall of Los Angeles for use of classes which men and women actually engaged in public service attend under very favorable conditions. The strategic location of the downtown division of the school of citizenship and public administration at the Civic Center of Los Angeles, where employees of city, county, State and nation run into thousands, affords unparalleled opportunity for an ever-widening service. The courses have been grouped so that by taking one night a week for two or three years a public official or a junior member of a staff may receive a certificate in his special field. Between fifteen and twenty special fields applying to different departments have been organized on a certificate basis. In fact, it is impossible to estimate the benefits that may accrue to the public service through the co-operation of the university and this vast official community, to say nothing of other communities that will be interested.

The Municipal Research Library is extremely helpful in supplying the needs of students of an investigatory mind. The school has been the recipient of numerous other favors and kindnesses, which serve to illustrate in unmistakable manner the hospitable reception accorded its offerings at the hands of public officials and commercial houses alike. Expressions of approval of the work of this new unit of the university's outreach into the larger community have been many and most cordial.

Signal success in pioneering this highly significant movement has already been achieved, yet it is only in its early beginnings. Here is being performed on an ample scale an experiment in adult education and in the training of youth for the profession of public service that will be watched all over the country with lively interest. It is, indeed, a hopeful sign that here in the city and county of Los Angeles public officials of whatever rank and station may actually "go to school" in their own work-a-day subjects, advance themselves in proficiency and effectiveness, and—best of all—be inspired to reach up to higher levels of social responsibility and professional idealism.

Radio Educational Division

Thoroughly convinced of the unlimited educational possibilities offered through radio, the university has for several years made increasing use of this new agency. Beginning in 1926, through co-operation with KFI, university students, particularly those selected from the college of music and the school of speech, furnished programs at intervals, and a little later a remote-control station was established in the Musical Organizations Building on the campus.

During 1928-29 the regular chapel programs were broadcast through KHJ and in addition lectures on varied topics were presented several times weekly. The broadcast of the chapel talks by Dr. Bruce Baxter has been continued during the present year.

Beginning in March, 1929, the regular radio educational division was established and the educational features have been greatly expanded, the broadcast being handled over KEJK, which is operated by R. T. MacMillan Oil Company. A special feature during the current year consists in an extensive series of lectures by selected faculty members on the general topic, "Semi-centennial Lectures on Contributions to Contemporary Civilization." Recognizing the great significance of the radio in modern life, the university regards the work thus far done in this division as a mere beginning in a realm where science and magic so marvelously meet.

CANDLELIGHT

You are like a blessed candle,
Burning through life's night;
Gently useful, softly radiant,
Always giving light;
Light which sweetly is reflected
In each passing face,
As of candles stilly burning
In a holy place.

Candles, mother mine, burn brightly
To the very last;
Giving till their all is given
And the dark is past;
You are like a little candle,
Beauteous in the night;
Life grows late, but you grow dearer,
Always giving light.

Health and Diet Advice
DR. FRANK McCOY

YOUR BODILY CHEMISTRY
Chemistry has made some wonderful strides within recent years, though even yet chemists are unable to understand many of the chemical processes that take place naturally in the human body. Nature has naturally accomplished more wonderfully complex and yet complete chemical factories than any which man has been able to devise. Your human body is one of the most interesting chemical factories in existence, and many of the most important physical changes taking place in your body, although of a chemical nature, are only slightly understood by scientists. Even the process of life has never been satisfactorily explained, but we do know that there is some inherent power or force back of all of the various manifestations of life. This power has caused that certain chemical changes will always work the same way under given circumstances.

It seems to me that doctors would have made more progress if they had used more effort in studying the chemical activity within the body and not as much on the study in the test tube. After all, there must be certain subtle differences between the action of the chemical and the action of refined chemicals after they have been assimilated by both man and animals.

Health seems to be a matter of following the natural chemical laws of the body to take place without the interference which usually results from bad habits of living. People who are sick usually make the mistake of trying to find some mysterious remedy, when what is usually necessary is only to restore the chemical balance of the body to normal.

Real progress in medical science must be along the lines of finding out the various things that interfere with health. One can remain well while working at almost any kind of work or while living in any kind of climate. If sickness develops, it is not because one has lived in a certain place but because one has lived in a certain way. The restoration of health is usually a matter of substituting good habits for bad ones, and a cure can take place and health be enjoyed once again when your bodily laboratory is allowed to work in an uninterrupted manner.

Study your bodily chemistry and especially the chemistry and physiology of digestion. If all of my readers would do this and learn how to live, some of the doctors and undertakers would be looking for other jobs.

Each year the American people spend more than a billion dollars for doctors, druggists and hospitals because of sickness. This is a tax upon ignorance imposed on those who do not understand the laws of nature and do not live a healthful life.

Many wealthy philanthropists give away millions of dollars each year to assist hospitals, doctors and research laboratories to find the cause of disease, and to discover remedies and cures. I hope that some day some of these philanthropists will spend some of this money in making additional investigations into the activity of the human body and discovering the things which interfere with its normal processes.

Easy Enough

One housewife has found a use for leftover cooked starch. About once a month she applies it to the kitchen linoleum after the scrubbing. She says it acts like a varnish and preserves the linoleum wonderfully.

A Damp Cellar

If your cellar is inclined to be damp and things are apt to mildew quickly, place a bowl of lime on one of the shelves where the preserves are stored and it will keep the air dry and thus prevent mold.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

ORANGE CREAM

One and one-half cupfuls of cream, one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of orange juice, one-fourth of a cupful of cold water, the yolks of two eggs, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one tablespoonful of grated orange rind. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for five minutes, mix together the orange rind and orange juice. Melt the gelatine over hot water, then add it to the orange juice and stir until dissolved. Beat the yolks of the eggs with the sugar and add them to the mixture. Place in a double boiler and stir over a slow fire until the mixture is slightly thick, but do not allow to boil. Remove from the fire, cool, and add the cream. Rinse out a mold with cold water, strain into the mold, place in the ice box and allow to harden, serve with whipped cream.

BRAISED OX TAILS

Take the required amount of ox tails, wash well, place in a saute pan with sufficient shortening and add to them, six medium-sized onions, sliced thin, brown well, then add just enough water to cover and cook slowly until tender. Add two sliced carrots, one medium-sized pepper, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one-half a cupful of tomatoes, and six small potatoes and cook until the vegetables are tender. Thicken the mixture with a little brown flour. Cook half a pound of macaroni in boiling water, drain, season it, place on a hot platter and pour the ox-tail mixture over it.

TOAD-IN-THE-WHOLE

One and one-half pounds of lean round steak, one veal kidney, cut the meat in small pieces, wash the kidney and cut it in small pieces. Take one-half a cupful of flour, sift it with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, beat three eggs and beat into them two cupfuls of milk, gradually stir this into the flour and beat it well, season the meat with a little salt and paprika. Place it in a baking dish, and pour the batter over it. Bake in a medium oven about one hour.

FRUIT BLANC-MANGE

Hull and wash strawberries, mash slightly, and allow to cook until the juice runs freely. Strain off the juice and sweeten it to taste, measure and place it again on the fire. To every two cupfuls of the juice allow two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch that has been blended with a little cold water. When the juice has boiled stir in gradually the cornstarch and continue to stir until the cornstarch is thoroughly cooked, which will require about five minutes. Pour the mixture into molds that have been rinsed out in cold water, set in a cold place and when firm turn out of the molds, garnish with sweetened strawberries and serve with cream.

CORNMEAL GRUEL WORKS WONDERS IN IMPROVING BREAST MILK

Many of the suggestions which mothers ask me to print in the column are so valuable as personal experiences that I am only too happy to pass them on. But sometimes they cannot be printed because the advice consists of the mother's experience with some advertised product, and this column advertises nothing!

Sometimes the suggestions have already appeared, the mother probably having missed reading them; and sometimes they are not timely, for a method of giving cod liver oil, let us say, is entirely out of place in late spring and won't be of any use until next winter again. Also it must be remembered that I must personally approve the suggestion, since it may have worked and still be poor psychology or poor feeding. That is a remote possibility but it does happen. So please don't feel that I haven't read the letter, but try to figure out why it may not have been suitable for publication.

CORNMEAL GRUEL EFFECTIVE

Mrs. O. McL. relates some interesting experiences to which I gladly give space. She writes, "At the age of 1 month our boy screamed all day but slept all night. People said, 'Colic.' Being frantic I took him to a clinic and the nurse there weighed him before and after a nursing and found that he was not getting enough to eat. My doctor said so, too, and suggested weaning but she thought that no matter how little milk I had it was better than anything else for the baby.

"She advised me to eat cornmeal gruel three times a day. Now I am not thin, and despite taking on extra weight I ate this mush before every nursing. When he was 6 months I cut down to only twice daily. From that day he has been perfectly satisfied and gained satisfactorily.

"Now the other suggestion is this: I could not get him to eat from a spoon without hollering and fighting. He also balked at a cup. I tried everything and up until a week ago we had a perfect bedlam. Then the nurse suggested changing his diet entirely, so I gave him apples, asparagus, prunes, potatoes, beans and peas, and it worked wonders. When he sees his plate, cup and spoon, he goes into ecstasies.

SUGGESTION EXCELLENT

I wish you had mentioned the foods he was taking before you made the change, but I'll guess that they were the usual orange juice, cereal, carrots and spinach. Am I right? It was a fine idea.

Both oatmeal and cornmeal mush are excellent for use in the nursing mother's diet. In most cases I would stick to twice or three times a day, because it might grow very tiresome and also over-indulgence in so much carbohydrate might cause baby to have a sensitivity to this element. At any rate, it doesn't pay to use even a good thing to excess.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE WISDOM OF NANNY

They're fortunate who feel they know
Just when to stay and when to go.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

In and out of the old can Nanny ran

The old can in which Nanny Meadow Mouse had escaped from Flip the Terrier was a gallon can which had once contained oil. It was square at each end, or top and bottom, as you please. In one corner of the top was the round hole by which Nanny had entered. You see, the can was lying on one side. She was a badly frightened Meadow Mouse when she went in there. She went in because it was the only place that offered safety. Once inside she simply lay there panting, her little heart going pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat with fright. She could hear Flip sniffing around outside. He hadn't seen her when she darted into that hole. Of course, he saw that old can, but he didn't give it a thought. Finally he went away.

Nanny remained right where she was for a long time after Flip had gone. She kept expecting Danny Meadow Mouse. Danny didn't come. Finally Nanny ventured outside. She would go look for Danny. But when she got outside she didn't know which way to turn. You see, she had been so confused by Flip that she had lost her sense of direction. So finally she went back to that old can.

"I'll stay here a while," said Nanny to herself. "Danny is sure to come looking for me, so the wisest thing to do is to remain right here."

This was a very sensible thing to do, especially as she had no idea in which direction to look for Danny. Having the usual amount of feminine curiosity, she whiled away the time by very carefully examining that old can. She went all around it. She jumped up on it. She went in and out of it a dozen times. Presently she forgot all about Danny. Yes, sir, she forgot all about her Danny. She had become so interested in that old can that all thought of Danny left her.

"This would make a wonderful home," said Nanny. "I could build a nest inside th's thing and it would be a regular castle. I believe I'll make a bed in there just to try it. That's what I'll do—I'll make a bed in here and just see how it goes." So Nanny straightway began cutting grass and taking it into that old can. She was a very busy small person. Forgotten was all her fright. Forgotten was the fact that Danny was lost. She was just happy in what she was doing and that is a fine way to be. In and out of the old can Nanny ran. Every time she went in she had a mouthful of soft grass—soft, dry grass, that would make the very nicest kind of a bed. By and by she had enough in the end of the old can to curl up in comfortably.

By this time Nanny was tired. She was tired enough to want a nap. So she curled up in the bed of dry grass and no sooner was she nicely curled up than she fell asleep. You see, as I said before, she was tired. She fell asleep inside the old can and while she slept Danny Meadow Mouse went straight past the old can.

You see, when Danny finally escaped from Flip the Terrier he at once started to look for Nanny. By that time he could no longer find her scent with his nose, so all he could do was to go in the direction in which he had last seen her going. He knew what that general direction was and, although he didn't follow her footsteps exactly, he was near enough to the direction to pass that old can. He didn't pass the end where the entrance was; he passed the other end. So, of course, he had no idea that he was so near Nanny. He kept on going and with every step he felt more and more lonesome.

THE LADIES DON'T SEEM TO BELIEVE IT!

Time after time we've told them—and still continue to tell them—one teaspoonful in a basin of water is plenty; That's all that's needed for the finest lingerie. And for the washing machine, one cupful. No more!

But bless them! They're so used to ordinary soaps that they just can't believe so little White King Granulated will go so far. They continue to pour it out as though it weren't the purest condensed soap made. Which is regrettably wasteful.

So once more, ladies, we implore you: Use White King Granulated Soap wisely, and it will serve you well. At your grocer's.

WARNERS PLAN FOR TELEVISION

Trio of Musical Comedy Stars Sign Fox Contracts; Columbia Features Team in New Aviation Film; Comediennes Return to Stage

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That television may soon be an established fact in the realm of picturedom, with pictures shown in private homes, and with the Warner Brothers controling the television market, is apparently well on the way to fulfillment.

It became known yesterday that the Warners have bought the Nakken patents for television production and projection, and for production of sound in pictures on film, which may mean that Warners are to abandon the disc method of producing dialogue for the more generally used method of photographing the sound on the film.

Theodore H. Nakken is president of the corporation bearing his name. Though a native of Holland, he was an admiral in the Russian navy during the late World War, having in charge the submarine division. It was while studying the control of submarines by radio that he became interested in another branch of radio, namely, television, and it is said that he has invented a very excellent method.

Jack Warner, Lewis Warner and Robert Crawford, the last named in charge of the music connected with Warner Brothers productions, are leaving next week for New York to meet H. M. Warner and other officials of the organization to plan enterprises connected with television and other subjects.

Chief among these subjects is the matter of wide film, which the Warner Brothers propose to use in the making of their pictures, to a certain extent at least, with the probability that within a short time all subjects will be photographed on it.

VAUDEVILLE STARS HERE FOR ROLES

Three charming young musical-comedy and vaudeville stars have just arrived in Hollywood to add to the beauty and charm of Fox revues.

Althea Heinly is one of these. She is an 18-year-old dancer, hailing from Allentown, Pa., and began her professional career in a Ned Wayburn sketch, "Buds of 1927," which toured the country. Her success in this production brought her a contract to appear as a principal in "Three Cheers," with Will Rogers and Dorothy Stone. After that she was a featured dancer in Ziegfeld's "Show Girl," followed by a lead in the Fred Stone show, "Ripples."

The other two players should be mentioned simultaneously as they are twins. Their names are Elizabeth and Helen Keating, and are likewise 18 years old. The sisters were born in Massachusetts and educated in high schools and convents of that State.

James W. Bellah Writes

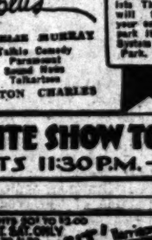
The vogue of aviation pictures is continuing, and so successful were Jack Holt and Ralph Graves in "Flight," that they have been cast for another aviation story which is to be directed by Frank Capra, with Columbia producing. The story is still untitled, but is an original by Frank Wead, who made a name for himself as a crack flyer during the war.

JAMES W. BELLAH

James Warner Bellah, well-known novelist and short-story writer, has been engaged by Columbia to write the adaptation and dialogue. Mr. Bellah is technically as well as artistically qualified for his job, inasmuch as among other accomplishments, he succeeded in making aviation an avocation.

Sally and Molly on Stage

Those two clever young actresses, Sally O'Neil and Molly O'Day, aren't going to sit down and pine because, just for the moment, they're not busy in pictures.



SALLY O'NEIL

Having just completed "Sisters" for Columbia, they have been signed by R.-K.-O. to costar in a vaudeville act on the Orpheum circuit, on a six months' contract. They leave within a day or two.

Both sisters have had ample stage experience, and have been uniformly successful. Their act is a farce sketch which includes singing and dancing features.

Joan Arthur Signs Again

We aren't at all surprised to learn, after hearing of her success in the recently completed picture, "The Return of Dr. Fu Manchu," that Jean Arthur has been signed on a new long-term contract by Paramount.

Miss Arthur was given her first contract more than a year ago as a result of her performance opposite Richard Dix in "Warming Up," one of Paramount's initial sound pictures.

Mitzi Green Wins Role

That clever little actress, Mitzi Green, Paramount's child wonder, who has been receiving acclaim enough during her stay in New York to turn any little girl's head, is back in Hollywood.

But she won't have much time to play with her new dolls, as she was at once cast to play the role of Clara Bow's sister in "Love Among the Millionaires."

Miss Green made personal appearances in New York and other eastern cities during her recent trip east. She has been on the stage since she was 3, and is 9 now.

Lenore Coffee Writes It

Lenore Coffee, who has written so many successful scenarios for Pathe and other organizations, has been engaged by First National to write the scenario, adaptation and dialogue for "The Mother Cry."

PRISON LIFE VISUALIZED AT WARNERS

Downtown Screens Timely Film in "Numbered Men;" Plot Melodramatic

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

First of the talking movies to touch upon the recurrent prison riots in America, "Numbered Men," at Warners' Downtown Theater, carries a timely topic from the front page into the realm of the reviewer. It is not, however, either a preachment nor a searching inquiry into those conditions which the stage has lately found both expeditious and profitable, but rather a plotty melodrama about men who, inconveniently incarcerated in cells, continue to work out the several destinies begun when they were free. Most of the action takes place in and about a farmhouse belonging to one "Mother" Miller, with various "trusties" giving vent to old hates in an aroma of doughnuts and powder smoke.

While the lay gentry may be permitted an expression of dubiousness as to the authenticity of all the scenes showing the treatment of the State's guests, particularly those in the "road gang," it can hardly quibble over the entertainment those same scenes furnish. The picture is an adaptation of a drama called "Jailbreak," by Dwight Taylor, and as such abounds in familiarly exciting cliches.

Briefly, the complicated framework, slung between the long arms of coincidence and the law, brings together Bud Leonard, a boy unjustly convicted on a charge of counterfeiting; Bertie, a real counterfeiter, but good hearted; King Callahan, another counterfeiter, all bad; Lou Rinaldo, a sort of headman racketeer; Mary Dane, a girl who loves Bud; Baby Face, a giant with a baby's brain, and other assorted types. I am a bit hazy now as to exactly what all these people were in such a pother about, but at the time it seemed very simple. At any rate after the villains kill each other off, the good counterfeiter takes the blame for the crime of which the boy had been convicted, leaving him at liberty and his sweetheart delighted, and goes back to serve an additional ten years in "the big house."

The First National players who strive for illusion are principally Raymond Hackett, Conrad Nagel, Bernice Claire, Ralph Ince, Blanche Friderici, George Cooper, Ivan Linow, Tully Marshall and Maurice Black. Miss Claire is sufficiently agreeable in a dramatic role without being remarkable in any way, and the men are at great pains to talk out of the corners of their mouths and act tough. Really the most convincing portrayal is Miss Friderici's, as "Mother" Miller.

Mervyn LeRoy directed "Numbered Men" from the adaptation by Al Cohn and Henry McCarthy.

Warnes' also has two lighter subjects, "At Your Service," and "Office Steps," and a Pathe Sound News.

HOFFMAN FASHIONS FANTASTIC TALE

"Mystic Mirror" Reflects Weird Happenings on Screen at Filmarte

BY ELENA BOLAND

Once again the wizardry of Carl Hoffman stops time and reawakens the past. The peculiar cast which tinges all of this man's work weaves a strange charm about "The Mystic Mirror," the U.P.A. production at the Filmarte.

In this film Mr. Hoffman does not equal the perfection he attained in "Chronicles of the Grey House" or in the first half of "Siegfried," but his artist's hand is still much in evidence. Prof. Teschner co-directed with Hoffman.

"The Mystic Mirror" is one of the best pictures that the Filmarte has offered during the recent past. It tells a grim, fantastic tale of the ruin which enters the peace of an old castle. A mirror hung in the tower room foretells the future of all those who gaze upon it. The new landlord comes to take possession, bringing with him evil and finding in the mirror fear.

Anna, the keeper's daughter, is the only person he can trust, but she loves a young sculptor sent to restore the castle's decay. At full moon the landlord seeks the mirror to learn his fate. Out of its depths he sees himself, Anna in her wedding gown, the ceremony about to be performed and then two hands closing around his throat, bringing him death.

The theme of the picture shows how all this comes to pass and how Anna and her youthful sweetheart are finally reunited.

Often the action is slow and overful of detail, but always the performances are excellent. There are three young people, the appeal of whose personalities and abilities is very strong. Anna, played by Felicitas Malten, and Donald, portrayed by Albach Retty, give a delightful feeling of a first romance. Max Magnus, the friend, is responsible for some spontaneous comedy.

Fritz Rasp does a great deal with the ungracious role of Andrew Dietrich, the landlord. Dante Capelli is also a powerful figure.

The short subject of the week deviates from the usual comic trend. It is D. W. Griffith's "Fighting Blood," a former thriller of plainsmen and Indians, and stars Robert Harron.

Film Lauded by Chester Morris

Chester Morris, leading man with Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee," which starts a run at the Criterion Theater Wednesday, believes that "The Divorcee" will have a marked appeal to women throughout the United States.

"The Divorcee' is the composite story of thousands of women and thousands of marriages," comments Morris.

"It is a brilliant, ultra-smart and sophisticated drama, telling in the language of today a story of today. Its appeal lies in the fact that its people are your friends and their problems are your problems." Other leading men in the film are Conrad Nagel and Robert Montgomery.

"Gorilla" Reappears on Stage

Flora Bramley

Enacts a leading part in the comedy-melodrama which Henry Duffy will offer at his Hollywood Playhouse starting today.

PREMIERE ADMISSION ADVANCED

Sid Grauman Announces Change in Usual Prices for Film Opening

For the first time since the theater opened, first nighters are going to pay $11 a seat for a world premiere at Grauman's Chinese. Such was the news given out yesterday by Sid Grauman, together with the date of the 27th inst., as the night of the initial showing of "Hell's Angels," Howard Hughes's spectacle, which has been more than three years in the making.

When Grauman staged the formal opening of the Chinese Theater four years ago, $10 plus war tax was the price to get the first view of Cecil B. De Mille's "King of Kings."

Rumors had been afloat that $30 per opera chair would be charged but Grauman denied this. The magnitude of the production, together with the fact that Grauman will stage one of his noted colossal prologues, is assigned as the reason for the new premiere admission charge.

Real Talent Discovered in Musical

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

"Out of the mouths of babes great songs are sung" might be the slogan of the Hollywood High School players after their successful production of "The Sorcerer" last night. Young actors aged 16 and 17 sang this very old operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan in a manner miraculous, and the stage pictures they made were nothing short of charming spectacles. If the local universities and other higher schools of learning want to know how to give a school play in professional style, Hollywood High can teach them.

The singing was quite unusually good, and Gilbert and Sullivan operas are not easy to sing. The soprano lead, Carol Weiskopf, has a really beautiful voice. She is 16. David Nater, as John Wellington Wells, the foolish sorcerer, has the rare gift of a born actor. His pantomime and comedy were professionally perfect and the finish of his ridiculous antics spoke of an innate understanding of the stage.

The casting director of this show either displayed rare intelligence or the material to be found in this school in actor's town is all-stage. Martin Sperzel as the fusty Baronet, Loring Mooth as the feminine Alexis, Jack Swarthout as the lovely Vicar, Patricia Marsh as the winsome village dame, were all exactly as they should be. A large chorus of boys and girls in colorful and quaint old English costumes danced with precision and grace and the excellence of the orchestra added much to the whole success.

Edna Ames, the able head of the music department, and Arthur Kachel as director, deserve much credit for this really fine high school show and special mention should be made of a dozen others but the work of the stage manager, John Boyce-Smith, the electrician, Bill Larimer, and the scene painter, William Robertson, was quite extraordinary for students. "The Sorcerer" goes on for the last time tonight.

Miller Books 'High Treason' at California

"High Treason," called the most bizarre talking film ever produced, has been selected by Fred Miller as the opening attraction at his California Theater on the 23rd inst. "High Treason" looks into the future and shows the world as it may appear ten years hence. Television is in everyday use in the film. Airplanes drop lightly onto roofs of buildings and dirigibles tie up to huge posts towering above the streets.

The picture also has romance, intrigue and adventure and is played by a company headed by Benita Hume, hailed as England's most noted screen beauty. She wears garments of 1940, very much advanced in design.

FLAVIN PLAY OPENS SOON AT BELASCO

Arthur Byron Comes West to Enact Leading Role in "Criminal Code"

With a large cast and elaborate production, "The Criminal Code," with Arthur Byron, Russell Hardie and other members of the eastern cast, will begin a limited engagement at the Belasco Theater Monday night.

This gripping drama from the pen of Martin Flavin has the distinction of being the outstanding play of the current New York theatrical season, it is said, and was brought to the Pacific Coast by Belasco and Curran. "The Criminal Code" is in a prologue and thirteen scenes.

Arthur Byron, who heads the cast, is a popular American actor. He was last seen in Los Angeles in "Tea for Three."

Belle Bennett Plays Mother Role in Film

In celebration of the day dedicated to mothers throughout the country, Warner Brothers will offer a world premiere at midnight tonight of "Courage" at Warners Hollywood Theater.

With Belle Bennett, noted portrayer of mother roles, in a characterization similar to the one she played in "Stella Dallas," and Leon Janney, a child player, "Courage" is heralded as one of the most appealing pictures in some time.

Mother love is made a forceful theme in "Courage." The film was adapted for the talking screen from the Tom Barry stage play. Marian Nixon, Rex Bell, Richard Tucker, Blanche Frederici, Carter De Haven, Jr., and others complete the cast. Archie Mayo directed.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

MISSING CHILD FOUND IN CANAL

Search Begun Wednesday Has Tragic Conclusion

Little Annabell Osborne of Brawley Drowned

Believed Blown Off Heading by High Wind

BRAWLEY, May 9.—Ending a search which started Wednesday afternoon, the body of Annabell Osborne, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osborne, ranchers, was found in Mayflower Canal at 9:30 a.m. today, four and one-half miles from the point where she was believed to have fallen from a head gate and drowned.

Water was turned out of the canal early yesterday morning after neighbors had spent the previous night looking for the missing girl, and J. S. Rogers, irrigation district employee, discovered the body partly hidden in weeds along the canal bank.

The Osborne girl was last seen at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday when she waved good-by to companions as she alighted from the Mulberry-school bus near her home. She was obliged to cross a concrete heading over the Mayflower Canal and members of her family believe that the strong wind which was blowing at the time caused her to lose her balance and fall into the water. Funeral services are to be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday here.

Two Girl Extras Put One Over on Burbank Police

BURBANK, May 9.—Two girl "extras" from the First National studios here "put one over" on the local police today. When the two young women appeared in bathing suits in the heart of the downtown district they were challenged by Officer Jack Keith. This was their cue to "sass" the policeman, and he bundled them up and took them to the police station.

The girls remained in jail long enough to have their photos taken in a cell, and a shot or two out in front of the station. After this, a limousine came and took them back to the studio lot.

MAKING CHEFS OF BOYS URGED

New Woman Member of School Board at Glendale for It But Plan Meets Rebuff

GLENDALE, May 9.—Suggestions presented last night to the board of trustees of the Glendale Union High School district that a cooking class for boys be established at Herbert Hoover High School were denied by the board, Mrs. Alice Adamson, one of the new members, being the only one to support the proposition. Mrs. Adamson contended that a course of lessons in cookery might "make better husbands of the boys," and A. L. Ferguson argued that it might help the boys to hold good positions as chefs or cooks while working their way through college.

TAX-RATE REDUCTION MOVE MADE

San Fernando Owners of Property Call Meeting to Study Situation There

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, May 9. Property owners from all parts of the San Fernando Valley annex to Los Angeles will meet in the Woman's Club here on the 19th inst. for the purpose of organizing a citizens' committee to study the present tax situation, Frank M. Keffer, editor of the Van Nuys News, will be in charge of the meeting. Others to take prominent part in the body are Jim Wilson and A. P. Stockwell of North Hollywood; Bruce F. Allington and William J. Petit of Van Nuys, and W. G. Luesen and Lee W. Miller of Reseda.

It is maintained by leading property owners of the valley annex that for several years property has been taxed severely out of proportion to its real value and that conditions will not change until an organized effort is made to present matters forcibly to the tax-assessing authorities of Los Angeles.

One of the purposes of the meeting on the 19th inst. will be to employ a competent person to make a map chart of all the suburban districts of the metropolitan area. This will be used in comparison to point the apparent disproportionate tax valuations in many parts of the valley annex section.

Keffer and his associate committees today stated that the heavy tax levies that have been made on acreage and improved property within the last few years has served to retard progress in the valley by keeping out newcomers who otherwise would locate here. They have documents, they say, that prove this to be the case in numerous instances.

Riders Walk When Mounts Wander Away

SANTA BARBARA, May 9.—Two people had to walk home from a saddle-horse ride yesterday afternoon.

George B. Sullivan, Santa Barbara humane officer, answering a call from Mission Canyon residents, found two horses, fully saddled, wandering along the road. He took the animals to a stable and is waiting to hear from the riders. The horses apparently strayed away from their tether while the riders were making an exploration trip in the country back of Mission Canyon.

SCHOOL ANNEX BIDS READY FOR CONTRACT

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, May 9. Bids for the construction of the new annex to the North Hollywood High School will be opened tomorrow by the Board of Education. The estimated cost of the building is placed at $96,000. A building permit for that amount already has been issued. A commodious annex to the school is needed because of the fast increase in pupils. The main buildings of the school were completed and occupied only three years ago.

PALMS BEAUTIFY HIGHWAY

State's Initial Project of Kind Sets Out Hundreds of Washingtonias Along Redlands Road

REDLANDS, May 9.—Between Redlands and the Santa Ana River bridge, south of San Bernardino, 500 Washingtonia palms have been set out between the bridge and Mountain View avenue and will be maintained by the State until they reach maturity, as a means of beautifying the State highway between here and San Bernardino.

"We have completed the planting of groups of tiny trees all along the highway, promising the San Bernardino-Redlands highway an alluring vista for the near future," said E. Q. Sullivan, division engineer.

"The project will not be completed between Mountain View avenue and the Redlands city limits, for the stretch is lined by orange groves in most places," he continued. "In time we may fill in a few gaps with palm trees.

The trees were hauled from the Coachella Valley and set out at the edge of the State highway right of way in accordance with requests from the Redlands Chamber of Commerce. Although Sullivan expects that the trees will require little maintenance, what work is necessary will be done by State crews at no expense to property owners or communities.

This is the first beautification program of its kind that the State ever has fostered. It was inspired by H. Earl Cromas and his beautification committee of the Redlands Chamber of Commerce. The local organization even went so far as to conduct conferences with State Highway Commissioners and Bert B. Meek, State Supervisor of Public Works, with the idea of extending the beautification to other highways in San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties. American Legion leaders of the three counties are in possession of maps and plans for extension of the highway beautification program. Cromas is prominent in that work, too.

VETERAN MIXED IN ODD TANGLE

Asa Combs Pleads Guilty to Contributing Charge

He Proposed Girl be Given Him With Land Deal

Then She Said She Was 18 and Lived With Him

RIVERSIDE, May 9.—Changing his plea of not guilty just as his trial on a serious charge involving a 16-year-old Wildomar girl was ready to open, Asa Z. Combs, World War veterans and homesteader of the Wildomar district, yesterday pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Morton's court to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of the girl. His plea was entered in Juvenile Court. Judge Morton referred the case to County Probation Officer Mathews.

Coombs obtained a reduction of the charge in pleading guilty yesterday. The original charge was a felony but contributing to the delinquency of a minor is a high misdemeanor. He can be fined or sent to the County Jail. George French, deputy county prosecutor, represented the District Attorney's office in the hearing and Attorney R. J. Welch was defense counsel for Coombs.

"HER OWN BOSS," SHE SAID

Sentence by the court will close one of the most puzzling cases of this nature to come to the attention of juvenile authorities for years. It concerns a girl, eager to run away from home, who went to the man, told him she was 18 years of age and "her own boss" and lived with him five days. Evidence developed at preliminary hearings indicated the man believed the girl of age.

A strange proposed transaction in which Coombs last year suggested that the girl be given to him with a parcel of land he was planning to buy from her foster parents at Wildomar came to light in the court hearings.

"TOO YOUNG FOR MARRIAGE"

Coombs came to the Fred Foster ranch at Wildomar where the girl made her home and proposed to buy a piece of their land if they would give him the girl as his wife. Coombs even took his mother to the Foster home to "talk over the deal." When Mrs. Foster told them the girl was only 16, the mother was said to have told Coombs she was "too young to think of getting married."

They left, but Coombs later stopped the girl and made violent love to her, it was testified. Recently, nearly a year after meeting Coombs, the girl had a boy friend drive her to Coombs's canyon home, where she arranged to come and live with him. She fled from home three days later without telling anyone where she was going and for five days lived with Coombs while her foster parents, feared she had been lured below the Mexican border. Both Coombs and the girl said they intended to be married.

Glider Flight New Event for Valencia Show

ANAHEIM, May 9.—In an attempt to make a new world's record for sustained flight after a level ground take-off, Vic Evans, veteran Los Angeles glider pilot, will hop off at the California Valencia Orange Show grounds here on the opening of the show, the 22nd inst., in a new glider of unique design. An automobile will be used instead of the usual ground crew and cord apparatus. Dashing across the parking space, the car will snap Evans and his glider aloft, where he will attempt to sail into the upward rising currents over the large blue tent, and stay there as long as he can.

Evans hopes to break the record of 45 seconds set in Detroit recently at an air meet. Evans designed and built the new craft himself and asserts it can climb faster and stay up longer than any type yet built. American Glider Association officials will oversee the event. In case he fails the first day, Evans will try the next day, and throughout the show. If he sets a record, he will continue in an attempt to make new marks.

Evans is a World War veteran, serving in the Eighty-sixth Aerial Squadron. He has built and flown gliders for fifteen years, and has had seventeen crack-ups without serious injury.

COUNTY TO BE GIVEN BEACH PARK

Cerca Del Mar Club Near Carpinteria Purchased by Public-spirited Group

SANTA BARBARA, MAY 9.—Through the purchase of the Cerca Del Mar Club by a host of public-spirited Carpinteria residents, Dwight Murphy, chairman of the county park board, Mrs. Laura J. Knight and Assemblyman George R. Bliss, for some $80,000, Santa Barbara county is to have another beach park.

Deeds for the property were turned over to the purchasers yesterday. The purchasers are to lease the Cerca Del Mar Club to the county, which is to buy the entire acreage and clubhouse within the next two years, according to Supervisor Thomas T. Dinsmore, who has been working on the project.

The clubhouse, a magnificent building with a reception-room, dining-hall and smaller lounges, is of Spanish architecture and is valued at more than $60,000. In addition to the clubhouse, there are seven and one-half acres of land back from the beach frontage, and a beach frontage of 671 feet.

The club was started about three years ago by a Los Angeles group. Through the sudden death of one member of the syndicate the plans for the community beach club collapsed. Several mortgages and liens were against the club. Attorney Norman W. Ambrose of the law firm of Heaney, Price & Postel assisted in straightening out the legal difficulties for the purchase of the property.

Dresses Cost 42 Cents if You Know How

NORTH LOS ANGELES, May 9. The old truth, "It's all in knowing how," still persists. Mrs. L. A. Sloane, present at the barbecue-bridge given by Mrs. S. K. Strickler, won the first prize offered to the guest coming in the most attractive home-made dress.

Later she explained that the frock had cost 42 cents. The flowered organdy material was a three-yard remnant she had picked up for 23 cents. One-eighth of a yard of white lawn at 9 cents, little red buttons for trimming at 5 cents and thread for 5 cents completed the outlay.

In the total expense Mrs. Sloane did not include the priceless gift, knack or talent that some women have that differentiates them from that big array of their sisters, who "never have anything to wear."

FLOWERS BARRED AT NEWHALL GRADUATION

Straw Hat Season Will Be Ushered in Tuesday If Weatherman Does

The Hatter Gives a Tip on What the Well-Dressed Male Will Wear in Straws—(1) Boys—8 to 16—Small Panama with dented crown and wide black band. (2) Young Man—16 to 25—Sennit sailor with plain black band. Novelty weave if desired. (3) Business Man—26 to 35—South American Panama with optimo crown and narrow black band. (4) Business Man—36 to 60—Finely woven Milan with turned-down edges and black band. (5) Elderly Man—Leghorn with flexible rim, round dented crown and black or colored band.

The Syrup-Making Season is on in the Woods of the Northeastern States—The picture will bring memories to hundreds now living in the Southland who were residents of the Northern States which supply us with our maple Sap is running and the pots are simmering. Claude Cushman of Bryant Me., is sampling the sap at one of his trees. (P. & A. photo.)

It's Fatal to be on the Wrong Side of the Political Fence in China—The unfortunates with the feather-like placards protruding from their neckbands are about to be executed because they don't believe in the doctrines of the faction which happens to be in power at the moment. Placards set forth their crimes. They were all decapitated by a swordsman. (P. & A. photo.)

The Bull in the China Shop Was a Novice compared with the steer which broke into the tailor shop of Malcolm Bartanian (seated) and chased the proprietor about for ten minutes, meanwhile demolishing the place. The steer, which escaped while being unloaded at dock, was finally shot. (P. & A. photo.)

A Romance of the Florida Everglades will culminate with the wedding by the tribal medicine man of She-o-Nith-Lee (Flower of the Everglades Jungle) and Sammy Tommy, brother of the head of the Seminole tribe. Ceremony will be held at Pirate's Cove. (P. & A. photo.)
